Clothes for the Boy.

An occasional suit in heavy pongee is seen, even for the boy of ten, and this, too, is self-trimmed and finished with the strictest tailor effects, as a first-class outing shirt for a man would be. The waist which older boys are best pleased with has a center box plait and one or more pockets. A heavy leather belt, with large buckle and a soft tie, often a Windsor, are the usual accompaniments to such suits. Low, rolling collars are provided for the boy of five to seven, but a high turn-over form is preferred for the older boy.—Harpers' Bazar.

When the Hair Falls

Stop it! And why not? Falling hair is a disease, a regular disease; and Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from our new improved formula, quickly and completely destroys that disease. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly, and all dandruff disappears.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

Ayer's

The little book in each package gives the formula of our new Hair Vigor, tells why each ingredient is used, and explains many other interesting things. After reading you will know why this new hair preparation does its work so well.

Not Her Suit.

Enraged at the tailor who had promised to send her suit time and again without any intention of fulfilling that promise, the young woman set out to call for that suit herself. When she was half way up the street she met a young man with a box under his arm who looked very much like the apprentice she had seen at her tailor's shop. To save herself a possible unnecessary trip downtown she approached this man with a polite "Good morning," and said:

"You come from —?"

"What?" said the man.

"Isn't that the suit for Miss Johnson?"

"No, it ain't; it's my own suit I'm carryin'."

She continued her trip downtown.—New York Sun.

BATTLE WITH SHARK

FISHERMEN HAVE DESPERATE FIGHT WITH MAN-EATER.

Find Human Bones and Part of a Kodak in Stomach of Huge Fish After They Succeed in Getting it Ashore.

Seattle.—After a terrible struggle lasting seven hours, a gigantic shark, 36 feet long and estimated to weigh more than fifteen tons, was captured by the combined crews of the fishing boats Goodpartner and Pioneer II, between Port Angeles and Port Crescent recently.

The monster is believed to be the largest fish ever caught in these waters. The Goodpartner and the Pioneer II, much battered and battlestrained, with half of the crews nursing more or less serious wounds, towed the mammoth carcass into Elliott Bay. In spite of the 30-horsepower engine with which each is equipped, it took the two boats 15 hours to get the big carcass down from Port Townsend.

When pulled to the surface the tail was seen to be full of splinters and blue paint as the result of the struggle to demolish the Goodpartner. The shark is 18 feet in circumference at its middle and about twelve feet around the head.

The huge triangular mouth on the under side is five feet across. The flukes of the powerful tail are six feet apart. The body is gray and covered with tiny spikes which make it feel like a file.

One result of the shark's capture is that the crew of the Goodpartner will never do any more Sunday fishing. Captain Draglich and five men were hard at work early on Sunday morning pulling up their big salmon net. They had not pulled very much of it into the boat when the leviathan made its presence known by thumping the bottom of the Goodpartner with its tail. A minute later it appeared alongside and hit the Goodpartner amidships.

Luckily the shark had entangled its front fins and its head in the stout meshes of the net. Before it could tear itself free three thicknesses of the net were wound around it.

Then the struggle began. The six men on the Goodpartner worked desperately to keep the head of the big fish near the boat and the death-dealing tail away. Again and again it would rear its big bulk out of the water and smash in the sides of the cabin.

Olaf Larsen, the youngest member of the crew, had his arm broken. Captain Draglich was cut in the head and chest by flying glass.

The Pioneer II came to the assistance of the desperate fishermen on the Goodpartner after about an hour of the conflict. They towed the fish and the boat to a sandy beach.

Tackle was fastened to a tree on the shore and the Pioneer's winch managed to pull the fighting fish into the shoal water. As the tide ebbed the shark was left high and dry and its struggles diminished.

At 1:00 p. m. Capt. George Saeher of the Pioneer II got close enough to the fish to chop a hole in its throat with an ax. A couple of barrels of blood flowed out and the long struggle was over.

Besides the personal injuries suffered by the various members of the crew, a big net valued at $1,000 was destroyed.

When first examined the fish was believed to be a whale or basking shark, but when the belly was cut into after 15 minutes' work with an ax, bones were found which indicate that it is a man eater. The bones, from their size and weight, are believed to be human, although the largest fragment is only four inches long, making it difficult to decide.

