legislators are married men who know how easy it is to be driven crazy and they do not wish to make it too easy for their wives to untie the knot that now binds them. Seriously, however, the bill was introduced to care for a specific case of a couple who formerly lived at Cottage Grove but it was found necessary to make the law general. The bill was referred to committee today for an amendment which probably insures its passage through the house. The case which was the motif for the bill is a particularly deserving one.

The senate has killed senate bill 10, which would have required those to give ten days' notice. Most of the senators probably realize that they would have no hope of posterity had their wives had ten days in which to think it ever.

At least 50 who would in no way be considered members of the official family here were in the party that went to Corvallis. Eugene was not able to care for so many as did its sister city and the number of tickets given out had to be limited, with the result that employes who could not go and could not ask friends to go were heard to make unkind remarks about how stingy the university city was and what would happen when the university asked something from the dear people.

Many members are getting impatient at the delay in getting bills out onto the floor. No such at tempts have been made to force bills out onto the floor. No such at tempt has yet been successful, although such an attempt as the farm bloc has in mind might get somewhere.

One not familiar with the work of committees can not understand why there should be so much delay and folks at home probably have the legislators pictured as working two or three hours a day and spending the remainder of the time visit.

It takes time for from five to seven men to thresh out a piece of legislation and get to a point where they can agree as to the kind of a report to make. But the people at home are re-sponsible in a large degree for the delay about which they complain. Indian Motorcycles of today are different from any other motor cycles. They are better because they are modern in construction and in design.
