GIVE BEN A SQUARE DEAL.

The Sentinel believes in a square deal for everyone, even for a candidate for public office. No one has been any more the subject of malicious underground rumor than Governor Olcott. Any voter has a right to disagree with the governor as to any of his official acts and no one would deny the voter the privilege of voting for or against him because of his religious or political actions, but it is to be made an issue in the campaign, the truth should be told. The facts are that in religious belief all members of the Olcott family are Protestants and attend Protestant churches, nor has any member of his immediate family been other than a Protestant. The editor of The Sentinel knows that the Olcott children attend the public schools of Salem with the high and the low, the rich and the poor. The fact that the grand master of Oregon grand lodge, A. F. & A. M., and a number of past grand masters of the same have publicly given their support to Mr. Olcott, who is a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner, should offset some of the silly innuendo, being circulated by his enemies. These facts are stated not on basic reasons why he should or should not be voted for but merely to give him a square deal.

EXPLANATION OF MEASURES.

Lack of space makes it necessary to be brief with our comment upon the measures before the people at next Tuesday's election.

300-301—Amendment permitting Lane county to levy tax to pay outstanding warrants.

302-303—Amendment permitting Lane and Benton counties to levy tax to pay outstanding warrants.

Quite evidently the author of the legislative resolutions which put these two measures on the ballot intended that the second one should take the place of the first. This is simply enabling legislation permitting Lane and Benton counties to look after their own internal affairs in paying off their indebtedness. The second measure, at least, should have a favorable vote.

304-305—Single tax amendment. Should be swatted as all single tax propositions have been swatted in Oregon.

306-307—Salmon fishing and propagation amendment. Would prohibit the use of seines, traps and fish wheels in the waters of the state, including the Columbia river. Its purpose seems to be to stop commercial fishing of salmon. The amendment also regulates the planting of spawn and apparently would make useless the state's egg taking and feeding stations to the value of a half of a million dollars. No affirmative argument for the amendment appears in the voters' pamphlet. It should be defeated.

308-309—1925 Exposition tax amendment. This would permit the city of Portland to tax itself for an exposition. The promise is made that no state tax will be asked for. The state, however, would be expected to have an exhibit of its own at a cost of probably a million dollars. Each county would be expected to have an exhibit. Portland should be permitted to tax herself to spend her own money upon an exposition. The exposition will not be held until 1927, instead of in 1925, as indicated by the ballot title.

310-311—Income tax amendment submitted by the State Taxpayers' league. If we are to have a state income tax, and such seems a necessity of the immediate future, this proposed amendment surely provides the way. The proposed amendment leaves it to the legislature to provide the means of carrying the amendment into effect, which is the only sane and sensible way of making such a radical change in anything so fundamental as the manner of collecting our taxes. This proposed amendment should not be confused with another of similar import on the ballot.

312-313—Interest rate amendment. This would make the interest rate 6 per cent except upon contract, when it might be 7 per cent. No affirmative argument is made in the pamphlet. There are a thousand reasons why this proposed amendment should be swatted. It would make it impossible for Oregon industry to borrow money. Capital would be driven to states which permitted a higher rate of interest.

314-315—Compulsory education bill. This is discussed in full beginning on the first page of this issue.

316-317—Income tax bill. Proposed by the grange. This is a complete law unto itself and is faulty and ambiguous in many places. It leaves loopholes for the rich to escape its provisions. Those who wish an income tax should vote for the income tax amendment submitted by the State Taxpayers' league, Nos. 310-311. These two measures should not be confused.

500-501—Lane county road bond repeal bill. The object is to repeal the unsold portion of Lane county road bonds authorized two years ago. Over $250,000 of the bonds have been issued and the money expended upon the market roads of the county. The entire county is behind the entire issue and it would be a serious mistake to now take from the portions of the county which have had none of the money the roads which the bonds would build for them, while leaving them to help pay the bonds which were used on market roads in other parts of the county. The county would lose hundreds of thousands of dollars of state and federal money by being unable to match funds offered us. This measure should be decisively defeated.

The Cottage Grove armory bond measure appears upon the city ballot. The attention of voters is directed to

Rev. B. M. Bridges Gives Facts In His Case

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Taniae. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or denomination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.

One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Mooresboro, N. C., whose statement follows:
"Taniae has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a gratifying way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a rundown condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find anything to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep or rest.
"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Taniae. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Taniae is a splendid medicine and tonic, for it has built me up wonderfully."
Taniae is sold by all good druggists.

