MONEY PROMISED COUNTY FOR ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY

Commissioner Sharp Authority for Statement That Agreement Has Been Reached.

Sixty per cent of the cost of the Roosevelt highway between Florence and the Lincoln county line will be met by the bureau of public roads if the state highway commission will agree to cooperate, according to Emmett Sharp, Lane county commissioner, who said he received such a promise from C. H. Purcell, chief of the bureau for this district, while the commissioner was in Portland recently.

Members of the Lane county court have been anxious to complete the highway through the county and have the bond money for that purpose, but they have been unable to secure cooperation from the state in the way of advancing funds. A few days ago at a meeting of the highway commission an effort was made to arrange for the completion of this section of the road but the commission and forest service decided to complete the Coos and Curry county sections first, said Commissioner Sharp.

With the bureau of public roads furnishing 60 per cent of the cost the remaining 40 per cent of the cost would be borne equally by the state and Lane county. According to the way Commissioner Sharp understood Mr. Purcell's statement, the state would not have to put up its share of the money at once to insure the beginning of the project.

The paper on the wall had become very faded and looked very much the worse for wear, but in spite of all Mr. Cityman said to the land lord he refused to do anything to it. The house was small, but the owner assured his tenant that if he could not put up with the old paper he could soon find plenty of others who would be willing to do so.

At last one day Mr. Cityman said to his wife: "It's no use, Margaret. We shall have to put on some new paper at our own expense." "And take all the trouble to scrape the old stuff off?" "Certainly not. We'll put it on over the other."

Popped Corn.

Tell me not in mournful numbers Life is but an empty dream, For the guy is "nuts" that blabbers All about his swift machine. Life is real, life is earnest, And the grave is not its goal. But you'd think that any pest Knew enough to save his soul. Let us then be up and going, With a heart for any fate, Driving fast and never showing Signs to either stop or wait. Out upon the road or highway, Where the cars are wild and fast, Now regrets he used no caution For tomorrow sees his last. Life is real, life is earnest, But this boob he knew it not; Took one big chance and missed it; Now they're hunting for a lot. All is over but the plauting And the fool has met his own. Now we know there's no more guessing For he reaps what he has sown. C. S. F.

All on the Watch.

"A man, like a watch, is known by his works," observed the epigram maker. "And by the hours he keeps," added the wife. "And by the spring in him," said the athlete. "And by being fast sometimes," remarked the reformer. "And by the way his hands go up," put in the pugilist. "And by his not always going when we want him to," said the girl who'd been robbed of her sleep. "And by the case he has and the way he is run down," said the physician.—Hygeia Magazine.

Why Mr. N. Windsor (R. I.) Put Up with Rats for Years
