SOCIETY

Miss Gladys Irene Hughes, formerly of this city, was married March 11, 1924, to J. Sawyer Bogart Jr. at Anchorage, Alaska. The couple are making their home at Seward, Alaska.

A double wedding was held April 7 in North Bend at the home of J. Irving Smith, father of one of the grooms, the couples being Thomas L. Smith, of that city, and Miss Clara Leum, formerly of this city, and Cyrus Leum, formerly of this city, and Miss Dorothy Coffelt, formerly of Portland. The ceremony was performed by Neil Barnes, pastor of the Methodist Baptist church. Mr. Leum and Mrs. Smith, brother and sister, had been residents of this city up to six months ago when they went to North Bend. Both couples plan to visit here and in Portland on their wedding trip but will make their home in North Bend.

Mrs. Frank Knox, Mrs. Herman Edwards and Mrs. W. A. Garoutte entertained the Constellation club last Thursday afternoon. A delicious two-course luncheon was served, the table being effectively decorated with daffodils. The club will meet next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. C. A. Bartell and Mrs. L. L. Harrel as hostesses.

The worth grand matron, Mrs. Stella Kellogg Drake, of Portland, will make her official visit tomorrow evening to the Eastern Star chapter. The play which was to have been given that evening has been postponed.

Mrs. Irl Groves was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening, when a group of relatives came in to help her observe her birthday anniversary. The guests brought her a beautiful rug.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eads observed their eighteenth wedding anniversary Friday evening, when a number of their relatives invaded their home, bringing covered dishes.

The Tuesday Evening Study club met this week at the home of Mrs. S. L. Mackin, with Mrs. Mackin and Mrs. George Matthews as leaders.

Mrs. W. H. Ostrander will entertain twenty young folks this evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Miss Helen.

The LaComus club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. W. Kime. The following officers were elected: Mrs. T. C. Wheeler, president; Mrs. W. E. Lebow, vice president; Mrs. W. W. McFarland, secretary and treasurer. At 6 o'clock the members and their husbands enjoyed the club's no-hostess dinner at the Gray Goose, which was followed by a theater party.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Lasswell entertained the H. D. S. club Friday evening. Five hundred was the diversion, high score going to Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Byrne. Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Suddell and Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. Delicious refreshments were served.

The Kensington club will hold its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon.

The ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon in the church parlor, with Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. George Matthews and Mrs. Roy Short as hostesses.

The women's relief corps will hold their regular quarterly dinner Saturday.

A surprise farewell party was given last Thursday evening for Miss Virginia Bosley, who is soon to leave for California. The unexpected guests brought dainty refreshments.

The Jolly Neighbors met Monday afternoon with Mrs. H. W. Titus. The hours were pleasantly spent at fancy work and social conversation. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. C. A. Hood, of Portland, mother of Mrs. Titus, was an additional guest.

The Mothers' club met in the rest room and tied a quilt for a needy family. The material was furnished by the county.

Miss Bertha Cox, of this city, and William Vincent, of North Bend, were married Saturday in Eugene, Judge C. P. Barnard officiating. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. L. Cox. She had been employed for a number of years at the Fair store here, and resigned her position only a few days prior to the wedding. The couple are visiting with relatives in Elmira and Springfield. They are expected here shortly. They will make their home in North Bend.

The Joker club met last Friday evening at the home of Miss Lula Curran. Mrs. H. H. Veatch was to have been a hostess but was called to Corvallis on account of the fatal illness of her sister, Miss Mary Buchanan. Invited guests were Mrs. Stouffer, Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. Stetzel, Mrs. Graham, Miss Lay, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Carrie Hemenway, Mrs. George Knowles and Mrs. Merryman.

The Social Twelve will meet this afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Chambers.

Miss Ermine Violette entertained the Tonjours Prete club Wednesday evening of last week at its regular meeting, each member being cleverly dressed to represent the title of a book. The costumes furnished fun during the fore part of evening. Mrs. C. O. Cruson gave an interesting talk on "The Care of the House." The remainder of the evening was spent socially and a dainty two-course luncheon was served.

Honoring Mrs. Ivan Barker, a recent bride, Mrs. Mary Green, of Anlauf, was hostess at a charming affair held last Thursday afternoon at the Valley farm, Anlauf, Mrs. Barker's former home. Only Circumstantial.
Following a dinner of savants, a professor of psychology thought he would test a colored cloak-attendant as to his memory. Though the professor pretended to have mislaid his book, the boy without hesitation handed him the right hat.
"How did you know this one was mine?" asked the learned man.
"Ah don' know dat, suh."
"Then why do you give it to me?"
"Cause you give it to me when you come in, suh."—The Forecast.

