GOOD WORK IS BEING DONE ON ROW RIVER ROAD

Road Supervisor Wright Explains Method of Laying Water Bound Macadam.

The work of macadamizing the new work on the Row river road over Knox hill and east of the hill in charge of Supervisor John Wright, is progressing and a good job is being done. Mr. Wright is doing maintenance work at the same time upon the macadam built last year and when the macadamizing of the new work is complete this road from Knox hill to Curran hill will be as fine a piece of macadam as there is to be found in the county. Work the whole length of this road will be in progress during the summer, with Mr. Wright in charge.

The editor was taken out by Mr. Wright to view the work and the method being employed was explained. The new grade is first thoroughly rolled. The base course is then spread and wet and rolled as spread and should have a depth of something like eight inches. The finishing course is then spread and this is thoroughly rolled before any water is allowed to touch it. Mr. Wright explained that when the second course is wet as spread the result is that it binds without filtering down into the larger rock. If thoroughly rolled first, the fine rock gets down into the coarse rock and when the water is applied the whole is cemented into an almost solid mass and the chance for chuck holes is greatly lessened, while wetting the finishing course as it is spread is to invite chuck holes.

Mr. Wright has been building roads for many years, during which time many improvements have been made in construction methods. The thorough rolling of the finishing course of a water-bound macadam before the water is applied is one of these improvements. A portion of the road built last year stood the traffic remarkably well. On another portion many chuck holes have appeared. Mr. Wright explained that this was because he did not get exactly the right "seal" on that portion, but the maintenance work now being done will put it in as good condition as the other. Fine rock is being "fed" into the chuck holes and kept moist while the traffic works it in. The new rock soon becomes thoroughly bound to the old that it would be difficult to tell where the repairs were made. Mr. Wright explained that this maintenance work would have been kept up during the winter except for the fact that he had no fine rock left to do it with.

PROPOSED SCHOOL BUILDING UP WEEK FROM TODAY

The special school election for the consideration of the issuance of bonds for the erection of the proposed new grade school building will be held Thursday afternoon of next week. The polls in the high school auditorium will be open from 2 to 7.

A fine display of what the school board proposes has been made in one of the Humphrey & Mackin windows. A diagram has been made of the school grounds, showing where it is proposed to locate the new building and what kind of a building is proposed. Computations have also been made of the cost to the individual taxpayer. The display required considerable work in its preparation and is well worth study by taxpayers of the district.

EUGENE MOTORCYCLE CLUB HILL CLIMB HERE SUNDAY

The Eugene motorcycle club will hold its annual hill climb here Sunday on Mount David, with entries from over the state. The competitive program begins at 2 p. m. The club plans to conduct an ice cream and soft drink stand on the grounds, the proceeds to go to those participating in the contest.

LATE ADVERTISING COPY IS CAUSE OF DELAY OF ISSUE

The Sentinel regrets that because of the large amount of advertising copy received at the eleventh hour, it was impossible to get this week's issue into the mails Thursday morning. The Sentinel's typesetting machine was kept going all night Tuesday night, but even this unusual effort to publish on time was unavailing in handling the large amount of last-minute advertising copy.

However, none of this great amount of advertising was of a political nature, and no editorial opinion has been expressed that has not been before expressed several times, so that those who are going to ascribe some ulterior political motive in the tardiness of the publication are doomed to bitter disappointment. What The Sentinel has to say it always says in season. It sets a good example to those who dare not give opportunity for reply and who purposely wait until the eleventh hour to address a message to the voters. The Sentinel does not play the game that way.

TIME FOR COUNTRONES TO TAKE OVER CARE OF GRAVES IS W. R. C. BELIEF

It is time has arrived for members of the younger generation and their relatives to take up the work of caring for the graves of old soldiers, in the opinion of members of the woman's relief corps, which organization has for years carried on the work. Many members of the corps are now past 70 years of age and some are past 75. Despite this fact, they will go to the cemetery today to do what work they can in preparation for Decoration day. There are some 40 graves to be cared for and members of the corps will be able to look after only the graves of those who have no relatives living here.

Members of the corps report that relatives of old soldiers are in many cases paying no attention whatever to such graves and that before long the graves will receive no attention unless some organization such as the auxiliary to the American Legion takes up the work.

