SOCIETY

The most elaborate recent social event was that Saturday afternoon at Hotel Bartell, at which Mrs. J. H. Chambers, Mrs. C. E. Umphrey, Mrs. J. A. Wright, Mrs. Clara Burkholder, Miss Lula Currin, Miss Adelle White, Miss Esther Silsby and Mrs. Ilma Beager were the hostesses, each of them being dressed to represent an Irish character. St. Patrick hats were furnished for the guests. The decorations of the hotel parlor were in keeping with St. Patrick's day and a feature of the afternoon was the acting of Irish melodies. A contest was held in which each answer had to contain "green." The table favors were Irish potatoes, tied with green ribbons and supported by toothpicks. Miss Helen Harper, violinist, and Miss Hildred Hall, pianist, both from the University of Oregon, furnished music during the afternoon. Miss Hall is a former resident here.

Delight Valley Society.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Joll were guests of honor at a surprise party Friday evening at the hall given by the neighborhood in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

High School News

The girls are preparing for the spring track meet. Under Mrs. Hemenway and Mr. Hargreaves, the girls are learning the proper methods in running, jumping and other stunts. Owing to unsuitable conditions of weather, most of the work has been done in the gymnasium rooms, but the class hopes to do the greater part of their work out of doors from now on. A jumping pit has been constructed in the play shed and the bar has been raised several pegs as the girls learn to jump higher.

The baseball squad has commenced work and is doing nicely. Turnouts have been large and a strong pitching staff is anticipated. Some of the squad are going out for track also and are being put in excellent condition by Coach Hargreaves.

Pictures of the four classes were taken last Friday afternoon on the front steps of the building. Each class advisor was included in the picture.

The O. A. C. Madrigal club was entertained royally by the O. A. C. alumni of Cottage Grove. They had cars at the train to meet the guests and took them from the train to the school, where the glee club entertained the high school with a couple of their numbers.

From the high school they were shown about the city in cars and then they were taken to homes of the city, which had been opened to them during their visit. A banquet, which had been prepared by the O. A. C. alumni of the city, was given them at the Bartell hotel. The O. A. C. girls expressed the hope that they might have an equally hospitable alumni in every city which they visit.

Under the supervision of Mr. Hargreaves the school will attempt to put out a winning track team. This is the first year track has been tried out in the school. The boys have been working hard every night, so as to make a good showing in the meet at Eugene about the fifteenth of April.

The 1922 Cee Gee annual is well under way now. The pictures are being taken for it and the enthusiasm behind it leads to the belief that the annual this year will be better than ever before.

The annual program given by the junior class on Friday, March 17, was much enjoyed by the school. The main number was a one act play in which the following members took part: Doris Holderman, Audrey Murphy, Veta Plaster, Hazel Fuhrer, Evelyn Veatch, Ruth Bede, Ray McCargar, Wayne Veatch and Harvey Robinson. The last number was the class song, during which the class wore their colors, orange and green.

Pioneer Woman Dies.

Mrs. Robert E. Campbell, a pioneer of Lane county of 1849, died at Tacoma, Wash., Friday, at the age of 75 years. Mrs. Campbell and her husband, who died five years ago, settled on a homestead a mile and a half from Springfield, where they resided continuously until Mr. Campbell's death and Mrs. Campbell continued to live there until she left for Tacoma a year or more ago to live with her sons, George and Ernest Campbell.

Dr. H. W. Titus, of this city, was a grand nephew and he and Mrs. Titus attended the funeral in Eugene Monday.

Paper Almost Too Good.

Here's an unusual compliment for Cottage Grove's live wire newspaper: "When the time is up, please discontinue the paper. It is the best country newspaper I ever read, but it makes us too desperately homesick for the coast country and the Willamette valley and Cottage Grove in particular."

Law Protects You Largely as You Protect Yourself

You are protected by state law against the purchase of fats and greases as dairy products. There are no substitutes for dairy foods, but there are imitations. The dairy interests have just won their first case to compel proper labeling of these imitations. If you buy imitations, you buy them knowing them to be imitations. The law says there are no substitutes for dairy foods. Your stomach tells you so. Insist on getting dairy foods, the most perfect foods it is possible to purchase. Ask for RED ROSE BRAND BUTTER and VELVET ROSE BRAND ICE CREAM.

Mrs. Lottie C. Elwood Dies.

Marion P. Martin writes from Portland that he has received word of the death of his youngest daughter, Mrs. Lottie Choleta Elwood, at Bella Vista, Calif., March 12. Word did not reach Mr. Martin until two weeks after his daughter's death. Mrs. Elwood was aged 24 years and leaves a husband, a son of 7 and a daughter six months of age.

New Forest Supervisor Visits.

W. F. Ramsdell, who was for several years supervisor of the Umpqua forest reserve, was in the city yesterday from Roseburg with his successor in office, Carl B. Neal, who is a U. of O. graduate. Mr. Ramsdell goes to Baker to take the position of supervisor of the Whitman forest reserve.

Ramon Gamino Is Bound Over.

Ramon Gamino, charged with assault upon Alberto Cruz with a revolver, has been bound over to the grand jury. The shooting took place at Divide two weeks ago. Cruz is said to be recovering from his injury.

Kays Improving Their Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kay are making a number of improvements upon the place which they recently bought from L. L. Woolley. They have grubbed an acre, which they have set to prune, walnut and cherry trees. They already have in a large part of their early garden.

SENATOR JONES CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT OF COURT

Walter B. Jones, Eugene attorney and state senator from Lane county, was served with a warrant of arrest Friday charging him with contempt of court in alleged misconduct in the case of the state against George Stone, who was found guilty a few days ago of the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl. It is charged that Mr. Jones, who is attorney for Stone, induced Mrs. Edith Luick, mother of the little girl, to send her and her sister out of the state so they could not testify against Stone.

Mr. Jones declares that his arrest was caused by his political enemies who are trying to prevent him from securing the nomination and re-election to the state senate but says he will run for the office anyway and will fight the case to a finish.

Judge Skipworth issued an order directing the sheriff to serve a warrant upon Mr. Jones and to cause him to appear in court at 10 a. m., March 22. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $500.

Florence Again Has Newspaper.

Florence again has a newspaper. The Siuslaw Region takes the place of The Florence West, which was discontinued about a year ago, after 25 years' continuous publication. H. J. Saunders and Albert K. Lulay are the owners of the new paper.

Takes Wrong Side of Street.

Mr. Sidler, truck driver for a paving company, paid $3.50 into the police court this week for driving his truck onto the wrong side of the street to reach a gas filling station.
