SOCIETY

The S. T. S. club held their Christmas tree yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Victor Kenn. The rooms were most artistically decorated with holiday trimmings. A delightful dinner was served at 6:30 to members and their husbands. The holiday effect was carried out in the table decorations. Following the dinner the couples were taken to the new Victor Chambers home on north Ninth street, where the evening was most pleasantly spent enjoying music over the radio and in dancing. Invited guests of the club for the evening at the Chambers home were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hagen, Mr. and Mrs. Georg Bjorset and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Veatch.

The Constellation club held its annual Christmas tree Thursday of last week. About fifty members were present. Many beautiful gifts were exchanged. The main hall of the Masonic temple was used for the Christmas tree. The tree and the room were prettily decorated. Following the enjoyment of the tree the members were taken into the banquet room, where a delicious two-course luncheon was served. Invited guests of the club were Mrs. Smith, sister-in-law of Mrs. Elbert Bede, and Mrs. Ed Anderson, sister of Mrs. Nelson Durham. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. T. C. Wheeler, Mrs. W. E. Lebow, Mrs. Nelson Durham, Mrs. G. A. Proctor, Mrs. H. W. Titus and Mrs. Elbert Bede.

Mrs. E. J. Howe entertained a number of young people at dinner Saturday evening honoring and completely surprising her daughter Bertha, who arrived that evening from Eugene, where she is attending business college. The occasion was Miss Howe's birthday anniversary. A delightful dinner was served. Those to enjoy the affair were Miss Luella Hurley, Miss Agnes Galda-bini, Miss May Anderson, Miss Mabel Coons, Mrs. Myrtle King and Miss Viola Buford, the latter of Roseburg, who is also attending the Eugene business college and who had accompanied Miss Howe home to be her guest for the week end.

In honor of Mrs. C. F. Counts' birthday anniversary, a number of her relatives and friends gathered at her home Sunday forenoon. Upon Mrs. Counts' return from church, she was completely surprised to find a houseful of guests and a birthday dinner spread on the table. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cur-rin C. Cooley, Mrs. Littleton Las-sater and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mc-Daniel, of Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Foster and son Harold, of Lorain; Mrs. Lettie Good, of Pe-dery, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Counts and little daughter Geraldine, of this city.

Gay and cheery was the Christ-mas meeting of the Toujours Prete club held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. L. Stewart. A huge tree, artistically decorated, adorned one corner of the room. The evening was being pleasantly spent in social conversation when it was interrupted by the jingle of bells announcing the arrival of Santa Claus, who joined the club, gave candy to each member and distrib-uted gifts which had helped to adorn the tree. All the members of the club and all the sponsors except Mrs. Gaven C. Dyott were present. Dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. H. W. Titus was hostess for the members of the M. P. G. club Tuesday afternoon. The annual Christmas tree was held. The rooms were made extremely attractive with Christmas greens and holiday trim-mings, a huge tree adorning one corner of the room. A most deli-cious two-course luncheon was served. The Christmas effect was carried out in the artistic table de-corations, individual candles being used for place cards. No one but club members was present.

The members of the Past Mat-rons' club were guests of Mrs. T. C. Wheeler Monday at a 1 o'clock banquet served at Hotel Bartell. Following the banquet the annual Christmas tree was held in the ban-quet room of Masonic temple. Mrs. Lydia Stouffer, a charter member of the local chapter, organized in 1881, and one of the first matrons, was present.

Miss Virginia Bosley entertained a number of her friends Friday eve-ning at her home, the occasion be-ing her seventeenth birthday anni-versary. The evening was delight-fully spent in social conversation. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour. Many pretty and useful gifts were received by Miss Vir-ginia.

The Eastern Star chapter held its annual election of officers Friday evening. A Christmas pageant showing scenes depicting the birth of Christ was staged under the su-pervision of Mrs. O. W. Hays and Miss Mariette Hamant. Light re-freshments were served.

Mrs. A. W. Kins was hostess Tuesday to the LaComms club at a 1 o'clock luncheon. The rooms and the table were attractive with Christmas decorations. The club's Christmas tree was enjoyed. Mrs. W. F. Hart was an invited guest of the club.

