SOCIETY

Mrs. Earl Arthur extended gracious hospitality on Tuesday when she entertained the members of the bridge club at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Gray Goose ten room. Following the luncheon the guests were taken to Mrs. Arthur's home, where a most pleasant afternoon was spent in bridge. This was the first meeting of the club since the summer vacation.

The Past Matrons' club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. W. L. Darby Monday afternoon. All past matrons are invited and are requested to notify the hostess.

The first meeting of the Eastern Star lodge after the summer vacation will be held at the Masonic hall this evening. Refreshments will be served.

Pleasantly surprising the recent bride, Mrs. Cleo Morelock, a large number of her relatives dropped in at her home in the Omer apartments Friday afternoon. They showered her with pretty and useful gifts. The afternoon was spent socially. Dainty refreshments were served.

Springfield, Ore., Sept. 8.—Miss Dorris Sikes, whose marriage to Georg Bjorset, of Cottage Grove, is to be an event of this autumn, was the inspiration of a charming Friday afternoon affair last week given by Mrs. J. F. Ketels. The afternoon was spent in hemming tea towels for the bride-to-be. The rooms were decorated with bowls of yellow marigolds. Late in the afternoon the hostess served refreshments of raspberry sundaes and fruit punch. Invited guests, besides the guest of honor, were: Misses Carmen Harwood, Audrey Perkins, Thora and Ella Boeson, Maud and Anne Gorrie and Edna Duryee, all school friends of Miss Sikes.

Fay Allison, of this city, and Elsie Laurin Sagaberd, of Drain, were married in Eugene September 10 at the home of Justice of the Peace Jesse G. Wells, who officiated. They are now at home to their friends in the residence at the corner of eight street and Ash avenue which Mr. Allison had in readiness.

The Constellation club will hold its first meeting of the fall season Thursday afternoon of next week in the banquet room of the Masonic hall. Mrs. Andrew Brand, Mrs. A. W. Swanson and Mrs. G. M. Scott will act as hostesses.

Mrs. W. E. Lebow was hostess on Tuesday afternoon for the first meeting since the summer vacation of the LaComus club. Every member was present and at this meeting they drew names for their annual Christmas tree. Mrs. R. A. Jones was an invited guest. Delightful refreshments were served.

Miss Margaret Galloway was a gracious hostess to the members and sponsors of the Troujours Prete club at her home Wednesday evening. This is the girls' and young women's community club which was recently organized. The evening was spent pleasantly talking over plans for their winter work. Dainty refreshments were served. Most of the members and Mrs. Inna Beager, Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. G. A. Proctor and Miss Alice Evans, sponsors of the club, were present. Mrs. G. C. Dyott, the other sponsor, being called to Eugene, was unable to be present. The work that the club is planning to take up will start at their next meeting, Oct. 3, which will be held at the home of their president, Mrs. Fred Bennett.

Welcoming their school teachers, Miss Ethel Rogers and Miss Clara Milne, the Latham district gave a large bonfire party Friday evening. The evening was spent enjoyably playing games and in social conversation. Refreshments were served.

The Tuesday Evening club held its first meeting of the season this week in the library of the high school building with all members present. The topic of the meeting was the Slav people. The club is planning to make a contribution to the W. C. T. U children's farm home at Corvallis.

Silk Creek Society. One evening last week Mrs. R. S. Trask, of Cottage Grove, gave a bonfire supper at the M. F. Babcock home. The guests of honor were Mrs. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Oberg, of Minneapolis. Others present were the R. S. Trask family, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Babcock, the E. M. Babcock family, Mrs. E. M. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Darnell. The supper was bountiful and delicious and the fire bright and cheerful. Ice cream was served at the close of the meal. Supper ended, Mrs. Oberg, by special request, gave a reading, which was followed by several others. The company broke up about 10:30.

Mrs. A. G. Nelson gave a picnic dinner Sunday at the home of her father, P. Darnell, in honor of the ninth birthday anniversary of her son Clarence. The table was spread under the trees and the dinner was delicious. Games for the children, reading and singing were the diversions. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. Darnell, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Darnell and Letta, Deverne, Cecil and Norman Darnell, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Darnell, Mrs. A. G. Nelson and sons Clarence and Herbert, Clara Raitter, Oma Fowler, Beth, Alva and Donald Babcock, Mrs. H. W. Wheeler and little Eileen and Mrs. E. M. Wheeler.

The Presbyterian ladies' aid society met in the parlor of the church Wednesday afternoon. Twenty-seven members were present. A pleasant social afternoon was spent after a short business meeting. The hostesses were Mrs. E. R. Job, Mrs. J. M. Groves, Mrs. A. W. Swanson and Mrs. Fred Wright.

