BRUMFIELD SUPER-CRIMINAL SAYS PROSECUTOR OF CASE

Portland, Sept. 14.-Dr. R. M. Brum field was the super-criminal of the cenand admirable culture, a mental aristo erat who held himself aloof from the general public, a man with wonderful nerve, keen intelligence, and without doubt, a man perfectly sane at all times during the planning and com-mission of his crime," said Deputy District Attorney Hammersley, who assisted at the prosecution of the Rose-burg dentist. The crime was planned and executed solely for the purpose of securing the $20,000 insurance. If ever a case for which the capital punish ment law was especially fitted, this was the case.

Mrs. Brumfield is working in a Port land apartment house under an assumed name, according to a niece of Brumfield, Mrs. Alonza C. Spencer. With her is her oldest son Richard, 12 years of age. The two other sons, Robert and Gilbert, aged 8 and 10, are in the country near San Jose, where arrangements have been made for their care and education. "Mrs. Brumfield had nothing to sny for publication," said Mrs. Spencer. "The only reason she changed her name was because she feared she could not obtain employment if her identity were known. She received the news of Dr. Brumfield's suicide with stoicism." who, with Mrs. Godard has been attending the state normal school in Monmouth during the past year, has been elected to teach in one of the grade schools in Corvallis,
