

The Star Car

The creation of the Star car is the most important and brilliant accomplishment of any individual identified with the automobile industry since its inception.

Smartness in looks, thoroughness and modern design in a low priced car were unheard of until the Star was created by W. C. Durant, the pioneer builder of automobiles and identified with the introduction and success of the Cadillac, Buick, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Chevrolet and Durant cars.

The Star car marks the most advanced step since the introduction of the automobile, for it provides for the first time a quality automobile, standardized in construction and operation for a modest sum of money.

The Star Touring Car

The Star Touring Car has a well proportioned, true streamline body, with rounded radiator and cowl level with the hood. A one-man top, clear-vision tilted windshield and crowned fenders add to the smart appearance of the whole.

There is ample capacity for five passengers with plenty of leg room. The seats are low and deep with backs tilted at a comfortable angle and covered with high grade material. Gearshift and emergency brake levers are close to the center of the driver's seat, affording free clearance.

Clutch and service brake pedals, foot accelerator and starter buttons are all in convenient positions. Spark control and auxiliary gas lever are located on the instrument board, together with ammeter and oil gauge, ignition and lighting switches.

The steering wheel is full 16-inch size set at a most comfortable angle with the horn button on top.

The windshield is adjustable both top and bottom and has snug rubber weather extensions. There is a wide rectangular glass window in the rear. Under the front seat are side curtains easy to put on.

The gasoline tank is on the rear of the frame where filling will not inconvenience the driver or muss the car.

Complete lamp equipment, approved headlight lenses, tail light, tire carrier and license holder are standard equipment.
