GLASS WINS FOR DIRECTOR BY 118 MAJORITY

Proposed Commercial Course in High School Defeated; Vote One of Heaviest Ever Cast.

N. E. Glass takes the place of Dr. W. Kime on the school board. In the annual school election held Monday afternoon he defeated W. O. Wilson for the position by a majority of 118, the number of votes cast being probably the largest ever cast in a school election in Cottage Grove. A total of 160 votes were east for director, of which Mr. Glass received 139 and Mr. Wilson 21. Dr. Kime, retiring member, had served a three-year term.

The proposal to establish a commer cial course in the high school met with the disfavor of the voters who, by a vote of 85 to 68, favored applying $2000 on the bonded indebtedness rather than to the establishment of the proposed course.

The establishment of a commercia course was voted down at the time of the annual budget meeting, at which time $4000 was put into the budget to be applied in reducing the bonded in-debtedness of the district. The action of the voters at Monday's election means that a total of $6000 will be applied on the indebtedness of the dist during the coming year.

Worth Harvey was reelected by an almost manimous vote as clerk for another year. He was unopposed ex-cept by two candidates whose names written in and who received but

The interest of the voters centered about the effort to establish the new commercial course, more votes being east on that proposition than were cas for either director or clerk.

A TRIBUTE TO HELEN M. SILSBY.

(By a Friend.)
In the great scheme of creation, life in any form is always interesting. Hu manity represents the highest type known to us and with universal acco we welcome the coming and regret the passing of an immortal spirit.

Recently this community has been greatly touched by the loss of one who and endeared herself to young and old. Eighty-four years ago, our late friend was born in New York state. At the age of 23 years, the mother of three small sons, she bade goodbye to her husband and kept the home fires bunn while he fought for his country. The character displayed there creased as years passed, and to know her was a rich experience. She lived a long, useful and happy Christian life. Her children rise up and call her blessed. She was affiliated with the Presbyterian church, her presence was a benediction and until her illness she was always to be found in her accus-

All through the months of suffering her cheerfulness did not forsake her and her first thought was always for the comfort of others. Her friends did not wait to place flowers on her bier. Her room was bright with the choicest blossoms all the time.

Funeral services were conducted from the family home, Rev. H. B. Her of-ficiating. The choir of the Presby-treian church rendered favorite numbers. The remains, accompanied by her family, were taken to Ashland, her former home, for interment. At Ashland the funeral party was met by friends who accompanied the body to thecemetery, where the Eastern Star lodge conducted the service.

LAST FIRE IN OLD FURNACE AT ARCADE THEATER CAUSES SMALL ROOF BLAZE SUNDAY

The last fire to be put into the old furnace in the Arcade theater, which is to be replaced with a steam heating plant, started a roof fire early Sunday forenoon which, had it not been promptly discovered, might have endangered a large part of the business property of the city.

A spark from the chimney set fire to the wooden coping built on top of the brick walls to keep the rain from seeping into the bricks. The incipient blaze was discovered by Charles Newlan, who was working Charles Newlan, who was working on the roof of his house, Manager Morelock, owner of the theater building, was in the building at the time and as soon as notified climbed to the roof with a pail of water and promptly extinguished the blaze, No damage was done, Mr. More-lock was burning some rubbish that had accumulated in the furnace.