Spanish-American war veterans, who recently formed a local organization, have appointed a committee to cooperate with relatives in the care of graves of their comrades who are buried here.

IRA DERN TO MEET RALPH HAND HERE MAY 20

Airplane Spin Specialist Has Recently Wrestled Two Draws With Champ Edwards.

Ralph Hand, local middleweight wrestler, has arranged a match with Ira Dern, the light heavy, to be held here Tuesday, May 20. Few local fans have ever seen the Salt Lake airplane spin specialist in action and they are anticipating one of the fastest matches ever seen here when he goes up against the Cottage Grove toothed artist.

Dern has recently wrestled Champion Edwards to two draws. Hand made a good showing against Edwards when he was here and the champion never before was as careful with his toes as he was upon that occasion.

Hand has had some experience with the airplane spin, although he is somewhat too light to put any great dependence upon it for his own use. Mike Yokel used it upon Hand when the two met here a few weeks ago. Mike won one fall with it but when he tried it a second time the two went through the ropes into the laps of the spectators. Hand finally won the match with his toothed.

Daniel Harding Dies

Salem Statesman: A telegram from Fullerton, Calif., announces the death of May 8 of Daniel W. Harding, a member of a prominent Marion county pioneer family, his death resulting from a stroke of paralysis.

The father of Mr. Harding, the late Ben F. Harding, and his brother, Jenkins Harding, were numbered among the pioneer settlers and farmers of the French Prairie district, west of Gervais. B. F. Harding served one term in the United States senate from Oregon and was the second Oregon territorial secretary of state.

About 38 years ago he disposed of his Marion county farm interests on French Prairie and with his son, Daniel went to Cottage Grove, where they invested in a 2000-acre farm and engaged in stock raising and general farming for many years, up to the time of the death of the elder Harding in June, 1899. The following year the son Daniel went to Los Angeles and later to Fullerton, Calif., to live.

Daniel W. Harding was born at Fairfield, Marion county, Ore., May 13, 1860, and was 64 years of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his widow, Hannah Harding, of Fullerton, and a daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. R. C. Barfield, of Salem.

Mr. Harding was a member of the Masonic order and the funeral service and interment were conducted at Fullerton May 10.

Auxiliary to Sell Poppies

The auxiliary of the American Legion has received 500 imitation poppies made by disabled veterans in the Portland Veterans' hospital, which will be sold for Decoration day boutonnieres, the entire proceeds to go for the relief of the veterans who made them. Since the world war the poppy has become recognized as the proper flower to be worn on Memorial day. The auxiliary is planning to devote the entire day Saturday, May 24, to the selling of these flowers and will appreciate the cooperation of citizens generally in their sale.

Baptists to Build Church

The Baptist church has bought the lot at the southeast corner of Fifth street and Jefferson avenue and will build a new church there in the near future. The lot is 90 by 95 feet and was purchased from E. C. Spray. The present residence building on the lot will be removed when work on the new church is begun.

Recital by Mrs. Sutcliffe's Pupils. Piano pupils of Mrs. Bessie Lewis Sutcliffe will appear in a recital tomorrow evening to be held in the high school auditorium. They will be assisted by Mrs. Arsh Hoyt Kem, of Eugene, and Mrs. Victor Kem, vocalists.

BOOSTER PAMPHLET TELLS OF NEED OF BRIDGE

Ferry at Harrisburg Is Antiquated; Traffic Is Delayed and Life Has Been Sacrificed.

"A little bridge talk, being about the highway crossing at Harrisburg," is the title of a pamphlet being distributed by the citizens of Junction City in behalf of the proposed Harrisburg bridge, bonds for the construction of which will be voted at the primary election May 16.

"This project is endorsed by the Eugene, Junction City and Springfield chambers of commerce, both Eugene dailies and the newspapers of Springfield, Crosswell, Cottage Grove and Junction City," the pamphlet states, and offers the further information:

"The state of Oregon wants the bridge built now. It is no longer a community project, although Harrisburg has asked for a bridge for years. It isn't altogether a Linn county or a Lane county project, but even greater than this it is vital to all Oregon and that is why the state has the funds ready and has promised to pay one-third of the cost. Linn county has voted the bonds to pay one-third and Lane county will vote a two-mill tax on May 16 to pay its one-third. This bridge is on Pacific highway and the paving is built to it, without a break from the Canadian line to Harrisburg.

