PACIFIC FRUIT EXPRESS COMPANY GETS NEW CARS

San Francisco, May 7.—All of the 5030 standard refrigerator cars ordered by the Pacific Fruit Express company early in the year will be completed and in the service of western shippers of perishables by August, according to C. M. Seerist, vice president and general manager of the company, which is owned jointly by the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific.

According to Mr. Seerist, 950 new cars will be delivered in May, 1757 in June, 1573 in July and 750 in August. The order was distributed between five car construction companies in order that delivery could be made prior to August and September, in time to meet the peak demand for refrigerator car service. With these new cars, and an earlier order of 3300 already delivered, the company will have in the neighborhood of 30,000 refrigerator cars, an increase of one-half over its 1922 equipment.

NO CENSUS TO BE TAKEN OF FARM CROPS THIS YEAR

Teachers Get Visiting Days.

Grade teachers in the Cottage Grove schools were given "visiting days" yesterday and today. One group of five visited the Eugene schools yesterday and others will visit there today.

A SERMON ON APPEARANCES.

Very likely this is the time when you ought to buy a new suit of clothes.

Ah—We thought so. You are just the man we want to talk to—you, over there, who muttered "Can't afford it."

Up against it? No doubt. There are a lot of good fellows who are a little bit that way just now. It isn't only the man or woman in the "bread line" who felt the pinch. We know all about it—the sleepless nights, the worrying days, the pinch and struggle and the ever-recurring disappointment.

But here's the point. You are doing business—or trying to—with other men. You may be an employer, an employe, salesman, jobber, broker, workman—what not; you are in relationship with other men, and every minute of every day other men are passing judgment on you. In their thoughts they are saying you are competent, or the reverse; that you are spruce, or the reverse; that you are a likable chap, or the reverse; that you are good natured, or the reverse; that you appear well, or the reverse; that you are an agreeable person to have around, or the reverse. And all this counts in business. If you are well appearing, likable, good natured and seemingly competent, you will find it easier to earn a living, or to get decently rich than if you are the reverse.

Which brings us back to the subject of clothes. It may be unphilosophical, but it is a fact that clothes affect us. We judge other people by their clothes, even when we know better. And we judge strangers by their clothes almost entirely. We even judge ourselves by our clothes. We respect ourselves more when we have on good clothes than when we have on shabby ones. Again it may be illogical, but it is a fact. And, if we respect ourselves more when we are well clad, we will do better work and get a better deal from the world at large if we are well clad.

And it is never so important to bear these facts in mind as when we are "a bit down."

This is the time to brace up your appearance. Don't forget your razor. A clean shave, a clean collar and shirt and clean cuffs will do a lot in themselves. Sack that old greasy tie. Put on a fresh one, if you have to go without a lunch to pay for it. Look to your shoes. Brush your coat, and then go out and hold up your head. Smile, and tell the world to do its worst. Don't pretend. But smile and tell the world it needs you. It needs its every cheerful willing worker. It is a wide and fruitful world, and there is room for all and a place for each.—St. Paul News.

JURY DUTY MADE PLEASURE.

A burlesque dancer has been arrested in Chicago upon complaint of a minister of the gospel who says her dance is immoral. To prove that the dance is really refined and respectable (note the three r's) the young woman will repeat her performance before the jury. Her physical description is: Height, 5 feet, 4 inches; weight, 140; trimly built. The clothes she wears in the dance, so the complainant says, are very gaudy. Many patriotic male citizens are ready to serve upon that jury and we feel certain that every man will qualify.

When you look up to someone they don't of necessity look down on you.

It's funny what a lot of apparently intelligent people can't see things the way you do.

ONE MARRIED MAN WHOSE CUP RANNEETH OVER, WHAT!

A writer in London Tid-Bits says he has been married 32 years and in that time his wife has handed him 35,040 sups of coffee, or a supply 218 times his own weight.

These astounding statistics indicate that marriage is no trivial matter to be undertaken from frivolous and temporary motives.

Although he does not say so, it is fair to infer that in those 32 years he slammed the front door 46,207 times, shook the fire 15,320 times, wheeled the baby 4225 miles, forgot to wind the alarm clock 3720 times, said the biscuits were heavy 11,201 times, swore at the lawn mower 9063 times, kissed his mother-in-law 17 times and brought flowers to his wife 3 times.

He put on his stockings 11,680 times, or 23,360 stockings. If these stockings had been unraveled the yarn would reach around the world 16 times.

His wife gave him 1664 letters to post, so he saved $33.28 in postage, or over $1 a year.

He wouldn't let her buy baker's bread, insisting that if he made the dough she ought to make the bread.

He spent 3100 hours going to work and 9300 hours going home from work.

His wife said 489,237 times that he was the best man in the world—and his best chance is that providence may pretend to believe her.

Don't judge a woman by the clothes she doesn't wear.

Why Not Fix the Kitchen Up for Mother?

THE KITCHEN IS THE HOUSEWIFE'S PARLOR

The good housekeeper spends a large part of her time in her kitchen. Here she prepares the meals for her family and here she brings many of her other household duties. While she must have a reception room for her guests, there is no reason why she should not think of her own comfort; there is no reason why she should not have things cheerful for herself. If properly furnished it may serve for the breakfast room and the housewife may save her many hours of labor by serving other meals there. The members of the family will not object if the surroundings are pleasant.

Here are some economical suggestions for making the kitchen a pleasant place in which to spend part of the home life:

OAK KITCHEN CABINETS, WHITE ENAMEL INTERIOR WITH PORCELAIN TABLE.....$57.50

30-INCH KITCHEN STOOLS.....$2.00