Another unusual find in the stomach, which might be taken as an indication that the bones are really human, is a piece of aluminum, now in the possession of Captain Draglich. None of the fishermen could explain of what the thin curved plate of aluminum had originally been a part. As soon as they came ashore, however, it was identified as part of a folding kodak.

The leather which covered the aluminum frame and the wooden parts of the kodak had been eaten away by the powerful juices in the shark's stomach. When the deposit of grease was scraped from the plate the words "No. 3 Folding Pocket Kodak, Model A, Patented" were plain.

It is believed that perhaps the owner of the kodak can be traced through the maker of the camera, as there are other factory marks on it which may allow of its being identified.

Japanese Is Hardest to Learn.

The Japanese language is claimed to be the hardest of all to learn. Even the Japanese find it hard, and several American army officers have found it impossible to master it. It takes the Japanese child seven years to learn the essential parts of the alphabet, and one must become familiar with 214 signs to learn this simple part of the language alone. The 214 signs serve as the English initial letters in our alphabet. To be able to read any of the higher class of Japanese newspapers one must be the master of from 2,500 to 3,000 ideographs.—Albany Journal.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Practical Experience.

The old farmer, equipped with the tools of his trade, was busy near the road.

"What have you growing in that field," asked the innocent passer-by.

"Weeds," answered the granger.

"But why are you cultivating weeds?" queried the other.

"Because," replied the man behind the hoe, "after years of experience I am convinced that is the only way to exterminate them."

What We May Expect.

The suffragette meeting had grown red-hot.

"And what will become of the great brewery buildings when we control the votes?" shouted the leader.

And the little man who had crept in unobserved shrugged his shoulders.

"I guess they'll be turned into chewing gum factories and complexion powder mills," he muttered simply.

Another Catch.

Gunner—What's the latest news today?

Guyver—George Washington's auto sold for $500 in New York.

Gunner—What are you trying to hand me? There were no autos in George Washington's day.

Guyver—Who said anything about automobiles? This refers to his autobiography.

Modern Education.

"What are you doing out here on the marsh?"

"Helping to prepare my boy's lessons."

"What on earth do you mean?"

"He is studying natural history, and I have to catch a bullfrog for him to take to school."

Good Fly Remedy.

The following is recommended as a good home-made fly remedy: Resin, 1 1/2 pounds; laundry soap, two cakes; fish oil, half pint; enough water to make three gallons. Dissolve the resin in a solution of soap and water by heating, add the fish oil and the rest of the water. Apply with a brush. If to be used as a spray, add a half-pint of kerosene. This mixture will cost seven to eight cents per gallon and may be used on cows or calves. One-half pint of this mixture is considered enough for one application for a cow; a calf, of course, would require considerably less. Two or three applications a week will be sufficient until the outer ends of the hair become coated with resin. After that, retouch those parts where resin has rubbed off.

Making a Garden.

Keep the hoe going in dry weather and you will not need the watering pot often.

The wheel hoe will save many a backache and do the work of three hand hoes.

Plant the rows all one way—north and south—so the sun can strike both sides.

Do not plant short rows, but let them run the whole length of the garden if need be—why not?

Wild strawberries have the most delicious flavor. They are easily transplanted to the garden.

Spray Your Trees.

Spray your trees, fruit or no fruit. It will take grit, grace and greenbacks to spray a fruit tree without the fruit in sight. It's the next crop or crops that should interest you now. Be hopeful, be faithful, be timely, if you wish to be a successful orchardist.

The apple crop will be a short one in 1910 and not so evenly distributed as in 1909. Look for optimistic reports from the fellows who have axes to grind.

Rape for Lambs.

A good growth of rape is fine for the lambs, but some say when it is sowed in the corn it does more injury to the corn crop than it has value. How about it?

RAPID MARKET FOR POULTRY

Quicker Bird Can Be Brought to Marketable Size. Greater Profit and Fewer Losses.

I always push my young stock along as rapidly as possible until marketed, or until brought to maturity, says a writer in the Baltimore American. This it pays to do, even when I must buy feed and at a high price. The quicker a bird can be brought to marketable size or to the productive stage the greater the profit, to say nothing of quicker returns and shortened risk. Rapid growth is always cheapest and quick returns most satisfactory. There are always fewer losses in a flock kept growing vigorously than in one allowed to drag, and a shorter period in which chicks are a possible prey to hawks, rats and other enemies.

