What a COMFY HOUSE you live in!

"Comfy" and warm because of Pearl Oil! So easy and economical to keep even room-warmth all day with one match and a turn of the wick. No fuss or muss—no coal or ashes to lug. All day long a clear, bright flame that burns the oil completely, leaving the air sweet and clean.

To insure best results, use only Pearl Oil—the clean-burning, uniform kerosene—refined and re-refined by the Standard Oil Company's special process. "Coal oil" or "kerosene" may mean any kind of kerosene—say "PEARL OIL"—copyrighted for your protection.

What the World Is Doing

(Popular Mechanics Magazine.)

Human Hair Made Into Cloth Resists Heavy Pressure

Tons of human hair are being turned into cloth by a southern factory to supply the demand of cotton-seed oil mills of that section for a fabric that will withstand, for a time at least, a pressure of 4,000 to 4,500 pounds a square inch. Only that made from hair is strong enough. Formerly it was woven from camel's hair, but the price of that product went to such high levels as to prohibit its use. After a series of tests, a method was devised for weaving human hair in specially constructed machines. The search for a sufficient supply to keep the factory going ended in China, where buyers found a veritable army of coolies ready to sacrifice their long queues for American money. Bound in huge bales, the hair arrives at the factory ready for weaving, having already been inspected and sterilized on the way over from the Orient. Combed and carded, it is twisted into threads and fed into the looms, where it is woven into rolls of cloth 1 1/2 inch thick, the bolt weighing 400 pounds.

Mule, as Caddie, Carries Bags of Golfers

Because of lack of caddies, a mule is being used on one golf course in the South to carry the bags of the players.

One of the mule's advantages over the human caddie is the fact that he can carry as many bags as can be strapped on his back. Then, too, he works without tips or pay.

A weighing 20 1/2 carats, a diamond of rich brassy shade, has been found in an African mine. It is said to be the largest of its kind and is valued at 50,000 dollars.

Water Bike Aids Life Guards in Saving Drowning Persons

To aid life guards in rescue work, a floating frame supported in the water between two air tanks, enables them to reach danger points quickly. Half submerged, the rider drives a propeller by working pedals with his feet, traveling at greater speed than swimming would permit. The body of the victim may be easily thrown across the front of the tanks and carried to shore.

Auto Lights Under Fenders Remove Strong Glare

By having all of its rays strike directly on the road ahead, an automobile lamp attached by a single bolt to the underside of the front fender inside the wheel, does away with blinding glare of ordinary high-powered headlights that frequently annoy those driving at night. Its shaft of light, thrown for 300 feet, is low enough to avoid the eyes of approaching motorists and cyclists, and clearly shows the road from both directions, preventing many accidents and making dimming unnecessary. A bracket allows the level of the light to be raised or lowered with ease.

Mixing Feed for Hogs

The novel method of slopping hogs shown in the drawing has been found a great time and labor saver on an Iowa farm.

The iron tank shown in the foreground is placed at one end of the concrete watering trough, and can be filled with water from the pipe that supplies the trough. The tankage, shorts, or other ground feeds are mixed in the tank and enough water run in to make a thin slop. Then the valve indicated by the arrow is opened, and one of the troughs filled, whereupon the valve is closed again, the pipe swung over to the other trough, and this one filled. The valve and tank, and the inner ends of the troughs, are fenced in as shown, so that the hogs will not interfere with the filling operation.

Were you ever amused at the man who calls you into a corner to tell you something confidentially and then talks so loud that everyone within a block can hear?

THIS IS THE LAND.

The United States has only six per cent of the population of the world and only 7 per cent of the land, and yet produces:

Twenty per cent of the world's supply of gold.

Twenty-five per cent of the world's supply of wheat.

Forty per cent of the world's supply of iron and steel.

Forty per cent of the world's supply of lead.

Forty per cent of the world's supply of silver.

Fifty per cent of the world's supply of zinc.

Fifty-two per cent of the world's supply of coal.

Sixty per cent of the world's supply of cotton.

Sixty per cent of the world's supply of copper.

Sixty per cent of the world's supply of aluminum.

Sixty-six per cent of the world's supply of oil.

Seventy-five per cent of the world's supply of corn.

If some of the movie actors held all their weddings in a church they would get the reputation of being pretty regular attendants.
