TWO WELL KNOWN CITIZENS TAKEN BY PARALYSIS

Charles W. Sears Dies Tuesday and Charles W. Simpson Follows Yesterday.

Charles W. Sears, member of a pioneer family, died Tuesday at the age of 64 years, following a paralytic stroke. Funeral arrangements have been postponed, pending the arrival of a son from Florida, who had left for here before his father's death.

Mr. Sears was born here October 29, 1857, and always had made this his home. He always followed farming and owned a 500-acre ranch. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackson Sears, pioneers. He was married September 24, 1882, to Amanda Melvina Sears, who survives. Surviving children are Brison and Clarence, of this city; Mrs. L. K. Brumfield, of Marshfield, and Andrew, of Jacksonville, Fla. One brother, Lewis Sears, is the only survivor of six boys of the family. Two sisters survive. They are Mrs. Sarah Jones and Mrs. Amanda Ganger, both of Pendleton.

Charles W. Simpson died Thursday morning, after suffering two years with paralysis. He was born February 23, 1854, at Indianapolis, and was married March 7, 1883, at Goshman, Wis., to Eliza Jane Eymann, who survives. They arrived here 19 years ago. Surviving children are Mrs. H. H. Eggleston, of Portland; Mrs. Frank Warren, John and Robert, of this city, and Ethel at home.

GREAT ACTIVITY IN MINING CAMP IS PREDICTED

Supplies and Men Leave for Properties in the Bohemia Gold Mining District.

The prediction is being freely made that more money will be spent this year in development of property in the Bohemia gold mining district, out from here, than has been spent in ten years past.

Supplies and a crew of men have just gone to the Champion property. The Green Rock people will send supplies and a crew within a few days. Arrangements are being made for more extensive work at the Evening Star, where a rich ledge recently was opened. The Oregon-Ohio people are expected to start activities shortly. Professor Hodge, of the University of Oregon school of mines, with a number of students, will go into the district within a few days to spend several weeks.

Springfield High Here Today. Springfield high comes here today for a baseball game with the local high school team.

TIMID WIFE LIKES SPEED WHEN THERE'S A REASON FOR BEING IN A HURRY

One of Cottage Grove's motor bugs, who thinks a pace between 35 and 40 miles an hour is rather moderate for this day and age, has a wife who much prefers a speed of 25 to 30, but whose remonstrances usually fall upon deaf ears.

A few nights ago the two were making a trip down the valley. A man standing in the road holding up his hands attracted the attention of the driver and the brakes began to grind. Then the driver noted another man who held what appeared to be some kind of a shooting iron. Plainly a hold-up was planned and the driver proceeded to go right away from there. He jizzed the exhilarator until the speedometer indicator began hovering around the 50 mark.

Up to this time the wife had said not a word, but fully sensing the situation she exclaimed, "Is this as fast as the old boat will go?" The astonishment of the driver was so great that he nearly let go of the steering wheel.

EVEN LATEST GENERATION OF APPLE TREE SHOWS SPEED TO PARENT TREE

Joe Perkins Jr., of Blue Mountain has a youthful apple tree that is evidently attempting to exemplify how the latest generation is putting it over the immediately preceding one. Mr. Perkins has a Wolf River apple tree, an unusual variety. According to Mr. Perkins, this tree was pruned last winter. A "flapper" twig, trimmed from the parent tree at that time, fell to the ground, took root, and on May 4 had produced four blooms and one bud, while the more sedate parent tree has no blossoms and the leaves are barely starting.

WANTAD GETS RESULTS EVEN BEFORE COPY IS MAILED TO NEWSPAPER

The best one yet on the efficacy of Sentinel wantads was reported during the past week. A woman was writing a wantad which she intended sending The Sentinel and before she had completed her writing a man arrived and bought the sheep she was offering for sale and the man who bought the sheep doesn't take the paper. The moral is: If you want to sell anything, write a wantad for The Sentinel. If a layer doesn't appear immediately, have the ad published.

CHAUTAUQUA COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

Gospel of Peace and International Prosperity Is to Be Spread by Noted Lecturers.

