SOCIETY

The intermediate branch of the Christian Endeavor of the Christian church enjoyed a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hemenway Friday evening. Music, games and taffy pulling were the diversions of the evening. Those present were: May Osmond, Della E. Hopper, Helen Ostrander, Rosalind Michalivay, Katharyn Hemenway, Sopha Booker, Vivian Carlise, Dorothy Alstott, Lynn Walker, Edgar A. Poe, Nina Mitchell, Millicent Burrows, Elsie Sears, Ethel Bennett, Floyd Bennett, Delmar King, George Scheufel, David Sears, Deyter Huff, Glen Vick, Orson Finch, John Skilling, Gilbert McElvray, Clarence Applegate, Kenneth Sears, Bond Hemenway, Lehard E. Grissner, Alma Sears, Marguerite Carlise, Laura Stewart, Gena Bennett, Otto Pitzer, Leonard Gilbert.

Husbands and friends were guests at Joker club Friday night when Mrs. Clara Burkholder and Miss Esther Silby entertained at the home of the former, arranging six tables for cards. A number of musical selections also helped to make the evening an enjoyable one for all, delicious refreshments being served at the close of the evening by the hostesses. The guests and members present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vandenberg, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. A. Powell, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Lebow, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Grissner, Mr. and Mrs. Byrne, Mrs. Elbert Bede, Mrs. Ilma Beager, Mrs. O. M. Miller, Miss Lula Currin, Miss Eunice Vandenberg, Dr. H. A. Hagen, William Thum, Charles S. Burkholder and Ren Sanford. Mrs. Nancy Oglesby and Mrs. Lydia Stouffer were especially invited guests.

The following account of the wedding of John Teeters, of Dorena, and Miss Meral Mukey, in Corvallis recently was clipped from the Gazette-Times of that city. "At the Methodist Episcopal church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning Miss Meral Mukey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Mukey, 1702 Jackson street, was united in marriage to John Maurice Teeters of Dorena, Lane county. Rev. I. E. Wood, pastor of the church, officiated at the service, using the impressive ring ceremony. Miss Elizabeth Mukey, the bride's sister, and Daniel Siewert attended the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Teeters left at once for Dorena, where they are to reside."

Completely surprising E. C. Shay, on the occasion of his birthday anniversary a party of friends and relatives dropped in at the Shay home Sunday, as the invitation of Mrs. Shay, for dinner and to spend the afternoon. Those coming from Eugene were: Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Miller and two sons, Mrs. Adeline Coppenhaver and daughter Genevieve and Ted Dunwoody.

Oregon Agricultural College—Betty Stillwell, of Cottage Grove, announced her engagement to Robert Deane, of Astoria, at the annual Delta Delta formal dance at the woman's club Friday night. Miss Stillwell is a junior in commerce and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Deane, who is not in college this term, is a sophomore in commerce and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

A number of additional guests were present for the meeting of the Constellation club yesterday afternoon when Mrs. C. C. Cruson and Mrs. Nelson Durham were hostesses. Invited in for the afternoon were Mrs. James Adams, Mrs. T. G. Sudell, Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. and Mrs. Donivan. The attendance of members was unusually large.

About twenty-five ladies of the neighborhood gathered at the home of Mrs. John Teeters at Dorena Saturday afternoon, showering her with useful household articles. Mr. and Mrs. Teeters were married in Corvallis about two weeks ago.

The boys of the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church entertained the girls Friday night at Moose hall. After playing games supper was served at the Elite. Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews were chaperons.

Mrs. K. K. Mills, Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. and Mrs. W. A. Garoutte are members of the committee in charge of the Tanglefoot club dance on the evening of January 30.

Mrs. Robert Stewart was hostess on Thursday afternoon for the regular meeting of the Social Twelve.

Initiation will be held for a class of Eastern Star candidates at the regular meeting tonight.

Mrs. George Proctor was hostess on Tuesday for the members of the M. P. G. club.