"A slow ferry handles the traffic now and often the wait is long and tiresome. More than 50 cars have stood in line time and again waiting their turn to cross. Oregon has received many a slap from the visiting tourist because of this. Even the people of our own state have wondered who is to blame.

"This ferry is the scene of many near accidents. Convoyances of various kinds have plunged into the river here and even death has been brought to innocent ones. Dozens of autos have been damaged in collisions on the ferry itself and often people drive far out of their way to avoid the congestion or the danger. The state highway commission is urging the speedy construction of this bridge. The plans are complete and up to the bidders with May 29 set as the date when the bids will be opened. Yet if Lane county fails to vote the two-mill tax the ferry will be left to continue its worry to all who pass this way."

PLANS FOR CELEBRATION ARE COMPLETED BY LEGION

Plans for the greatest Fourth of July celebration which the city has ever had were made at the American Legion meeting Tuesday night. This organization will have charge of the event. There will be the usual sunrise salute, the usual forenoon parade with prizes, a speaking and musical program, the usual small sports, a baseball game and other events not before found on a Fourth of July program here. It is probable that a wrestling match will be arranged for the evening of July 3, with Ralph Hand, local middleweight, as one of the participants.

1924 VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTATORIAN ARE CHOSEN

Miss Helen Breedlove has been chosen valedictorian and Miss Donna Nichols salutatorian of this year's graduating class on account of their high grades. Miss Breedlove received 27 A and 5 B semester averages and Miss Nichols 18 A and 14 B semester averages during their four years.

O. P. & E. SPEEDER LEAVES ITS DRIVER AND NEARLY INJURES SCHOOL CHILDREN

A runaway speeder on the Oregon Pacific & Eastern railway missed by a few moments the killing or maiming of several children who were on their way home from school Tuesday and somewhat damaged the coach of the work train with which it collided.

Leo Johnson was handling the speeder and when it ran into an open switch near Star he was left reclining somewhat uncomfortably between the rails, while the speeder continued on its way for five miles, coming to a stop when it struck the work train. Several children had just passed through a covered bridge on the railway and left the track when the runaway came along. They could not have escaped had they been inside the bridge.

Mr. Johnson attempted to catch the runaway, but his former experience as a university track man had not given him the necessary speed for that kind of a race. He endeavored to get into condition for the possibility of the recurrence of such an incident by "hoofing" his way into the city, a distance of some 15 miles or more.

BEAR MISTAKES ACTION OF MEN; WANTS TO PLAY BUT MEN TAKE TO WATER

London, May 12.—(Special).—An unusual experience with a bear was reported by Mr. and Mrs. Emery Ross, of Harrisburg, who, with their son and daughter, Lee and Ruby, spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ross' sister, Mrs. Charles Powell.

Lee and an uncle, while camping at Lakeside recently, ran a bear into the lake. Thinking they could capture the bear by knocking it in the head, they got into a boat and gave chase. They reached the bear and swatted it on the head, but the bear mistook the blow for an attempt to play with it, so he got into the boat for the purpose of being sociable and making the play less one-sided. The men feared that Mr. Bear might get too rough and they took the bear's place in the water. Both men and the bear got away.

O. C. OUMPAUGH LOOKS FOR WIFE WHOM HE DID NOT KNOW HE POSSESSED

Friends of O. C. Oumpaugh are having considerable fun at his expense as the result of a news item which announced his return to Cottage Grove and stated that his wife would arrive within a week or two. Mr. Oumpaugh has been so much interested in the anticipated arrival of Mrs. Oumpaugh as any one else, for it seems that he has not yet met her, or at least does not know her by that name. He wishes to be informed immediately upon her arrival and to be favored with a formal introduction.

Mr. Oumpaugh admits that he wishes there were a Mrs. Oumpaugh and he feels quite certain that only his bashfulness has prevented there being one. He is hopeful that last year will not pass into history without some interesting developments along that line.