The Rebekah 25 staff enjoyed a Christmas dinner at 6:30 Tuesday evening in I. O. O. F. hall. They held their Christmas tree following the dinner and enjoyed a visit from Santa Claus. A short program was also staged.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Houser cele-brated their sixteenth wedding an-niversary Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haney, of An-luf. It was also the ninth wed-ding anniversary of the Haney's.

The Tuesday Bridge club held their Christmas tree Monday after-noon at the home of Mrs. S. S. Lasswell. Only club members were present. A dainty luncheon was served.

The W. R. C. will hold their last regular meeting of the year Satur-day afternoon in their hall. A grab bag will be a feature of the enter-tainment.

Mrs. Harry Grube will entertain the members of the Social Twelve club this afternoon. The club will hold their annual Christmas tree.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hemenway entertained the Tillicum club last night at a covered dish supper. The annual Christmas tree was held.

The Methodist ladies' aid society met yesterday in the church parlors.

PACIFIC COAST TO SEE FAMOUS ENSIGN

Oldest American Steamship Flag in the Atlantic, to be Flown by Panama Pacific Line Ships

HOUSE flags are valued by shipping companies as sym-bols of business identity, and also for their sentimental associa-tions. Some of the house flags flown by the clipper ships in the days of '49 are now treasured in Eastern homes or museums as souvenirs of an American shipping era now passed. Flags of steamship lines have taken their place.

One of the most famous steam-ship house flags is that of the American Line, pictured here. It was first flown on the original steamers of that line when they be-gan operations between Philadelphia and Liverpool in 1871, and is the only house flag of an American steamship line that has been con-stantly in transatlantic service for more than half a century.

In a few weeks this famous en-sign of trade and travel will be seen in the Pacific, on the ships of the Panama Pacific Line, which in No- vember reopens a service between California ports and New York, by way of the Panama Canal, which was interrupted by the great war.

Three large ocean liners—the Man-churia, Kronland and Finland— have been assigned to the new ser-vice by the International Mercantile Marine Company, which operates the Panama Pacific Line, and also sev-eral transatlantic lines.

As the Manchuria has flown the American Line house flag in trans-atlantic passenger service since the war, it has been decided to adopt that flag for the Panama Pacific Line. Its roughly outlined blue spread eagle on a white ground, familiar to hosts of Atlantic travel-ers, will fly over all three of the line's passenger ships, and also over its freighters, the Montauk and Montana. All five ships are of American build, and are worthy of the honored flag they will bring into the Pacific.

The first sailing of the new ser-vice from San Francisco will be that of the Kronland November 5. The Finland will sail November 19, and the Manchuria December 10. First, second, intermediate and third class passengers will be carried, and all three ships have large freight capacity for California products.

mas tree will be an event of the afternoon.

THE CAR YOU WANT—Should be one which can be operated ECONOMICALLY! One that is EASILY MAINTAINED! One in which you can ride with the UTMOST COMFORT! Those features and many others are embodied in the

NEW 1924 STAR

THE BODIES of the standard touring and road-ster include many improvements. A new style of door has been added with flanges overlap-ping the door openings. This is the same con-struction used on the highest priced cars. Concealed door door hinges are another new feature. The body itself is of much heavier construction with all wood parts made of hardwood. The windshield has been changed slightly to improve the appearance and a better type of tail light added with the license plate holder attached. There are sockets on all the doors and curtain rods are provided which make it easy to open the doors with the curtains up. The sedan and coupe have their full share of bet-terments which will be equally appreciated. Aside from the chassis improvements which have been mentioned, the doors are equipped with nickel plated door handles with an inserted lock. There is a curtain on the rear back window of both closed models and the rear side windows of the sedan. A crank type window regulator is part of the equipment. There is a dome light on both cars with a switch, kick pads on doors and each side of eowl and the floor is snugly carpeted in back and is covered with a rubber mat in front. Both models are well upholstered with Turkish cushions having narrow pleats fully padded.