They Do Sound Alike, What? Old man Smith was busy in his back yard with saw and hatchet while his wife nursed a bad cold in the house, when a neighbor came to the fence.

"Good morning, Mr. Smith," he said. "How's Mrs. Smith this morning?"

"Just about the same," old man Smith replied. "She didn't sleep very well last night."

"That's too bad," the neighbor sympathized; and then as a raucous sound came from the house, he added solicitously, "I s'pose that's her coughin' ain't it?"

"No," old man Smith replied, absently, "it ain't her coffin; it's a new hen house."

Sidelights from Salem

By Elbert Bede.

State Capitol, Salem, Ore., Jan. 17.—There is no cloud without a silver lining and our joys are found where we least expect them. Representative Keeney, put onto a committee which he thought so unimportant that he did not care to serve upon them has found that the one bill of all bills in which he is interested has been referred to the committee on counties of which he is a member. That bill is No. 39, which would bring all counties of the state under the law now governing only Multnomah county and which provides that no public work of any kind in excess of $250 may be let by the county courts without first advertising for bids, which must be opened with the bidders present, after which the lowest bid must be accepted. No provision is made to care for an emergency where no bids might be received, where bidders might not be present at the opening of the bids, or where the lowest bid might not be the best one. No loophole is left, according to Mr. Keeney, whereby counties might do their own work, which would put out of business the many thousand dollars' worth of road machinery owned by Lane and other counties.

Representative Keeney will introduce a bill to change the date of teachers' institutes so that they will be held during the vacation season instead of during the school year. It has been estimated that a teachers' institute now costs Lane county about $3000 for the time of teachers attending institutes, in addition to breaking into and interfering with school work.

Any piece of legislation which appears to have a tendency to lay a burden, however slight, upon the taxpayer, is doomed to ignominious and inglorious death, with no hope of resurrection. Such was the case today when two of Representative Woodward's bills were up for consideration. It was not necessary for the reading clerk to even count the aye votes. The ayes were scattered over the roll call like a flock of blackbirds descending upon a corn field. Practically the only favorable votes were from Multnomah county.

One of the bills, No. 17, would have permitted school boards to provide for dental examination of all school pupils. The other would have lifted the taxpayer provision from the qualification of a voter in school election when tax matters are being considered. Mr. Woodward spoke fervently for his measures, and with a less determined might easily have secured favorable consideration.

The vote on these bills is said by members of the farm bloc to indicate that the organization machinery is cluttered with monkey wrenches and other kinds of hardware that are likely to interfere with its further functioning.

All of the Lane county members voted with the so-called farm bloc and Representative Keeney made his first real speech of the session in opposition to No. 17, changing the qualifications of voters. He said that this would lift the bars for the voting of further tax burdens on the part of those who would have none of them to pay, to which Woodward retorted that the person who actually turns the money into state and county treasuries is not the real taxpayer.

The vote upon Mr. Woodward's bills today undoubtedly indicates what is likely to happen to the free text bill when it gets onto the calendar.

There has been a flood during the entire session, but not of bills nor of oratory. If necessary the legislature could hold its sessions in boats but it could not hold without some bills or something to work on.

Bailey, the 260-pound midget from Lane, who is big enough and broad enough for the big and broad district which he represents, is voting with the so-called farm bloc, which is blocking anything that looks like an increase in taxes. As a matter of fact, the bloc, with Bailey as a member, would be a formidable body even though there might be no other members.

When men come to Salem they are little different than they are at home. Sometimes they take more time trying to hurry things by an indirect method than it would take to get them out of the way in the regular manner. Such was the case when a motion was made to indefinitely postpone Mr. Woodward's bill No. 17, up for final passage. After a thrashing around of five or ten minutes the bill was indefinitely postponed as quickly as the roll could be called.

Representative Ford made his maiden speech Tuesday. It was said to have been a rattling good speech. At least, like the famous flivver, it was easily heard, and it got there.
