PROFESSIONAL BUSINESS FARMER

Show Proper Respect for Your Business

Farming sometimes is called a profession. Equally as often it is called a business. Often it is neither the one nor the other, but it should be both. Both professional training and business ability are required in its conduct.

The professional business farmer should show proper respect for his business by using printed business stationery. Printed stationery dignifies the profession or business. Printed stationery gives it a standing. The cost is not great.

LEADER OF BATTALION OF DEATH TO SPEAK

Colonel Don Morgan Smith to Lecture Here for World's League Against Alcoholism Tuesday.

Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, leader of the Battalion of Death in the World War, will speak at a community meeting to be held in the Christian church, Tuesday, November 14, at 7:30 p. m. Colonel Smith will speak on Americanism and tell some of the war experiences of his battalion. The part of his lecture dealing with after-war conditions and with the need of a revival of that ideal which enables America to do its share in bringing about world peace is as thrilling as are accounts of how the famous battalion fought a way out from a desperate position during the St. Mihiel Drive. He is a well known orator attested to by the crowds he has attracted all over the United States. The meeting which Colonel Smith will address will be under the auspices of World's League Against Alcoholism.

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Titus are moving this week from south Sixth street to their new home on north Ninth.

WAR ON GREY DIGGERS IS WAGED IN COUNTY

Six Thousand Pounds of Poisoned Barley Used by Farmers; 180,000 Squirrels Are Killed.

One hundred and eighty thousand gray digger squirrels were poisoned in Lane county during the past summer through cooperative work directed from the office of the county agent's office, according to the estimate of Ira P. Whitney, county agent. If the states biological survey were taken the squirrels destroyed during the season would be twice that number but a more conservative basis for figuring results is being used here, according to the county agent.

The final report on the rodent control project shows that 6000 pounds of poisoned barley was used in the work. This was supplied to the farmers at 15 cents a pound.

It is estimated that one pound of the barley made 30 baits, the 6000 pounds making 180,000 baits. The United States biological survey estimates that one bait is good for two squirrels but the estimate by the county agent's office is one squirrel for every bait.

Figuring on a basis of 50 cents damage done by each squirrel, it is estimated that the farmers are $90,000 better off than if no efforts had been made to exterminate the rodents this year.

At the meeting of the agricultural council Monday at which Mr. Whitney's report was made it was voted that the eight locals or farmers' unions recently organized in the county should be represented on the council the same as each grange and other farmers' organizations.

TWO MARKET ROADS ARE ORDERED BY COUNTY COURT

Two new market roads were established Monday by an order of the Lane county court. They are the Graham road near Judkins point and the Dancho road connecting the Elmira and Crow roads. The Graham road was improved this summer and the county engineer is working on the Dancho road.

The court has extended the time of Iver J. Rosten on the surfacing of the Conrad hill section of the Eugene-Lorane road until next summer. He will attempt to close one gap in the surfacing this fall so that the highway will be passable to the Runkes place.

The Meadows bridge over the north fork of the Siuslaw is well under way and will be finished for winter travel, bridge officials have reported.

BLAKELYS LIKE HOLLYWOOD; SENTINEL VISITS WELCOME

Mr. and Mrs. Blakely and small son Howard left here in September and went to California for Mr. Blakely's health. "The Sentinel is certainly appreciated when it arrives," Mr. Blakely continues. "No one ever before read it more thoroughly than I do."

EDITOR OF DIGEST GIVES TO EASTERN RELIEF

R. J. Cuddihy Realizes Gravity of Situation; Gives Money and Food and Appeals for Funds.

"The action of the editor of the Literary Digest, R. J. Cuddihy, shows as nothing else has done recently, the gravity of the situation in the Near East," states J. J. Handsaker, state director of Near East relief. "Space in 300 newspapers, ordinarily used for the Digest's own advertisement, was donated for a most striking appeal. This action follows a cash gift of $10,000 and the purchase of an entire shipload of food on the credit of Mr. Cuddihy for Near East relief besides the two page story in the Digest.