Organization of chautauqua signers for this year's session was completed at a meeting held in the chamber of commerce, Wednesday afternoon, at which Ellison White was represented by Mrs. Upton, formerly Miss Ely, of Eugene, who was director here one season.

The following committees were at that time appointed: Ticket sale: N. E. Glass, Mrs. H. W. Titus, M. H. Anderson, Wm. Thum and Dale Wyatt.

Grounds: J. F. Godard, Lester Phelps, Albert Woodard, J. T. Smith, E. E. Schmidt and Roy Leonard. Advertising: S. L. Mackin, Victor Kem and N. J. Nelson Jr. Decorations: Mrs. B. R. Job and C. E. Umphrey.

As the last night of chautauqua also is commencement night, arrangements have been practically completed to hold commencement exercises in the chautauqua tent following an hour's concert. Those appearing in the concert will give several numbers on the commencement program.

The signers to the contract are as follows: S. L. Mackin, Mrs. Leon Deszars, Mrs. Alice Deszars, Albert C. Woodard, A. L. Woodard, A. L. Wynne, N. J. Nelson Jr., S. L. Godard, George Jacobsen, N. W. White, W. N. Dorens, Roy Leonard, H. J. Shan, W. M. Thum, E. Dale Wyatt, J. F. Godard, R. E. Trask, Mrs. Herbert Eakin, C. E. Umphrey, George O. Knowles, Lester Phelps, Elbert Bede, N. E. Glass, Geo. A. Proctor, Mrs. J. Baltzar, J. H. Kirk, L. Adelle White, M. H. Anderson, Ed W. Miller, J. Sams, Clem Sarff, E. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Lucille C. Titus, Omer Moore, J. Q. Willis, J. T. Smith, Chas. Matthews, O. M. Kem, C. J. Kem, B. Mooney, Elbert Smith, C. A. Bartell, C. E. Stewart, Ned E. Dixon, Leslie Hull, A. M. Moore, E. A. Trask, E. M. Thurber, Hugh Trunnell, Victor E. Kem, G. Sweet, Lester E. Dorens, Mrs. B. R. Job and Mrs. E. C. Conner.

True to their ideal of betterment to community and national life and true to American spirit, the International Lyceum and Chautauqua association, of which the Ellison-White Lyceum and Chautauqua association, of Portland, is a member, have grasped the great opportunity which is theirs to spread the gospel of peace and international prosperity throughout the entire United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. An earnest appeal has been made to their lecturers that each of them give a short time from each platform to discuss briefly the aims of the conference held in Washington and to urge the people to take a firm stand in asking the president of the United States, through their senators and representatives, to do everything in his power to bring about not only a limitation of armament but a complete disarmament.

There will be 18 big events, 12 exhilarating programs, 8 big concerts. Among the numbers on the program are the following: Steelman-Marriner-Taylor trio, A. Mather Hilburn, Glenn L. Morris company, Margaret Garrison, Jugo-Slav Tamburicans, Arthur Walwyn Evans, Dr. Lydia Allen De Vilbiss, Harold (Private) Pent, "Turn to the Right," great sermon play; Betting Mahler duo, Chancellor George H. Bradford, New York City concert quartet, junior pageant.

MOTORCYCLE HILL CLIMB PLANNED FOR SUNDAY

A motorcycle hill climbing contest will be held here Sunday, weather permitting. It is anticipated that as many as 500 machines may be here and that some factory riders may take part in the contest. A grade of about 75 percent and 300 feet long on Mount David has been selected for the contest, which is in charge of Harry Rentele, of this city. Motorcycles entering the contest will be equipped with tractor shoes.

OREGON STATE BAND APPEARS IN CONCERT

The Oregon state band appeared in concert here Friday night at the armory under the auspices of the military club. The band was assisted by Mrs. Arab Hoyt Rae. Variety of numbers and a well-balanced band organization were responsible for a successful program. Mrs. Rae's deep contralto voice was well adapted to the solo, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice." She responded to an encore with "Smilin' Through." A three-year-old trap drummer was a novelty at the dance which followed the concert.

RONEY DECLARES HE WAS SELF STARTER

L. N. Roney, candidate for county commissioner, was in the city Tuesday meeting the voters and urging his candidacy upon them. He declared forcibly that he was brought out by no one except himself, owes allegiance to no one now and will be bossed by no one as a member of the county board.

