The Tanglefoot club held its regular session Tuesday evening. A 7 o'clock dinner was held at Hotel Bartell, which was followed by dancing in American Legion hall, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. A vocal number was given during the evening by a quartet composed of Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. N. E. Glass, Mrs. R. E. Short and Mrs. E. E. Arthur. Fruit punch was served. The hostesses were Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. N. E. Glass, Mrs. Wm. Gibson, Mrs. Charles Chandler and Mrs. Wm. Garoutte.

One of the most elaborate social functions of the season was held on Washington's birthday anniversary at Hotel Bartell, the hostesses being Mrs. C. A. Bartell, Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. G. M. Scott, Mrs. N. E. Glass and Mrs. H. B. Griggs. The decorations were red, white and blue, in keeping with the day. The social part of the afternoon was held in the parlor on the second floor. Unique original charades caused much amusement. Mrs. E. E. Arthur gave a vocal solo, Miss Critchlow gave a violin solo and Mrs. Leon DesLarzes a vocal solo. Elaborate refreshments were served in the hotel dining room.

A feature of the Eastern Star meeting tonight will be the occupancy of the chairs by the past matrons and past patrons. Mrs. Lydia Stauffer, one of two living charter members, and the only one a resident here, will preside in the east. A social session will follow the regular business meeting.

FOUR HORSEMEN OF APOCALYPSE MAY BE PUT ON HERE

Manager Morelock, of the Arcade theater, has been negotiating with the Metro Film company for "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," the biggest picture of the year. The picture is in twelve reels, is based on the book of the same title and has gone through 200 editions in this country. Mr. Winstock, of the Metro Film company, was in Cottage Grove Tuesday and is making an effort to put through a deal which will permit presentation of the super picture here.

Manager Morelock realizes that he will not make any money, as the price of the attraction is abnormally high, but he wants the Cottage Grove people to have a chance to see the play as a part of his general policy of presenting the best in pictorial art.

Hi Y Man Visits Here.

Mr. Yout, of Portland, connected with Hi Y work, visited the high school Wednesday to take up with the Hi Y members and the advisory council a schedule of work for the year.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXII.—MINNESOTA

MINNESOTA formed partly from a portion of the Northwest territory and partly by the Northeast section of the Louisiana Purchase. It was the Mississippi river which was the dividing line between these two large territories.

The Eastern section was ceded by France to Great Britain in 1763 and became a part of the United States at the end of the Revolution by the Treaty of Paris in 1783. The Northwest territory was organized by congress four years later. Then, as this great federal domain became settled and was gradually divided into states, the Eastern part of the present State of Minnesota belonged in turn to the Territories of Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

As to the western portion of the state, this was a part of the Louisiana Purchase, which was bought from France by the United States in 1803. As this region became subdivided, Western Minnesota formed a part of the Territories of Louisiana, Missouri and Iowa.

The first white man to penetrate to Minnesota was the French explorer, Duluth, who in 1678 built a fort on Lake Superior and there established a very extensive fur trade. Two years later, Father Hennepin and two companions were sent by La Salle to explore the Upper Mississippi and reached the Falls of St. Anthony, where Minneapolis now stands. But it was not until the Nineteenth century that permanent settlements were made. In 1822 the first mill was built at the Falls of St. Anthony, where were destined to arise such important successors. In 1841, Father Galtier built a chapel dedicated to St. Paul, and this was the foundation of the present great city of that name.

As to the name Minnesota, the state was so called from the river that runs through it, which in the Dakota Indian language makes the words "Minne," meaning "Water," and "Sotah," meaning "Sky-colored." Sometimes the state is called the "North Star State," from the motto on its coat-of-arms.

Minnesota was admitted to the Union in 1858. Its area is 84,682 square miles and it is the most important of our wheat producing states. It has twelve presidential electors.

STIRRING LIFE IS CALLED 'HUM-DRUM'

Oregon Woman Fights Typhoid.
Saves 1000 Children and Runs Special Trains.

"My life has been so hum-drum and as nothing has happened to me out of the ordinary I am sure there is nothing in what I have done the last two years in the Near East that would be of interest to my Oregon friends," stated Mrs. Amy Anthony Hurt of Bend, Oregon, to J. J. Handaker, State Director of the Near East Relief when he met her in Constantinople last summer.

"After much effort," says Mr. Handaker, "I persuaded her to tell me some of the things of this hum-drum life of hers. Sitting in a Constantinople coffee-house she told me some of the events of her life since March 1919, when she arrived in the Near East."

"Her first work was at Karakliss, where with her sister, Miss Gertrude Anthony, she had charge of a large orphanage and a territory 75 miles square for general relief. During the time she was there she nursed her sister through both typhoid and typhus. The two women were alone in this station."

"After going through this experience they went to Alexandropol and there one day received a message from the English that they were evacuating Baku, some 500 miles away. The British had been feeding about 1,000 children, and unless they were transferred immediately they would starve as soon as the British left. This Oregon woman whose life was so hum-drum quietly secured two special trains, putting a man in charge of one, and taking the other herself. On arriving at Baku, she began loading the children at 10 o'clock a. m. and had the children and their supplies all aboard by 6:30 p. m. She read the riot act to the Turkish captain in charge of the train and he compelled the guards to cease attempting to enter the cars where the older girls and women were. The round trip took nearly two weeks, but Mrs. Hurl returned to Alexandropol with her two train loads of children without having lost a single child.

Physicians Recommend It—Children Ask for It

Medical authorities agree upon at least one thing—that in dairy products is found the best balanced ration for the human body. Nothing that you remove from the table will be more quickly missed, and asked for by growing children than butter. Some foods that they should eat may be disagreeable to them, but the growing child who does not crave butter—especially the Red Rose Brand—is an oddity; and the same is true of adults. To build the body tissues, and keep the body in trim, always have Red Rose Brand Butter on the table.