ROOM FOR A FEW BRIGHT RECRUITS IN D COMPANY

Company D, 18th infantry, has 15 vacancies to fill to bring it up to full strength. The vacancies are brought about by the fact that a number who are now members are unable to go to annual encampment, which will be held this year at Del Monte, Calif. Those who join now will have the opportunity to make the trip. Only clean, active young men—young men who are likely to be benefited by military training—will be accepted. It must also be their intention to remain with the organization, although discharges are usually issued for legitimate reasons.

Cottage Grove military organizations have always had the reputation of being among the best in the state and only those are wanted who are likely to aid in maintaining that kind of a reputation for the company as a whole.

Earliest Strawberries Are Picked on May 2 by Mrs. James Plaster

The annual contest for earliest berries is on. Mrs. James Plaster was the first to report strawberries. On Friday, May 9, she picked enough strawberries for her own table, but had picked some on May 2. She had a second picking for Sunday dinner. Hardly had she reported before J. Q. Willits reported having picked a mess on May 8 and a second mess on May 12.

When precociousness of gardens is being considered, the Cottage Grove country will contest with any section of the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette.

Sweet Peas in Blossom

Thornton Corners, May 12.—Mrs. Alfred Beidler has the first sweet pea blooms of the season, at least in this vicinity, and probably they are ahead of any elsewhere. The vines are several feet high and are well covered with the fragrant pink and white blossoms.

University High Here Tomorrow

The University high school, Eugene, will be here tomorrow afternoon to meet the local high school baseball team. A hard game is anticipated by the local fans. The locals were defeated Saturday by the Henderson high school, Eugene.

Mothers' Day Observed

Sermons appropriate to Mothers' day were preached Sunday in all the churches. Many residents wore the red and white flowers in memory of mother, the red indicating that she yet lived and the white that she was no more.

"MY PLATFORM"

(Tune: "Little Nellie Roney.")
Key of E. Sharp
I'll go into the courthouse and I'll clean up, fore and aft;
I'll startle you taxpayers by exposing all the graft;
I'll fire the superintendent of the roads and bridges, too,
For I tell you, honest, people there's no work for them to do.
As commissioner I'll do their work—just you leave that to me;
I'll afford me untold pleasure, and how happy we will be.
Money! Why, good Lord, they've robbed you; waste and graft is everywhere.
I'll step in, turn off the spigot, and we'll have some coin to spare.
I'll build roads and bridges for you cheap—they'll hardly cost a cent.
Gosh, you say you don't quite get me? I'll save thousands just on rent;
I'll save thousands that will save on money by the wagonloads;
I'll let contracts that will save on money by the wagonloads;
I'll employ as helpers only those who on the job will fit,
And I'll wear a million suckers from that luscious county tit.
I will sure reduce your taxes for I know just where I stand—
I will be a revelation when I wave my magic wand.
For the grafters sure will settle; I'll make them eat humble pie;
I'll do everything to please you, I, oh I, oh I, oh I.

FIRE ENDANGERS OLD HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

No Repairs Will Be Made As Abandonment of the Structure Had Been Planned.

The old frame high school building was damaged by fire Monday afternoon to the extent of several hundred dollars. Apparently the flames started in the attic and spread to the roof, probably starting from a defective flue, although there was a mild electric storm at the time and it was reported that lightning had been seen to strike the bell in the belfry.

The building was abandoned a number of years ago but has been pressed into service during recent years for overflow classes. The east side sixth grade was in session when the flames were discovered but within a minute the pupils were outside the building.

The flames were extinguished by the fire department within a short time but some damage was done by water.

This building is to be torn down in the event that the bond issue now before the taxpayers is acted upon favorably.

The damage to the building is such that classes can no longer be held in it. As the school year is so near at an end, with the eighth graders already taking their examinations, no attempt will be made to make any repairs. The classes which meet there will be accommodated by some makeshift arrangement.

CHERRY BLOSSOM SEASON IN JAPAN IS DESCRIBED

The observation of cherry blossom season in Japan must be something like the rose festival in Oregon, only many times more so, according to a letter from Mrs. Harvey Madden, of Tokyo, to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hemenway. Following are quotations from her letter:

"We are back from Osaka, Koto and Kobe without being smashed, crushed or otherwise injured, except in pocketbook. In your wildest imagining you could never guess how many Japanese there are going to the same place you are in cherry blossom season. We saw the most gorgeous temples, in one of which the boards of the floor had either been laid so that when walked upon they chirp like a bird or have grown that way with the passage of time."