Sentinel Gets Out Ballot Job.

The primary election ballots for Lane county were delivered by The Sentinel Monday to the county clerk's office in Eugene, the entire job having been completed in a little over three days. The number of republican ballots was 12,000 and the number of democratic ballots 4,000, with an equal number of samples in each case.

Chancellor Bradford Will Point the Way

Noted Speaker to Lecture at Chautauqua—Will Give His Platform Classic, "This Way Up"

Chancellor George Henry Bradford is coming to Chautauqua. The mere announcement of his appearance is usually sufficient to insure a capacity audience, for there is no abler lecturer on the American platform today. "This Way Up," Chancellor Bradford's masterpiece, is the theme which will inspire Chautauqua patrons to the higher and nobler things of life. A lecture's success can be measured only by its results. It may entertain, educate, arouse the emotions—but its real value is the lasting effect which inspires to greater endeavor. "This Way Up" is a lecture which is meant for you. Hear Chancellor Bradford on the fifth night.

COUNTY FAIR BOARD ASKS EAST MAIN IMPROVEMENT IS DEFEATED

Annual Event Will Be No More Unless Property Now Leased Is Purchased.

The county fair board at a meeting held Monday decided to urge upon the people of the county the purchase of the county fair grounds which are now being used under lease. A publicity committee was appointed, of which A. R. Gray, of Gray's Cash and Carry stores, is chairman and of which N. E. Glass, of this city, vice president of the fair board, and W. A. Ayres, secretary of the fair board, are the other members. This committee will endeavor to show the people of the county that the purchase of the fair grounds is imperative if the fair is to be continued and that the purchase of the fair grounds property would prove a profitable investment.

The county fair board has an option on the property at $20,000 and it is said that the property is worth a vastly larger sum and cannot later be purchased at twice this price if the option is allowed to expire. The buildings alone represent a large investment. Plans already are under way for the biggest and best fair this year that the county has ever had.

MRS. WEBBER'S PUPILS APPEAR IN CONCERT

The students' recital given Saturday evening by a limited number of piano pupils from Mrs. Harry Webber's class was a marked success in every particular, pleasing a large and appreciative audience. The students showed evidence of careful training and conscientious work and represented grades from the first to the ninth, Miss Veta Plaster being the most advanced pupil. The class was assisted with vocal solos by Lucille Davidson, Margaret Hemenway and Leslie Hull and with readings by Millicent and Jerine Burrows, which were much enjoyed. The flower dance given by the smaller girls was very pretty and the decorations of ferns and wild grape were beautiful. One of the pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of a magnificent bouquet of crimson carnations from the class to Mrs. Webber.

Chambers Mill Again Operating.

The J. H. Chambers mill at Latham is again in full operation, after a shutdown of about two months to make repairs and alterations and install new machinery to an extent which makes it one of the largest and best-equipped mills in western Oregon.

Mrs. Tom Dardis and baby daughter, of Sacramento, Calif., who had been visiting Mrs. Phoebe Stoneburg, left Saturday for North Bend to visit Mrs. Dardis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Coffman.

DIRECTORY OF FARMERS OF COUNTY SOON OUT

The farmers' directory for Lane county will be off the press in about three weeks. It will contain the names of all the farmers of the county, giving in each instance whether renter or owner, number of acres owned or rented, section, range and township, assessed valuation and distance from the nearest city.

The directory is being published by the Farmers' Directory corporation, of Portland and Spokane, and C. W. Robey, field manager for the company, is now in Cottage Grove soliciting advertising from the business interests here. The company proposes to distribute 1000 directories to the farmers free of charge, thereby assuring the advertisers a bona fide circulation in the rural territory. The directory is receiving hearty support from the business men of the county, as it serves as a perfect mailing list and credit reference. On top of that, a 1000 circulation is guaranteed to the advertiser as a run for his money. Similar directories have been published by the company for Marion, Polk, Coos, Clackamas, Multnomah, Hood River, Wasco and a number of other Oregon counties. Distribution of the directories will commence in about three weeks and practically every business in the county is represented in the advertising pages.

