Considering the improved appearance of the new Ford Touring Car, one would naturally expect a proportionate advance in price.

Larger scale production, however, has made it possible to incorporate in this new type touring car a number of decided improvements without increasing its cost to the purchaser. A comparison extending over a long period of years will reveal the fact that the present price is actually the lowest at which the five-passenger open car has ever been sold.

The Ford Touring Car stands today, as it always has, a most remarkable value in the motor car field.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Lane County. Ida Ritchie, Plaintiff, vs. William F. Ritchie, Defendant.

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to appear and answer the said cause of suit and complaint on or before the 27th day of December, 1923, the plaintiff will apply to the above named court for the relief demanded in her complaint, to-wit: for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and the defendant and holding said marriage contract for naught, upon the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment, and for such other and further relief as to the Court may seem meet, just and proper in said suit.

This summons is published pursuant to an order of Hon. G. F. Skipworth, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Lane County, made on the 13th day of November, 1923, directing said summons to be published once a week for six consecutive weeks in The Cottage Grove Sentinel, a newspaper published at Cottage Grove, Lane County, Oregon.

WEEKLY LETTER FROM STATE MARKET AGENT

How New Potato Law Is Working.

No stronger argument for standardization and shipping point inspection could be made than the following letter from the United States department of agriculture of California to R. L. Rieger of the same department in Portland: San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 5.—For the past several years Oregon potatoes have been considered the poorest potato and the riskiest "bet" of any stock used in the San Francisco market. Several years ago they were in fairly good demand until, through years of diminishing quality, they could not be used unless received on consignment. In the California Burbanks, from the San Joaquin river delta lands, have always commanded the highest prices here, but this year the Oregon Burbank is running them a close second. California stock, special packs, are bringing $2.00 per cwt., as top price, and the Oregon tuber "as is" is selling at $1.90 with a strong market and increasing demand, one that if the quality is maintained will surpass the demand of any other potato.

As a comparison of values and grading, the Washington and Idaho potatoes, which have always been in good demand here, are repacked upon arrival and put in first class condition. The highest prices realized on them, to the jobber, is $1.60 per cwt.

There is not a dealer who has not at some time or another, expressed enthusiasm regarding the Oregon quality this year.

J. C. HANSEN,
Assistant in Marketing.
State-federal shipping point inspection will soon be demanded by shippers and large growers generally on fruit, vegetables, potatoes, grain and other commodities. The demand is rapidly spreading over the states. It is a form of insurance; it guarantees standard products; it aids t. o. b. sales; it is the shippers' protection in state and federal courts and it guarantees the highest price.

One of Portland's large potato shippers recently asked inspection of a carload from the state market agent. The inspector found the stock was not up to the grade and he graded them as No. 2. The shipper then resorted to the car, culled out all that were not No. 1 and then shipped the car to San Francisco. He reports that he received a higher price for the sorted potatoes than he would have received for the whole car, saved considerable on freight charges and that the buyers wrote him to make them further shipments of the same quality.

Farmers' Marketing Program.
In the place of the usual farmers' week at the Oregon Agricultural college, there will be held an agricultural economic conference January 21 to 25, to take up and work out a comprehensive program of production and marketing. The best minds of the state will be present and it is hoped that a line of action may be determined that will help the farmers out of their present serious condition.