Signs of the Trade.
"I am 'eady to deliver, sir," reported the prosperous bootlegger's assistant as he rolled around in the delivery limousine one morning. "I am to make the rounds of all the houses with blue cards in the windows, you say?"
"Yes," directed Mr. Boozenshine.
"But—ah—wait. Not all of them. You need not leave anything at any of the houses with crepe on the door."—The Forecast.

Ice Cold Water Will Decrease Milk Flow

Good for Cooling Product, but Retards Production.

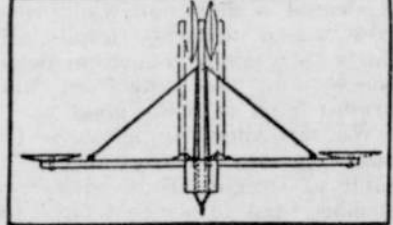

"Ice water is excellent for cooling milk, but it is no good for producing it," says E. J. Perry, dairy specialist at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture.

"A cow producing 40 pounds of milk per day requires approximately 120 pounds of water, and will drop off several pounds in production if compelled to drink ice water. The effect upon digestion and milk secretion is always detrimental.

"For a few dollars an oil tank heater can be purchased at most hardware stores. Such a heater when correctly used will keep water at a proper temperature, so that the cows will drink a sufficient amount to enable them to make milk to the limit of their ability, assuming that the grain and roughage are sufficient in quantity and quality. It is well for the temperature of the water to run from 50 to 60 degrees. A producing herd should be watered twice each day. It is difficult for a heavy-milking cow to drink enough water at one time to take proper care of her daily milk and maintenance requirements. This is especially true in winter. Milk is 87 per cent water and frequency in drinking best insures heavy consumption in dairy cows.

"Today the individual drinking cups found in many up-to-date dairy barns greatly simplify the problem of watering. These, by enabling cows to drink small quantities of water frequently, make the warming of the water unnecessary. No part of the dairy barn equipment yields bigger returns on the cost price than properly installed drinking cups."

Scarecrow Invented to Keep Birds From Fields

Top Plan View of the Device.

The Scientific American in illustrating and describing a scarecrow, the invention of C. A. Davis of Los Angeles, Cal., says:

Among the objects of the invention is to provide a scarecrow with movable arms which can be operated from a distance. A further object is to provide a scarecrow embodying a support and a pair of movable arms operating cymbals to sound an alarm, and frighten away birds in fields, gardens and other places.

Advance in Farm Wages Was Noted During Year

Farmers were required to pay higher wages to male farm labor during 1923 than in the two preceding years, the United States Department of Agriculture reports. The average rate per month with board in 1923 was $38.18, in 1922 it was $29.17, and in 1914 the rate was $21.05. The average monthly rate without board in 1923 was $46.61, in 1922 it was $41.79, and in 1914 the rate was $29.88.

Day wages for harvest labor, with board averaged $2.45 in 1923, as compared with $2.20 in 1922 and with $1.55 in 1914. For farm labor other than at harvest time the rate per day with board was $1.98 in 1923, as compared with $1.65 in 1922, and with $1.18 in 1914.

The peak year in wages of farm labor in recent years was 1920, the department points out. The deflation of general prices then began and farm wage rates continued to decline until the fall of 1922, when an upward trend developed.

Breeding Cattle Should Have Strong Qualities

Since breeding cattle are kept either to produce feeder steers and fat steers, or to produce other breeding stock for that purpose, they must have the same good qualities needed in feeder and fat stock. Like produces like. Good wheat must be sown to get good wheat. Bulls that would not make good steers themselves cannot sire market topers. Herd sires should have all the width and thickness of loin, back and hind quarters, and all the quality of skin and hair of the fat steer, and all the constitution, capacity, beef temperament, and fattening ability of the ideal feeder. The herd sire should not only be pure bred and a good specimen of his breed, but should be masculine, vigorous and of strong constitution. Cows should show refinement and femininity as well as size and vigor.—Charles I. Bray, Colorado Agriculture college.

Give Cattle Opportunity for Exercising in Open

On calm, clear days the cattle, particularly those near calving time, should be given the opportunity to exercise in the open. An excuse, too, should be found for hitching up the team and working them at least slightly two or three times a week. The grain feed for the horses can be reduced by half or two-thirds until the first of March.
