

ARCADE THEATER WEEKLY PROGRAM

Friday, Sept. 7—Agnes Ayers in "Racing Hearts," with Theodore Roberts and Richard Dix. Also a fast comedy.

Saturday, Sept. 8—"Ebb Tide," with Lila Lee, James Kirkwood, Raymond Hatton, George Fawcett, Noah Beery and Jacqueline Logan. A great sea story. And a comedy.

Sunday-Monday, Sept. 9-10—"Westbound Limited." A forest fire—two trains racing toward each other—a terrific duel to the death in the engine cab—and a crashing climax that will leave you spell-bound—that's this mighty photodrama of flesh and steel. And a comedy.

Tuesday, Sept. 11—"The Sin Flood." An all star cast with Helen Chadwick, Richard Dix, James Kirkwood, Ralph Lewis and others. And a comedy.

Wednesday, Sept. 12—"The Power Divine," with Mary Wynn, Jack Livingston and Al Ferguson. A powerful story of hate subdued by love. And comedy, "All at Sea."

Thursday, Sept. 13—"What Wives Want" with Ethel Grey Terry, Niles Welch, Ramsey Wallace, Margaret Landis and others. International News and Felix the Cat.

Friday, Sept. 14—"The Nth Commandment," with Coleen Moore, James Morrison and others. And a Snub Pollard comedy.

ETIQUETTE

The boy who tries to talk with his mouth full isn't any more disagreeable to listen to than the man who uses a mouthful of words to say nothing.

No person ever had so little to do that he couldn't find someone else with just as much time to keep him company.

What a dull and quiet old world this would be if no one overstepped the ten commandments.

How many men are there who would kiss a girl who chews tobacco?

The editor of the Congressional Record could improve his publication very materially by blue-penciling the contributions at least as much as a country editor does.

It takes a fool to point out a fool. We can all name a few.

There is a difference between being breezy and being filled with hot air.

In all the world there is but one today.

The man who shaves himself cuts the barber.

What the World Is Doing

(Popular Mechanics Magazine.)

Water Wall Protects Firemen

Ample protection is afforded the firemen of an eastern city with the adoption of an interesting type of fire-fighting equipment. The unit is mounted on a two-wheeled cart, so that it can be brought up quickly to be used against a fire at close range. The cart accommodates a fireman who sits in it, and is able to handle a powerful stream of water from a nozzle directly in front of him. A "gusher" pipe is mounted on the cart behind him, which sprays a curtain of water all around him, so that a "safety wall" of water protects him and serves simply to prevent blisters and burns. The nozzle proper is mounted in a ball socket, so that it can be swung in any direction with equal facility. It can be connected to four, and even six lines of hose, and throws a stream of water 125 feet into the air.

"Knock-Em-Dead" Rat Trap

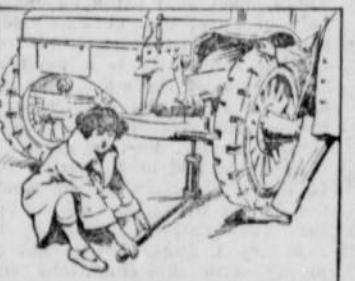

A mechanical rat killer with a heavy spring and a rotating double hammer which strikes the animal on the head and throws him from 5 to 8 feet, is the latest in traps. This device automatically resets itself for the next blow, and two safety catches prevent accidental discharge. The rat is thrown away at once and leaves no odor to scare away other rats. The trap is made in two sizes, one for rats and one for mice.

Bottled Fluid Can Lift Tons

Sinbad's giant flask has been outdone in real life by the invention of an expanding fluid easily carried in steel bottles by a child. The power may be released by a valve and used with jacks or other lifting devices to raise street cars, autos, and heavy weights. It is estimated that the power of the expanding fluid will raise 30,000 pounds in three seconds if properly applied.

A Simple Derrick for Farms

A handy and efficient derrick can be built in a short time from material found on nearly every farm. It consists of a discarded wagon tongue, pivoted on a fence post so as to revolve freely, and fitted with a simple winch for raising the load.

An iron pivot yoke is forged to the shape shown, or one may be built up of flat and round iron. A hole is drilled in the post top to accommodate the shank, an iron disk and a steel ball, taken from an old ball bearing, being set in the hole as shown, to make an easy-running bearing. The yoke straddles the tongue at its balancing point, a bolt being passed through a hole drilled in each. The winch consists of 3/4-in. pipe and fittings, and is arranged as indicated, the winch shaft passing through holes drilled through the ends of the "hounds." One end of a stout cable is securely fastened to the winch shaft, and the other end to an iron collar that is an easy fit around the bottom of the post. This collar is held in position by half collars above and below it, secured to the post. Hooks or clamps to suit the load are suspended from the outer end of the tongue. A rod, sliding through the ends of the hounds, near the winch shaft, as indicated, is pulled out to keep the crank from revolving when it is desired to swing the load. With this arrangement it is possible for one man to operate the derrick unassisted.

