Let Your Back Yard Provide Fresh Vegetables All Summer

START as early as the ground will permit with radishes and lettuce. Then plant some peas and beans. Eight or ten days later plant some more radishes and lettuce so they will be coming along while you enjoy the first lot. Next, sow beets, carrots, turnips, onions, followed by the vine crops—squash, cucumber, melons. And don't forget early, medium and late varieties of delicious Sweet Corn. By a little planning you can have fresh vegetables all through the summer—and enough to cold pack some for winter.

All standard size vegetable packets:
