The Shah's Dagger.
One of the treasures of the shah of Persia is a diamond set in one of his scimitars, which renders its possessor invincible. There is also a dagger with the same property, but it is ordained that those who use it should perish by it. It is therefore carefully shut up in a sandalwood box on which is engraved a verse from the Koran.—Chicago News.

Just Right for That.
The visitor's host was showing him through the more or less celebrated town that has grown up around the Pullman shops.
"I don't see very much vegetation here," observed the visitor. "The soil seems to be too sandy."
"We raise the juiciest melons here you will find anywhere in the world," briefly responded his host, who happened to be a stockholder in the company.—Chicago Tribune.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Conceded It.
"Colonel, don't you think, as the result of your observation during many years of public life, that the holding of a government position tends to take away a man's independence and make him merely a machine?" asked the inquisitive acquaintance.
"Undoubtedly," said the internal revenue collector. "There was a time, for instance, when, if you had asked me such a question as that, I should have kicked you out of my office, but I have become used to such things now and don't mind them at all."

Too Slow for This Age.
"Grandma, you never took a joy ride, did you?"
"Yes, child, once; but you wouldn't call it joy riding nowadays."
"When was it, grandma?"
"Sixteen years ago. I took a ride in the Ferris wheel."
"How fast did you go?"
"The wheels made one revolution in about fifteen minutes."
"Shucks!"—Chicago Tribune.

Well Meant, but Rude.
The wedding was over and the guests had departed, when a terrific din broke upon the stillness.
The tooting of fish horns, the beating of tin pans, and the ringing of cow bells could be distinguished clearly, while agonizing screeches from unidentified instruments and the diabolical noise produced by drawing a scantling across one edge of a dry goods box contributed their share to the volume of sound.
The bride, a young woman recently from Boston, turned pale.
"Harold," she said, turning to the bridegroom, "those friends of yours doubtless mean well, and I appreciate their heartiness and sincerity, but I shall consider it a great favor if you will go out and request them to discontinue their boisterous and may attract attention."—Chicago Tribune.

She Was Frank.
Miss Mary Morris, daughter of the late William Morris, poet and craftsman, said at a dinner in New York: "I like the American taste for its frankness. Better be frank, even if wrong. The pretty American girl was by no means hopeless whose comment on first seeing the incomparable glory of the Venus de Medici was, 'I wouldn't be seen dead with ankles like that!'"

Useless Study.
Mr. Fond Father reproved his little son for having only 75 per cent in arithmetic. "Mathematics, my boy," he said, "is a very useful study, and you must try to do better."
"I thought that was only useful for sailors," said the boy.
"Why for sailors?"
"Well, people on land have adding machines, don't they?"—New York Tribune.

Couldn't Fool Mrs. G.
They were looking at a famous collection of paintings, and had stopped in front of a "Portrait of a Lady."
"Why, that's a Rembrandt!" delightedly exclaimed Mrs. Upsome.
"I'm not so sure about that," said Mrs. Gaswell, bringing her lorgnette to bear upon it. "It looks to me more like a Merry Widow."

Couldn't Stand Exposure.
The member of the legislature, of whom some graft stories had been circulated, was about to build a house.
"You will want a southern exposure, I suppose," asked the architect.
"No, sir," said the man; "if you can't build this house without an exposure I'll get another architect."—Yonkers Statesman.

Not Loud but Deep.
Village Constable (to villager, who has been knocked down by passing motor cyclist)—"You didn't see the number, but could you swear to the man?"
"Villager—"I did; but I don't think 'eillard me"—Punch.

OLD AND NEW SANTA FE TRAILS

Splendid Prosperity of Kansas Illustrated in the Difference.
The old "Santa Fe trail" was one of the most important factors in the early development of the western country. It was the pioneer highway, blazing the way for the railroads that were to come later, but the earlier associations and what it meant to the people whom it introduced to new experiences and new opportunities have not been lost sight of. The settlers who made their homes on either side of it when it was the one well-known highway in Kansas have become with their descendants as important element in the industrial, social and political life of the middle west. Sentiment for this old path of civilization still lingers and is now to have expression in a new "Santa Fe trail," or, as it is more ambitiously termed at this time, "The Arkansas Valley speed-way."

Work has already begun this spring upon the enterprise, the Boston Transcript says. It contemplates a dirt road 30 feet in width, beginning at Hutchinson, Kas., and running nearly the whole length of the western half of the State. Twelve counties are interested in it and seven are now engaged in the work of construction. When it reaches the Colorado line the counties of that State will take it up and carry it as far as Pueblo, with the probability that it will be extended to Colorado Springs and Denver.

A dozen years ago such an ambitious scheme of public and interstate improvement in that section would hardly have been dreamed of, much less undertaken. Prosperity and a stimulated public spirit have worked wonders, but the main incentive has been the general ownership of automobiles. Among the farmers along the old trail, it is said one in every three possesses one of the new machines, and more are every year coming. Two years ago the Kansas farmers spent $2,750,000 for automobiles. Last year they spent $3,200,000, and the present year the purchases will be much larger. Between the "Old Santa Fe trail" and the new what transformations have taken place, what stirring chapters of history have been made!

QUEER STORIES

Exports of Hungarian beans to the United States in 1909 were of the value of $1,170,000.

The army of foreigners arriving on our shores during the last year reached a total of 751,786.

Prussian statistics show that the starch content of potatoes is highest where the system of culture is most intensive.

Canada's public debt on February 28, 1910, was $328,658,880 net, an increase of $20,600,000 in 12 months. The increase is small compared with the great railway work Canada is doing or adding.

London's newest music hall seats four thousand persons. St. Peter's cathedral in Rome can hold at a pinch 54,000 persons. Milan cathedral hold 40,000. St. Paul's in London, has seen 26,000 within its walls.

Mrs. Charles G. Ames was elected president of the School Voters' League, which has just been organized in Boston. The object of the league is to study school matters and school conditions and to help to better them.

The coal and iron mines and the salt works owned and operated by the kingdom of Prussia employed last year $9,723 men and turned out products worth $58,171,960, or about 4 per cent greater than in 1908. Coal formed $53,411,960 of the output.

Johnny had two presents at the same time—one a diary, which he kept very carefully, and the other a pea-shooting popgun, which he fired indiscriminately on all occasions. One day his mother found the following terse record in his diary: "Monday cold and sloppy, Toosdy cold and sloppy, Wendy cold and sloppy shot gramma."

In a California town a drummer brought the hotel porter up to his room with his angry storming. "Want your room changed, mister?" politely queried the porter. "Room changed! No!" fumed the drummer. "It's the fleas I object to, that's all!" "Mrs. Leary," shouted the porter to the housekeeper down below, "the gent in No. 11 is satisfied with his room, but he wants the fleas changed."

Resolutions.
I ain't a goin' to git mad
When the gas man comes aroun',
With a bill that looks as 'd furnished
Gas fer half the town.
I won't fume an' flare an' throw a fit,
An' tear my hair an' cuss,
When the stovepipe comes a-tumblin' down,
An' makes an awful muss.

Or if when I have gone to bed,
The telephone should ring,
An' to my bare an' tender feet,
I'd quickly have to spring.
To find there's nothin' doin',
An' they've rung me by mistake,
I'll simply swaller down my rage
An' bear the cold an' shake.

An' all the other cares of life
I'm goin' to ignore,
There ain't no pesterin' troubles
Goin' to hurt me any more;
For I've made resolutions
That I'm goin' to keep or bust,
An' I'm never goin' to worry
Or git mad until I must.
