1925 EXPOSITION COMMITTEE PLANS VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

Presentation to the world of Oregon's scenic, farming and industrial attractions and opportunities through the 1925 exposition as the means of bringing thousands of investors into the state is the plan which is being pushed before the people of Oregon by the committee in charge of the campaign in behalf of the exposition measure which goes before the voters at the November election. This measure amends the state constitution so as to allow the voters in Portland to levy a tax upon themselves. It does not provide for any tax for the state outside of Portland although the state

—there are a lot of people you don't know.
 —and a lot of people who don't know you.
 —and a lot of those who do know you don't know just what you have to sell.
 —and possibly you don't know that the best way to get them to know you and to know what you have to sell is to let them listen to your story in an ad. in The Live Wire Newspaper each week.
 —now you know.
 —let them know.

voters must approve this constitutional change.

"Oregon is not developed properly because we have failed to let the people of the world know what we have in our state," says Mayor George L. Baker, who heads the campaign committee. "Advertising is the best means of bringing about development of our resources and the exposition in 1925 is the best method of advertising that could be adopted. The exposition will bring thousands of people into Oregon. They will be investors, farmers, merchants and business people from all parts of the world. They will have money to spend and to invest. By having our products, our resources and scenic attractions on display we are certain to interest our visitors."

The campaign which has been planned in behalf of the exposition measure will be carried into all parts of the state between now and November 6.
