As a Christmas Present

—there is nothing that would be more appreciated by any member of the family than one of the models of Ford enclosed cars—and the giving of the present would come at a time of year when it would be most appreciated. Think how pleasant it would be for your wife, if you are a married man, to have a cozy little parlor on wheels in which she could buzz down town to do her shopping, or which would take her to lodge in the evening or to the party in the afternoon. She could wear her party gowns and arrive at her destination just as she stepped from her boudoir.

She might let you use it when you wish to go somewhere in a hurry and haven't time to bundle up as you must if you go in an open car.

The Ford is always ready to go and always ready to bring you back. The enclosed models are always dry and comfy and are as easy riding as many of the heavy makes that cost several times the price of the Ford.