COTTAGE GROVE WINS FROM JUNCTION CITY

Cottage Grove won as usual in the ball game at Junction City Sunday, the score being 7 to 3. A high wind played havoc with the sphere when high ones were batted. The sphere would do aerial stunts of various kinds and ordinary home runs became infield flies. The breeze was so strong that to get the ball to second base it had to be relayed to third.

OREGON MIST NO DAMPER TO HOTEL MEN

Enjoyable Picnic Dinner and Speech by Mayor Knowles Are Held at London Springs.

The state hotel men held a picnic out from here at London Springs Sunday. On account of a slight dampness of the atmosphere the meal was served in the Calapooza hotel, but a jolly bunch had a jolly time just the same. About 200 partook, including a number of business men from here.

The business session was held the day before at Eugene and the guests motored up here Sunday morning. C. A. Bartell, of Hotel Bartell, and N. S. Hays, of the Calapooza hotel, had charge of the affair at this end.

Following the picnic dinner, Mayor Knowles, of Cottage Grove, made one of his usual inimitable speeches in which he welcomed and complimented everybody, which was replied to by Phil Metcahan, of Portland, president of the hotel men, who expressed the appreciation of members of the association for the manner in which they had been entertained. The Cottage Grove band gave several numbers.

The members of the hotel men's association were photographed both in front of Hotel Bartell and in front of the Calapooza hotel at London.

The following Cottage Grove young women assisted with the serving of the dinner: Gladys Hughes, Sarah Koop, Eva Brockus, Keta Kelly, Evelyn Veatch, Hallie Willis, Ruth Bede, Mildred Hanna and Doris Holdeman.

APPEAL MADE FOR CLOTHES FOR THE DESTITUTE

Many in Near East Reported to Be Without Covering to Hide Their Nakedness.

Wednesday, May 24, will be bundle day for near east relief throughout the United States. Last year America sent 1000 tons of clothing. President Masanian, of the Armenian republic, says that one-fifth of the present population of that section have been clothed in cast-off American garments during the year. New clothing wears out fast enough and the supply of half worn garments is now completely exhausted. Numberless men, women and children are destitute of clothing and thousands have no covering whatever save the thinnest of rags.

Inside the near east relief orphanages much of the clothing is manufactured by the children themselves under the direction of the relief workers, but the majority of them and almost the entire population of Armenia will have to dress in American second-hand clothes again next year.

Approximately eighty per cent of the hand looms have been destroyed during the war, famine and invasion have scattered the women and girls who formerly operated them, and the flocks of sheep which in former days furnished the wool have been killed for food or stolen by invaders.

"With the exception of food there is no greater need than that of clothing," says J. J. Handaker, state director of near east relief, who traveled extensively in the near east last summer. The Mothers' club, grange and other organizations of the city are looking after the assembling and shipment of articles given for this relief work.

ALMOND HEMENWAY IS IN DOUBT AS TO WHETHER HE'S LUCKY OR UNLUCKY

Almond Hemenway wants someone to tell him whether he is lucky or unlucky. He has played a stellar role in a half dozen runaways, has always maintained a hold on the lines, his 225 pounds more or less having a strongly deterrent effect upon the ardor of the runaway horse or horses, always he has succeeded in stopping them and always he has come out with only a few chunks of hide rubbed away. Is he unlucky in having the runaways, or is he lucky to have always escaped with only minor injuries? That is what he would like to know. Also one of his children has been with him several times and also has escaped with minor injuries.

The last performance of the kind was a few days ago when a woman driving a car smashed into his rig, wrecked it and threw him and his son James into the road. Little James fell onto his head, but was not injured. Almond doesn't know how he fell but he retained his hold on the lines and his clothing was somewhat wrecked from contact with the sharp rocks, but no serious bodily injuries resulted. The name of the woman driving the car was not learned.

—when Kipling went to Africa he had the American magazines forwarded to him, and the friend who did this tore off the advertising pages at the back of the magazines to save postage on the bundle.

—"the ads are the most interesting part. Leave them in the next time," wrote Kipling. "I can write stories myself."

—advertising IS interesting. It tells you of the things you need or want.