The shortage in pocketbook to which Mrs. Madden refers is explained by the fact that Mr. Madden bought her two cloisonne boxes of genuine Japanese manufacture of such delicate beauty that they cannot be described in words.

Mrs. Madden sent a copy of the program of the festivities. It is printed in Japanese and because of lack of time to make translations it will be impossible to quote from it.

Koyle Cup Often Won Here

The Koyle cup, awarded each year at the University of Oregon for the best all around student in the junior class, which went this year to Don Woodward, of Portland, was three times awarded to Cottage Grove men. In 1914 it went to Herbert W. Lombard, now a resident here; in 1919 it went to Herald White and in 1923 to Ralph Spearow.

Sermons appropriate to Mothers' day were preached Sunday in all the churches. Many residents wore the red and white flowers in memory of mother, the red indicating that she yet lived and the white that she was no more.

GRANDMOTHERS AT FORTY IS NOTHING UNUSUAL IN THIS FAVORED OF CLIMES

In the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette folks not only live to a ripe old age but they are still young when they become grandparents. It is no unusual thing for residents here to become grandmothers in their early 40's.

Mrs. C. A. Kurke had just passed her forty-first birthday anniversary when a daughter was born April 28 to her son, Ernest Kurke, of Portland, who was aged 21 years. The granddaughter's name is Jean LaVern.

Mrs. John F. Lamson, formerly Mrs. Skidmore, was a grandmother at 43 years and three months to the day when a son was born to her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hunt, of Curtin. He was about 21 months of age when a brother was born. Mrs. Lamson says that there probably are younger grandmothers here than she now is but that there are none who enjoy their grandchildren more and no grandchildren who have more cunning ways or say brighter things. She also has two grandchildren by her son, Walter Skidmore.

The younger of these was born last year on December 8, which was his birthday anniversary of Grandfather Skidmore, who died several years ago.

Mrs. Kurke wins the prize of a year's subscription offered by The Sentinel to the youngest grandmother.

OPERETTA BY HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUB IS SUCCESS

The girls' glee club of the high school achieved a signal success Monday evening with the Chinese operetta, "My Maid on the Bamboo Screen," staged in the Arcade theater, which was packed to capacity. The settings for the play were artistic and the theater's new scenery blended well with the settings. The story of the operetta runs thus: The two royal sons of China (Dolly Pitcher and Nellie Stewart) are asleep in their garden, guarded by their faithful servants (Genevieve Rice and Rachel Galloway). They are separated by a Bamboo screen which has on one wing the picture of a beautiful singing girl (Kathryn McQueen) and on the other wing is the figure of an attractive dancing girl (Ruthy Powers).

It is night and the two princes are sleeping soundly when the makers of drama (Ethel Lambert and Thelma Kern) enter with their court which is composed of Beulah Smith, Helen Waples, Dorothy Eads and Pearl Robinson as lord high counselors; Genevieve Kime, Beatrice Leonard, Wynetta Mooney and Alice Haldeman as chief assistants, and the two chief nuisances (Ava Stewart and Irene Griggs). The latter two are the cause of endless trouble when they steal a magic powder and bring the maids on the bamboo screen to life, resulting in the curse of dumbness upon the two princes and starting a troublesome romance that leads the whole court of China to the shrine of their ancestors, where the power of speech is restored to the princes, and long life and happiness is assured them by the royal acceptance of the maids as daughters of the house of Jen Tsang.

Godard played well the part of the stern emperor and Bonta Beager that of the aristocratic but tender empress. Alverda Finch and Naoma Hilton were attractive court singing girls but were unable to attract the two princes. Others in the cast were Millicent Burrows, prime minister; Ray Godard, captain of the guards; Lois Stevick, Lillian Horn, Vivian Carille and Genevieve Johnson, other guards; Mary Corbett, Dorothy Dalsen, Elsie Sterling, Daisy Bennett, Elizabeth Miller, Dorothy Kurke and Rena Corbett, a troupe of strolling players and dancing girls. Miss Millicent Burrows also acted as interpreter.

