Berry growers from all sections of the Willamette valley held a conference at Salem to discuss ways and means by which the industry may be placed on a permanent and profitable basis. A permanent organization was perfected.

In case a bill which is now being prepared for submission to the legislature at its next session becomes a law, practically all of the janitor services in state buildings will be performed by convict labor without cost to the taxpayers.

A grand total of 53,613 acres was irrigated this year in state watermaster district No. 5, comprised of Umatilla, Morrow and Gilliam counties, which is an increased acreage over all previous years, according to the statement of Aubrey E. Perry, watermaster.

Request that the coast and geodetic survey correct its maps of Yaquina bay showing the harbor entrance to have a depth of 10 or 12 feet was made by Representative McArthur, who called attention to the fact that the latest official surveys give a depth of 17 feet.

Abolishment of the offices of state highway engineer, now held by Herbert Nunn, and of assistant highway engineer, now filled by Roy Klein, will follow the selection of a paid state highway commission, according to announcement made by legislators at Salem.

A rehearing will be held in Washington, D. C., on January 3 on the protest of Pendleton against the proposed Wallula cut-off which was included in the Oregon state highway commission construction programme at the request of the federal bureau of good roads.

The world war veterans' state aid commission, according to a report prepared, has paid a total of 2457 loans to ex-service men. Of this number 895 loans were made on farm property and 1652 on city property. The grand total of loans approved and paid by the commission is $6,186,100.

Two suits seeking damages aggregating more than $207,000 from the United States shipping board emergency fleet corporation were filed in circuit court at Portland by the Astoria Marine Iron Works. The suits grew out of cancellation of war contracts for the fitting out of 27 hulls of government vessels.

That only about 40 per cent of the fire loss in Astoria in the recent conflagration was covered by insurance was the belief expressed by James N. McCune of the Oregon Insurance Rating bureau. Mr. McCune said it would be impossible to give definite figures until a complete adjustment of losses had been made.

Bids are being received by the department of the interior for approximately $4,000 acres of valuable timberlands on the Warm Springs Indian reservation. The timber, which is in a favorable location in central Oregon, consists of 482,000,000 feet of yellow and sugar pine, 44,000,000 feet of Douglas fir and other varieties.

The hearing of the application of the Oregon public service commission asking that the Central Pacific and other railroads operating in this state be ordered to extend their trackage for the benefit of eastern and central Oregon, has been continued indefinitely, according to information received from members of the interstate commerce commission.

Under a new marriage law proposed by Dr. Owens Adair, the passage of which will be asked at the next session of the Oregon legislature, both the man and the woman must undergo physical and mental examinations before the county clerk will be authorized to grant the necessary license. Exemption is made in the bill of women 45 years or older.

Present indications are that the Umpqua valley broccoli crop will ripen fully a month early and harvesting may start the last part of January or early in February if the warm weather continues. So far the Umpqua valley has not been touched by the cold spell which has been sweeping the rest of the state, and the unusually warm weather for this season has caused the broccoli to mature rapidly.

The state tax levy for the year 1923, which aggregates $8,835,295.39, shows a decrease of $540,993.72 when compared with the state tax levy for the year 1922, according to announcement made by members of the state tax commission. In 1922 the state tax levy was $9,376,289.11. The reduction in the levy was attributed by Frank K. Lovell, state tax commissioner, to increased receipts, and the fact that only items authorized by law were taken into consideration. The rate for 1923 is $2-4 mills.

Plans have been begun at the suggestion of the war department and legislation initiated which are expected to result in laying a solid earth foundation for that part of the burned city of Astoria which formerly stood on timber piling. A bill was introduced in the senate by Senator McNary making available from an unexpended balance in the rivers and harbors fund $500,000 for dredging the channel in front of the burned city and providing that the earth removed from the channel be used in filling in ground.

A Happy and Prosperous New Year to All Our Friends and Customers

We wish to thank all our customers who have so loyally given us their patronage during 1922 and that have made possible a large increase in the amount of business we have done the past year.

We anticipate no change in our policy in 1923 except we will strive to serve you still better, buying the best possible merchandise for the price, for cash and from the connections we have formed, from the largest and best factories in America.

THINGS WE THINK

Things Others Think and What We Think of the Things Others Think

COURTSHIP PACE SLACKENED.
A young couple were married a few days ago on a train traveling 60 miles an hour—but they have already struck a more sensible gait for their journey through life.

The draymen would keep folks on the move if he could.

Our days on earth are so few, why not help others to enjoy them and thereby make them more pleasant for ourselves.

AND SHE PROBABLY THOUGHT IT CHEAP.

A man recently paid a fine of $50.79 for bugging the homeliest old maid in a New York town. Figures didn't count with him.

Men condemn—women condone.

THE WAY IS PAVED WITH GOOD INTENTIONS.

It takes only a little while to get to the poor house if you travel fast enough.

WE FOOL OURSELVES.

The trouble with many of us is that we believe too many things merely because we want to believe them and too few things that we ought to believe.

ENOUGH TO IRRITATE ANYONE.

If there is anything that makes a man mad, it is to live to be 90 and then die of whooping cough.

Lots of folks are eager to learn things they do not want to know.

You can't teach anyone everything in a bunch. You can't let a child do as it pleases for six years and then expect to teach it to mind and behave itself in a month.

It is a risky chance you take when you compliment a woman upon her conversational ability.

If a woman ever agrees with a man it's just when he doesn't want her to.

NOISES OF THE NIGHT.

The sweetest voice sounds unpleasant when used to awaken a sleepy man to ask him to get up and tend to the baby.

A person would take a whack at an enemy sometimes if he thought he could do it without being found out.

People do not tower so high above you when you get them on an equal basis.

THE FIRST SHALL BE LAST.

An officeholder says the trouble with politics in this country is that there are too many leaders. The trouble seems to us to be that the followers want the leaders to bring up the rear.

A fellow with the mumps has no business to read a funny story.

Down in Mexico they tell time by dividing the hours into revolutions, four revolutions making one hour.

Health is one of the most valuable things we have—and yet we give it up for baser things.

The millionaire who gives thousands to charity is not always as much of a christian as the man who supports a family on $12 a week.

DON'T LICK THE KIDS FOR FUN.

The parent who gets any enjoyment out of punishing his children isn't going to do them any good by punishment.

We trust the past year has brought you success and extend best wishes for continued and increased prosperity during 1923.

Don't forget that the new Star car will arrive some time in January.