"The picture is so full of terror and anguish words cannot portray it," says the Literary Digest. "Driven from their homes by fire and sword, beaten, trampled, robbed, more than half a million men, women and little children are being swept along to starvation, madness and self destruction. Herded in the streets like cattle for the slaughter, huddled on the brink of the sea and casting themselves, crazed by hunger and fear, into the dark waters, dragged from the burning hell of Smyrna only to be thrust by their rescuers into the slower hell of Mitylene and Salonica and other havens of 'refuge' which now are crowded centers of starvation and breeding grounds of pestilence—these who are suffering such martyrdom have only one hope of salvation from their nightmare of crucifixion. That hope is you—Americans.

"He who gives quickly gives twice." Contributions are being received and immediately forwarded by Near East relief, J. J. Handsaker, state director, 613 Stock Exchange building, Portland.

Larsen Says He Was Forced to Quit Work

"Tanlac measures up to everything claimed for it," declared James Larsen, a well-known painter and interior decorator, of E. 4028 28th St., Spokane, Wash.

"I had contracted lead poisoning in the course of my work, which caused all kinds of trouble with my stomach, and no one who hasn't been through it can possibly realize how a man suffers whose stomach is upset by lead poisoning. Time and time again I had to quit work on account of the terrible gripping pains and awful sickness in my stomach, and I couldn't begin to tell how much this cost me in time lost from work.

"Well, sir, Tanlac overcame this trouble completely and built me up in every way. I haven't lost a day from work since I started taking it, and to look at me now, no one would think I ever had a sick day.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Keep Out of the Rain This Winter in a New Ford Sedan

No one particularly minds the rain in Oregon. The good old Oregon mist, which hardly can be called rain, means health and happiness and prosperity. Our old Oregon mist can really be enjoyed in a car which protects the occupants from the dampness, from the slight chill and from the breeze caused by the motion of the car, for no true Webfooters who reside in the valley will admit that there is any other kind of a breeze. The price of a Ford sedan is exceptionally moderate and the comforts are many.

Fifth Annual November Subscription SPECIAL

SAVE FIFTY CENTS

Following the plan adopted four years ago, The Sentinel will this year give its fifth annual special November subscription offer. The price of The Sentinel is $2.25 the year. Until November 30 we will accept subscriptions paid in advance for a full year or more at $1.75.

No subscription accepted at this special November rate except full payment to November of next year.

In case your subscription is in arrears, you must pay arrearages in full and then add $1.75 for the year in advance. Figure arrearages at 19c for each month in arrears and then add $1.75.

If you are paid in advance, multiply 19c by the number of months it will take to carry your subscription to November of next year, deduct 50c therefrom and the remainder will pay you to next November.

If your subscription expires during November of this year, remit $1.75.

You will see by these explanations that you get a saving of 50c whether your subscription is in arrears, paid to date or paid in advance.

EXAMPLES

If your subscription expires in September, 1922, 38c will pay you to November; add $1.75 (total $2.13) and you will be paid to November, 1923.

If your subscription expires in October, 1922, 19c will pay you to November; add $1.75 (total $1.94) and you will be paid to November, 1923.

If you are paid to December, 1922, it takes 11 months to pay your subscription to the next November. Eleven times 19c is $2.09; deduct the saving of 50c, remit $1.59, and you will be paid to November, 1923.

If you are paid to January, 1923, it takes 10 months to pay you to the next November. Ten times 19c is $1.90; deduct the saving of 50c, remit $1.40, and you will be paid to November, 1923.

If your subscription expires in November, 1922, $1.75 will pay you to November, 1923.

Those whose subscriptions fell due during the latter part of September and during October, and who paid the full subscription price, will find that they have been given credit for 13½ months. Such persons are asked to examine the date on their labels to make certain that such credit has been given. The Sentinel aims to see that every subscriber gets a fair deal on this November special. Particularly do we look after the interests of our old friends who have been paying promptly for years.

The idea is to have all subscriptions expire in November, thus saving The Sentinel considerable expense in bookkeeping, which saving we wish to give to our subscribers.

REMEMBER THAT TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OFFER YOU MUST DO SO BEFORE NOVEMBER 30.