SOCIETY

Warren Ross McFarland, of Portland, and Miss Pauline O. Krieger, of Ridgefield, Wash., were married at the bride's home near Ridgefield Saturday, Sept. 1, Rev. Carlton D. Jones, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating. The ceremony was a simple one, with only immediate relatives present. A bountiful wedding supper was served and the young couple received a number of beautiful and useful gifts. After spending a week visiting relatives in Cottage Grove and Roseburg, they will be at home in Portland. The bridegroom is a former resident of this city and the son of W. W. McFarland, of Roseburg.

Mrs. H. W. Titus entertained the M. P. G. club Tuesday at the first meeting for the season. The day was the club's tenth anniversary and each member received a token from the hostess. A delicious luncheon was served, the club's color, yellow, being used in the color scheme. A business session was held at which Mrs. G. A. Proctor was elected president and Mrs. Elbert Smith secretary-treasurer. Miss Alice Titus, of Eugene, was a guest of the club.

Miss Eva Brockus, of Roseburg, who is well known here, was married there Sunday to Jack Davis. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Elledge.

Mrs. C. J. Kem entertained Tuesday afternoon of last week with a bridge party and luncheon in honor of Mrs. W. K. Slater, of Portland, who was a guest of her sister, Mrs. S. S. Lasswell.

KNOWLEDGE NOT ALWAYS POWER

A news item informs us that school teachers receive an average salary of less than $1000 a year for work that requires years of expensive preparation, while the most ignorant immigrant fresh from Europe commands more salary than that for shoveling dirt. An education is not always a paying financial investment.

There are any number of jobs around for the man who knows how.

The irrigation hours from now until further notice will be from 6 to 8 p. m. and at no other hours.

WATER COMMITTEE.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Fall clean-up week for the city will be September 17 to 22. All refuse put into boxes, barrels or sacks and placed on street (not on alley) where it can be easily loaded onto truck (not hidden in some inaccessible place) will be picked up at expense of the city.

Notice to Citizens

Those contemplating asking for street improvements during the coming year will make that fact known at once to Mayor Brund, chairman of the budget committee. No improvements can be made under present tax laws unless the money is provided in the budget. The budget for 1924, in accordance with law, must be made during this month. Any money to be used by the city during the coming year for street improvements must be included. s7c By order of City Council.

Tales of the Town

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bradley motored to Eugene on business yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willis, of Prineville, who had been here to attend the funeral of Cash and Clarence Willis, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Anna Petrie returned Saturday from a visit in Portland and Tualatin. She visited relatives and friends and attended the Cottage Grove picnic in Portland on August 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Sherwood and children, of Los Angeles, are spending the week at the home of Mr. Sherwood's mother, Mrs. B. F. Thresher.

Mrs. J. P. Jensen, of Chicago, on her way to California, is visiting a few days with Mrs. M. W. Connell and Mrs. D. O. Byrne.

While the hat remains such an all important part of a woman's dress, it would never do for a woman to "lose her head."

Today will be yesterday tomorrow. Have you accomplished anything yet?

ALL CAN QUALIFY
There is no place on this earth for the man who doesn't know how to run a newspaper.

George Washington never told a lie—they say. Well, they must be fibbing who say it.

Why will folks do things when they know better. That's a real conundrum.

A CHANCE TO LEARN
Why is it that highwaymen make a big haul whenever they hold up a gambling joint, while the police never find anything? The police might get a few pointers from the former.

A desire to be congenial and sociable keeps a lot of people from climbing to the top where it is so lonesome.

It seems that some of the "lame ducks" the papers talk about received mortal instead of minor wounds.

Knowledge may be power, but the uneducated hustler gathers in the shekels while the modest scholar has to stand off his grocer.

THOSE NAUGHTY EYES
It can't be that women wear the slashed skirt for the beauty of the thing, for the attention of those who look goes where the skirt isn't.

The pretty girl waits to take her pick—and the homely girl beats her to it.

Troubles never come singly, vicerates the father of triplets.

FOR RENT—2 HOUSEKEEPING rooms, closets, sleeping porch, electric light, hot and cold water. Suitable for two teachers or for man and wife. Small Columbia Graphophone for sale at half price. Call mornings or evenings at 1104 Washington avenue. snt7p

NO PLACE TO GO
There are a lot of black sheep who get into churches and lodges but we fail to understand how folks figure they show any greater discernment in their company by staying outside.

You'll have to work hard if you succeed and you'll have to work hard if you don't.

TOO MUCH FOR THEM
When three women get together they fill one another so chock full of secrets that they couldn't be expected to hold them.

PUT A FENCE AROUND IT
Senator Johnson says that eventually there will be but three nations. Naturally we suppose Hon. Hiram will be one of these.
