Mrs. Brown Said—

"That Faultless Bread of yours is just as good as any I ever made myself. Even mother never made any better."

Her name wasn't Brown, but she did say what we have said she said.

Another woman said: "Faultless Bread is as good as any bakery bread I have ever eaten and far better than most of it."

These are but two of many similar things that have been said about Faultless Bread that are as good as anything we should think of saying about it ourselves.

But here are two or three facts that our customers can not be expected to know:

The price paid for each loaf of bread helps to keep a payroll in the city that supports several families. That payroll and that number of people compare with a sawmill payroll and the population supported by a sawmill in about the same proportion that a loaf of bread compares with a carload of lumber—but a large number of little industries like ours are equal to a sawmill, and every citizen would heartily welcome another mill.

The small industries of Cottage Grove are equal to a sawmill. Your support of them keeps in Cottage Grove a payroll equal to that of a sawmill.

Every nickel you spend for some article made outside of Cottage Grove—that is made just as well in Cottage Grove—is that much less support for a large payroll.

We ask that every nickel spent for bread or bakery products in Cottage Grove be spent for bread or bakery products made in Cottage Grove.

We make this appeal with the understanding that you are to be the judge whether what you get is just as good as that made elsewhere. If you are satisfied with our products—if you wish to do a part in maintaining one of the small industries which help to make up the big payroll of many small industries, insist upon getting Faultless Bread and Faultless products.

Do not say, "The little I buy makes no difference." The little that you buy, added to the little that a large number of others buy, may make a big difference in the support of a local industry that spreads its money around home where you have another chance at it.
