MINERAL PRODUCTION IS LOWER: PROSPECTS BRIGHT

The production of precious metals in Oregon in 1921 is estimated by J. M. Hill, of the San Francisco office of the United States geological survey, department of the interior, to have been approximately 37,500 ounces of gold, valued at $775,194; 43,120 ounces of silver, 274,400 pounds of copper and 350 pounds of lead. Although this represents a decrease of $242,296 in value of gold production, 48 per cent in the quantity of silver and 88 per cent in quantity of copper, as compared with 1920, mining in the state at the end of 1921 was far from being as depressed as these figures might indicate. The decrease was largely due to the curtailment of the operations of the Cornucopia and the Homestead Iron Dyke mines, in the eastern part of the state. In southwestern Oregon there was a decided midsummer revival of activity in the region tributary to Jackson and Gold Hill.

Oregon postmasters have been nominated by the president as follows: Stephen Emsterday, Clatskanie; Ronald G. White, Fall City; Frank D. Hamlin, Springfield; Edgar D. Waters, Stayton; Ronald E. Esson, Sandy.

Ex-Sheriff Gellatley, convicted two years ago of misappropriating Benton county funds, has received a pardon, restoring him to full citizenship. Mr. Gellatley was sentenced to the penitentiary and paroled to his brother.

A gift of 160 acres of land to the school of forestry at Oregon Agricultural College for experimental purposes has been announced by Dean Peavy. In acknowledgement of the Spaulding Lumber company of Salem.

Cos county has named bounties for the ensuing year, for predatory animals killed within its boundaries. Seven dollars is the price for wildcats; $8 for male, and $9 for female coyotes and $50 for cougars and panthers.

R. A. Long and other officials of the Long-Bell Lumber company spent a day at Astoria in an inspection of the Hammond Lumber company's mill. Mr. Long would neither deny nor affirm the reported merger of the Long-Bell and Hammond Lumber company interests.

The Brighton Mills company sustained a $30,000 loss when fire destroyed the buildings at camp No. 4, at Brighton, which included a store building, dining room, offices and bunk houses. Before the ashes were cold the mill company started to reconstruct the buildings.

The past year was one of the most prosperous in Portland's history in all lines of building, according to the annual report of the building department. The report shows that 14,932 permits were granted in 1921, and that the total value of the permits was $17,094,126. These figures represent an increase of 26 per cent in the number of permits and 39 per cent in total values over 1920.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC GIVES INSTRUCTIONS ON EATING

"Hints on Eating" is the title of an interesting little pamphlet being issued to Southern Pacific employees by Dr. G. R. Carson, of the company's hospital department. The leaflet, which contains many pointed but practical suggestions, reads as follows:

No one can have health who eats too much.

No one can have health who eats when tired, hurried, worried, anxious or excited.

No one can have health who rises late, gulps down a hearty breakfast, swallows a sandwich and a glass of milk for lunch and tops off the whole performance with a late dinner.

When you have eaten, do not wonder if the food will agree with you.

When you begin to wonder, trouble begins.

If you fear it, do not eat it.

If you eat it, do not fear it.

Be cheerful at your meals. A sour countenance will give you a sour stomach.

No need to be in want—use a Sentinel wanted.