EUGENE W. C. T. U. AND SHARP.

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 1.—(To the Editor.)—In behalf of the Eugene W. C. T. U. I would like to say in answer to the statement made by Mr. Sharp in last week's Sentinel to the effect that members of the Eugene W. C. T. U. stated that they went to see him and he was too drunk to be interviewed, was not correct, as they did not have any interview with him. A certain party saw him and he acted in a queer manner, and one would draw their own conclusions. We worked for the recall because, after due investigation, we felt sure that he was not the proper person to hold such an important county position as county commissioner. As to his friends he mentions, we feel that they have been misinformed. We wish to be fair to everyone but we stand only for officers whom we feel sure will stand by the prohibition law and the enforcement thereof and those who live up to the principles of our organization.

A vote for Olcott is a vote for the Roosevelt Highway

When the Roosevelt Highway bill was first up for consideration, Governor Olcott was one of its friends and not only spoke favorably of it, but gave it his signature of approval.
When the bill came up for final approval in the senate, Senator Pierce, now candidate for Governor, absented himself and did not vote for it. (See Senate Journal 1919, page 291.)
Pierce is opposed to the issuance of bonds for the building of highways, and the Roosevelt Highway can be built in no other way.
In his public speeches all over eastern Oregon, where the Roosevelt Highway is not popular, Governor Olcott has declared for the building of this highway.
The Republican state platform declares for it and pledges the Governor and all the legislative candidates on the Republican ticket specifically to the Roosevelt Highway.
Therefore, a vote for Ben Olcott is the same as a vote for the Roosevelt Highway.

God gave parents their children

Governments cannot rightfully take them away

AMERICA has always stood for the protection of natural and inalienable rights, among which none is so sacred as that of parents over their children.
ABRAHAM LINCOLN said:
"The Family is the cornerstone of social order and the guarantee of public safety. No Government can take the place of the Parent, and should never be permitted to usurp it." (Speech at Quincy, Ill., 1859.)
The results of the campaign against the so-called Compulsory Education Bill, which is in fact a Bill to Establish State Monopoly of Education, may be grouped under two heads:

Facts demonstrated Arguments unanswered

1. THE LUTHERAN ARGUMENT "If you see fit to send your child to a school in which your religion is taught, not one day in the week, but every day, and the whole training of the child is permeated by such religion, the State, under the Constitution, must not prohibit you from so doing. This bill is manifestly unconstitutional."
 2. THE PORTLAND CITIZENS AND TAXPAYERS ARGUMENT "If the number of children now attending the public schools is to be increased by adding those now taught in the private schools, it is inevitable that overcrowding must result unless new buildings are supplied, and it is also certain that taxes must be materially increased."
 3. ST. HELEN'S HALL (EPISCOPAL) ARGUMENT "No invidious fact or condition affecting public interest has been called to our attention that would furnish in the slightest degree an excuse for the proposed legislation."
 4. THE PRINCIPALS OF PRIVATE SCHOOLS ARGUMENT "It is against the best American ideals of freedom, in that it denies to men and women freedom of thought and action in the choice of environment and influences for their children."
 5. THE SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS ARGUMENT "We are not at all certain that a man educated in the public school is more intelligent than if he were educated in a private or sectarian school, nor have we heard any convincing argument that a person is necessarily more patriotic if educated in a public school, than if he were educated in a school not supported by public taxation."
 6. THE CATHOLIC ARGUMENT "There is no occasion now for agitation that will estrange old friends and neighbors, and that will divide our people into classes and factions. No greater misfortune can befall us than movements calculated to create divisions."
 7. THE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTERS ARGUMENT "It is based on the philosophy of autocracy—that the child belongs primarily to the State; it is an unjustifiable invasion of family authority, and threatens ultimately the guarantee of our American liberty."
- The foregoing "Negative Arguments" are as strong today as when written and filed. They remain unshaken and unshakable after three months of public discussion.
The great International Convention of the Episcopal Church, meeting in Portland recently, adopted strong and unequivocal resolutions condemning this bill.
The State Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at its meeting in Salem last August, refused to entertain any movement looking to an endorsement of the bill, by the express ruling of the Presiding Bishop.

Upon the foregoing statement of the case we invoke the fair and intelligent judgment of the voters of Oregon, confident of the result if a regard for the inherited and fundamental principles of reasonable liberty are to prevail in this state.