My young stock is never stinted. After it is removed from the brooder I continue to feed regularly and as generously as before. Feed for a considerable time consists largely of coarsely ground grains or fresh, sweet milk. For this I like corn and wheat principally at first. Later I add other grains, often omitting the wheat or feeding it whole by itself. Rye, although chicks will not eat it whole, is excellent cracked with other grains. Barley, also peas in small quantities, is good. As chicks become larger whole grains are gradually substituted for cracked. Rye, if fed whole, is cooked. In this shape chicks are greedy for it, and it furnishes excellent food. All summer I like to feed a little soft food now and then, either ground feed, shorts or bran, wet with milk or warm water. Grit I keep constantly before my flock, also pure water.

GREAT VALUE OF DAIRY SIRE

Important That Calf Should Have Good Parentage on Both Sides—Pure Breed Are Costly.

(By R. B. Roe.)

Raising the heifer calves of good, high-producing cows, is a great fundamental requisite for the best and easiest improvement of a dairy herd.

But those calves will take their qualities from both parents, and it is equally important that each calf should have good parentage on the male side. But an inspection of many dairy herds will show that comparatively little attention is paid to the quality of the sire.

I have too often seen herds in which the heifer calves were raised for future cows, but in which the bulls used were miserable little scrubs, and weaklings, obtained by simply saving a grade calf from the herd.

And of many other sires, fairly good as individuals, nothing is known of the actual milk production of their female ancestors.

There are as I view it two principal reasons for this. One is that under the custom of selling the calves for veal it does not make much difference about their breeding. But as this custom must be changed by successful dairymen and the best heifer calves raised for cows, it becomes necessary to provide good sires.

But another great reason is that the pure-bred sire costs more money. Underlying both these is the fundamental reason that many dairymen do not yet realize the wonderful improvement that can be wrought by a good head of the herd.

His Experience.

"Algy, don't you find married life more expensive than bachelorhood?"

"Well, it may be more expensive than a rigidly single life, but it's cheaper than courtship."

A Cautious Game.

"Does Bliggins ever bluff when he plays cards?"

"Never until he gets home and explains where he has been."

Parceling It Out.

The gypsy moth and the English sparrow had agreed upon an amicable division of the earth.

"That suits me," said the German carp. "I'll take the waters of the earth."

Little Nation Less than Half the Size of Greater New York.

They come together like the teeth of a dog, do the frontiers of France and Spain, and between the teeth is a bone—such a small bone that one wonders why it was not swallowed up long ago, and the name of the bone is Andorra.

"The whole area of this lonely little nation is something less than half that of Greater New York," says a writer in the Metropolitan, "and its entire population does not equal that of one of New York's great office buildings."

"For want of a better name the geographers have called it a republic, but the Andorrans part their allegiance carefully in the middle, as they do their hair, dividing it (the allegiance, not the hair), between the pope and the French President."

"If Tolstoy himself had framed its government he could not have built anything more after his own heart. The heads of families—the patriarchs of Scripture—elect representatives who several times each year saddle their mules and go riding down to the 400-year-old Parliament House, where it nestles cozily in the mountain valley of Andorra la Vieja, to make such few and simple laws as the well-being of none is needed."

"So slight are the expenses of government in Andorra, that all told there are but four salaried officials, that a small poll tax on goats and sheep amply meets them all. There is no army, even of the smallest—for who is there to fight? There are no police."

"When I was in Andorra," the writer says, "the prison—there is but one—was used as a poultry house. There is no fire department, for the houses are all of stone. There is no coinage, for the people pay in kind. No postal system is there either, for when an Andorran writes a letter, which rarely happens, he entrusts it to some accommodating person who is going over the border into France or Spain."

"Nice People."

"Do nice people go to baseball games?" asks a reader of the New York Sun. We hope not. "Nice people" are the most tiresome people in the world and if they went to baseball games in any considerable numbers they would make the players so tired they wouldn't be able to put up a snappy game and the umpire would get so bored he wouldn't care whether he had his skull cracked with a baseball bat or not.