Musical numbers were given between acts.

This is the first time in the history of the local high school that an operetta of this nature has ever been staged.

A great deal of the success of the entertainment was due to Miss Myrtle Kern, director, who was assisted by Miss Elise Price, who was also the accompanist.

Polling Places for Primaries

The polling places in Cottage Grove for the primaries and the several special elections tomorrow are as follows: First precinct, the armory; second precinct, Steen's tailor shop; third precinct, city hall; fourth precinct, the Harvey residence; fifth precinct, the McKibben residence. These are the same as were used in the immediately preceding election.

Bridge Boosters Coming Tonight

A number of boosters from Junction City and Harrisburg will be here tonight to address the voters upon the importance of voting the two-mill tax for Lane county's share of the Harrisburg bridge. The meeting will be held in Phillips Hall. Admission will be free and women are invited.

Deaths Exceed Births in April

During the month of April there were eight deaths, four males and four females, and six births, three males and three females, according to the report of the city health officer.

BETTER HOMES OF CITY ARE ATTRACTION THIS WEEK

Women Are Studying Arrangement for Greatest Efficiency at Least Expense.

Better Homes Week opened Monday in Cottage Grove with a demonstration of washing machines at the home of Mrs. C. C. Cruson. The demonstration was practical, the machines being set in motion and clothes washed for the interest of the women who called during the afternoon. Yesterday compression cookers were demonstrated at the home of Mrs. George Matthews. A special invitation is issued to women to attend the remaining meetings and demonstrations.

The program for the remainder of the week includes a study of kitchen arrangement for convenience and efficiency. On Friday the W. A. Garonette, H. B. Griggs and Victor Chambers kitchens will be open to women who are interested. The arrangement of the equipment will be studied more than the equipment itself, since the purpose is to show how to get the greatest possible efficiency at the least expense.

The C. A. Stevens home at Seventh and Adams will be visited Saturday to demonstrate the possibilities of rearrangement of an old kitchen. The problem of making a model rebuilt kitchen out of a poorly arranged one will interest many and this kitchen is an example of great efficiency obtained through thoughtful planning. Electric washing machines will be demonstrated at business houses during the entire day.

Cottage Grove is one of nine cities, outside of Portland, in this state, to observe Better Homes week, according to word received by Mrs. Clara Burkholder, local chairman, from Herbert Hoover, head of the movement for the nation. Mr. Hoover congratulated the city upon taking up the movement and wished the women success in the work.

TABERNACLE TO BE ERRECTED AT CAMP GROUNDS

Plans are so far advanced for the erection of a tabernacle upon the Methodist conference camp grounds here that the lumber for the building has been ordered. The building will be 60x108 feet and for this year a seating capacity of 1000 will be provided. This capacity can be doubled at any time.

The annual camp meeting, interest in which grows yearly, will be held July 17 to 27. J. M. Hargitt, pastor of Grand Avenue temple, Kansas City, will be the evening evangelist and there will be a number of other prominent speakers.

J. H. Ebert, pastor here and C. E. Humphrey attended a meeting in Eugene a few days ago at which the decision to build at once was reached.

GIFT CAMPAIGN BANQUET HELD BY U. OF O. ALUMNI

Covers were laid for 20 at the University of Oregon gift campaign banquet held Friday evening at Hotel Bartell. Similar banquets were held at the same time over the country where there were any considerable number of former U. of O. students.

E. O. Potter and Alfred Powers, of Eugene, were the principal speakers. Short talks were made by Gordon E. Wells, of Eugene, and George O. Knowles.

No effort was made to organize for the gift campaign or to solicit contributions. The object of the meeting was simply to equip former students with the information to enable them to explain to others the need of the university for the proposed two-million-dollar endowment fund.

Anti-Recallers to Speak Tonight

A political meeting will be held this evening in W. O. W. hall to be addressed by Ben F. Koeney, county assessor; Emmet Howard, candidate for representative in the legislature; Walter B. Jones, candidate for district attorney, and Emmett Sharp, county commissioner. All will speak in opposition to the proposed recall of the county commissioners.
