First National Bank, Cottage Grove, Ore. ELBERT BEDE Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of April, 1924. (seal) Homer Galloway, Notary public for Oregon. WEEKLY LETTER FROM STATE MARKET AGENT 'You fellows don't make any money. You don't buy anything from me except overalls for your selves and mother hubbards for your wives. You don't buy any furniture except the cheapest. You don't buy kitchen utensils except tinware. The only way I can make any money is by buying up mortgages on your farms and foreclosing on you, but I don't want to make money that way. I want to make money as a square merchant and I can't do it unless you fellows are making it.' This was the opening talk at a big cooperative meeting in California by one of the big merchants of Fresno, and then he told the growers if they would organize right and dig in to help themselves, he would put every dollar he had in the world behind them. The interests of the farmer, merchant, banker, lawyer, teacher and worker are closely allied. When the producers are prosperous the other interests are certain to be. Oregon needs business men like this Fresno department store proprietor to walk into the cooperative movement and help put it across. If all the cattle in Oregon were marketed through one big cooperative selling association, the stockmen would be placed on an even basis with the packers in the fixing of prices. This plan has been worked out with wonderful success in some of the middle west states and the official reports are on file in the state market agent's office. These stock growers operate through their own stockyards. They control the stock all the way through. The Portland chamber of commerce has reversed its first decision and is now strongly backing the wheat export bill before congress and will send representatives to Washington to work for the law. At the recent Portland meeting of the chamber with the wheat growers of eastern Oregon the bankers stated that many wheat growers have turned their ranches over to the mortgage companies, that they are going deeper and deeper into debt and that unless some measure like the export bill gives them speedy relief they will leave the farms in great numbers this summer and fall. Minnesota is showing the nation what cooperation can do. The state is leading all other states in the movement because those who understand agriculture are directing it. In its cooperative dairy work Minnesota is getting 12 cents per pound more for its butter fat than Nebraska and 8 cents more than Wisconsin, North Dakota, South Dakota and Iowa. Of farm products it markets almost half the entire state's production and in livestock one-half the shipping is handled through cooperative associations. Of 20,000 cars of livestock handled the average cost was a trifle more than $8 and the net average profit more than $4, against a handling cost of $16 through commission men and a loss of $4—the difference between success and failure. What Minnesota is doing and has done Oregon can do when the cattle men, fruit men, dairy men and others will come to the one way of thinking, unite solidly and put those at the head who know the work. The leaders of the cooperative work in Minnesota state that united action of farmers is the biggest factor to save the industry of anything so far suggested—that the farmers must save themselves.

SPANISH FORTUNE SUCKER LETTERS CONTINUE COMING

There must yet be suckers who bite on the Spanish fortune letters, for they continue to arrive regularly. Several are received here every year and probably as many are received in other cities. One was received recently addressed to Wallace C. Sanford, jeweler. Mr. Sanford died here in 1910 and the letter was received by the widow, Mrs. Pet Sanford. The letters are all worded much the same, telling of some poor fellow who has been imprisoned in Spain but who has a fortune awaiting him immediately upon his release, such fortune to be divided with the person who will finance the expense of getting him out of jail. The letter addressed to Mr. Sanford was printed in imitation of longhand writing. Evidently they are sent out in such quantities that the expense of writing them out in longhand is too great. By a coincidence the letter addressed to Mr. Sanford used the name of Sanford in the address in Spain to which a cablegram was to be sent.

THE CIRCUIT RIDER.

By Mary Carolyn Davies. God tramps on through the scouring rains, God vaults into the saddle, Rides alone past the dusty plains, God's back bends to the needle—Cedar branches and sunlight through And on, still on, speeds the lone canoe!

God rides out on his ancient quest; Healing, saving, commanding; Here in the savage, unknown west, Settlement, cabin, landing—Well they know the steady beat, In the stillness of God's horse's feet.

God leads to grace the pioneers Who walk each hour with danger! Knows these grim men for his peers; Gives his bread to the stranger—Doing all that a neighbor can God rides still, a weary man. God rides out! And founds three states; Their scourger, their defender; Guides their loves and tones their hatoas, Leads them into splendor. God—in the Circuit Rider's breast—Once more, God built a world—Our West.