The ladies' aid society of the Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors for a business session and election of officers.

Sexton Says He Gained 25 Pounds Taking Tanlac

How Tanlac ended twenty-five years of stomach trouble, making a new man of him, was told recently by Leonard Sexton, pioneer farmer, of Milton, Oregon.

"After suffering twenty-five years from indigestion and trying nearly every remedy known without relief, Tanlac completely removed the trouble and made a new man of me. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for me. Before taking Tanlac everything I ate caused intense pains in my stomach, with gas and bloating. I always felt sluggish and tired, and never passed a comfortable day.

"Newspaper statements recommending Tanlac induced me to try it. Well, it took right hold of me, and it was astonishing how quickly it straightened out my stomach so I could eat anything I wanted without hurting me. I gained twenty-five pounds and felt like getting out and wrestling. Tanlac saved me from life-long suffering."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Premium Money Used to Purchase New Seed Number of Desirable Crops Introduced in Nebraska.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

By utilizing $40 of the premiums won by the previous year's agricultural exhibit at the state fair to purchase seeds of crops, vegetables, and melons on the premium list of the fair which were not grown in the county, Keith county, Neb., last year introduced a number of desirable crops into its farming system, according to a report to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The seed for each variety, including many kinds of corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, and other grain, seed, and forage crops, tame and native grasses, potatoes, onions, tomatoes, cabbage, squashes, pumpkins, melons, root crops, and miscellaneous field and garden crops, was divided into four parts and one part given free to a volunteer grower in each of four different sections of the county under condition that the seed be planted on good soil, well cultivated, and two samples of the best of each product furnished for exhibition at the state fair.

The plantings were carefully watched and cultivated under the supervision of the county agricultural extension agent. When the specimens were collected in the fall, over 450 exhibits representing more than twenty crops were sent by the county to the state fair and later were shown in the county fair. That farming in the county need not be confined to one crop was demonstrated by the excellent quality of the products exhibited which won in individual awards at the state fair over 100 first premiums, almost as many seconds, thirds, and fourths combined, and also by the fact that of the 450 exhibits of products, 387 were classed by the judges as good, 69 as medium, and none as poor.

A number of new crops, such as mfl, feterrita, orange cane, broom corn, Iowa oats, and Japanese millet, seem particularly well adapted to the local conditions and are being grown again this year, according to reports to the Department of Agriculture.

Easily Digested Feeds Are Suitable for Ducks

To be suitable for ducks, food must be soft and easily digestible, such as meals, grasses, vegetables, and small scraps of meat, because ducks do not have crops like fowls, and the food passes directly from the mouth through the gullet into the gizzard. If ducks are compelled to eat many whole grains or hard foods of any kind they will not be able to get the nourishment they require for rapid growth. Young ducklings especially must have soft and easily digested food, as they grow almost three times as fast as chicks, and if they fail to get the proper nourishment they will not grow as they should. If the fields over which they are allowed to wander have streams intersecting them, they will probably get enough green food on the range to satisfy their wants. Where the range is deficient in green food or where they cannot be allowed a great deal of freedom, ducks should be fed ample quantities of clover, alfalfa, fresh grass, and similar foods. These foods should always be run through a feed cutter and cut into very small pieces before being fed to the birds. In addition to this green food breeding ducks should be fed twice a day as much as they will eat of a mash consisting, by measure, of a mixture of 12 parts wheat bran, 4 parts of corn meal, 1 part of low grade wheat flour, and 1/4 part of fine grit, and 1 1/2 parts of meat scrap.

Handling of Parasites of European Corn Borer

More than 1,000,000 individuals of an important parasite of the European corn borer, Habrobracon brevicornis Wesm., have been successfully reared and liberated in the densely infested area in New England. It was believed by entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture that it might be worth while to attempt to introduce it into the badly infested areas of southern Ontario. Following a suggestion to this effect made to the Dominion entomologist, Arthur Gibson, authorization was recently given by the Canadian government for an assistant for this purpose. This entomologist recently visited the laboratory at Arlington, Mass., to receive instruction in the technique necessary for handling the parasite, which will shortly be reared and introduced into Canada.

Several other promising parasites of the corn borer have been received from France and are being reared at the Arlington laboratory. At least one additional species will soon be ready for liberation.

Panels in Mixed Car of Hogs Will Prevent Loss

Rather heavy losses are sometimes reported from the mixing of different lots of hogs in a car sent by local shipping associations. Strange hogs put together are very likely to fight and do much damage.

It pays, according to DeKalb County Adviser Tom Roberts, to put panels across the car to separate the different lots, says the Prairie Farmer. A few planks of rough, inexpensive lumber will serve the purpose. It takes only a few minutes' time to fix them, and it only one hog is saved it will more than pay the cost.
