SUSPECTS EDITOR MAY BE WITNESS IN OIL SCANDAL

Whether or not the editor of The Sentinel has been subpoenaed in the oil scandal now raging at Washington, D. C., is the question asked by Mrs. Alice Jones, of Portland, in a letter to Mrs. Herbert Eakin.

She was led to ask the question, she said, because of the fact that nothing has been said about oil in recent issues of The Sentinel.

Nothing of that sort has happened, however, and oil drilling continues daily. The only scandal that can happen in connection with Cottage Grove oil is if we shouldn't strike it.

Pitney, of Junction City, a member of the election board there for 25 years, is among those who have been severed from their jobs because of their recall activity.
