Versatility, Originality, Charm and Beauty Mark Programs of Going-Bell-Epperson Com- pany, Chautauqua, Second Day.

Birds at evening—birds in the early morning chirping in the old apple trees—birds out on the farm or plantation, in the woods or in the city yard—will be heard under the Chautauqua tent when the Going-Bell-Epperson Company appear here. Miss Fay Epperson, who is a genius at interpreting birds calls, gives a charmingly informal talk on birds before her performance, and adds some clever whistling solos for good measure. Other members of the company are Miss Evelyn Going—whose fine soprano voice is a perfect joy to those who love vocal music, and Miss Bernice Bell, well-known pianist, who can make the ivory keys talk in any language.

Artists of unusual ability and personal charm, Misses Going, Bell and Epperson, will give a diversified program of entertainment including a bit of song, a bit of instrumental music, a bit of whistling, a bit of impersonation—in fact a bit of everything dainty and satisfying.

McDonald Birch in Artistic Magic at Chautauqua Mystery—Magic—Mirth.

Birch—the man who mystifies—is bringing his wonderful entertainment, "Artistic Magic," to Chautauqua. His entertainment is clean, wholesome and far above the average type of magic. It will include none of the tiresome hanky-panky tricks, but clever, scientific mysteries of manipulative magic, art and psychic phenomena, mind reading, and unusual and original novelties.

McDonald Birch is a humorist as well as a "mystifier"—and the fact that a professional in this line can be really funny is claimed by some to be the greatest mystery of all. A vein of humorous patter, apropos allusions to the audience and his tricks, run throughout the performance and keeps the audience in an uproar. This combination of mystery, bewilderment and laughter promises to be a great tonic, equally enjoyed by young, old and the in-betweens.

From Australia To You

Trio of Artists Brings Splendid Concerts to Chautauqua
Fifth Day.

In a program which shades from the finest classical masterpieces to the whimsical and humorous in music, the Australian Trio, a group of exceptionally high class artists, will give Chautauqua audiences a delightful variety of satisfying entertainment on the fifth day. Australia, like Tipperary, is a long, long way from our Chautauqua circuit, but the splendid reputation which this trio has made with the public in that musically critical island country, and its enthusiastic reception by the most discerning critics, prompted the management to secure the organization for appearance here.

"Mr. Alan Murray, baritone, whose rich, finely poised voice threatens to soar to the giddy heights of fame" (Sydney Bulletin); Mr. Edwin Haines, one of the really big violinists, and Miss Dolly Stewart who does delightful "songs at the piano," with whimsical characterizations of the lighter vein, make up the trio. Miss Stewart is always popular and great demands are made upon her for encores. As a violinist Mr. Haines excels in masterful technique and tonal qualities, while Mr. Murray is a wizard at musical interpretation, phrasing and enunciation.

Lead-In Fits under Windows

Fitting under a closed window, a lead-in now on the market would prove popular with radio fans. The lead-in is thin and flat, and can be bent to any shape to fit closely to the window ledges. It is covered with a fireproof, insulating material which prevents grounding of circuits on wet window sills, and eliminates the necessity of drilling holes and fitting porcelain tubes in the window frames. Tabs are provided at the ends for soldering the down lead from the aerial and the lead to the instrument. The fitting will prove of special benefit to radio enthusiasts living in apartments, where the drilling of window frames is usually prohibited.

Steamed and frosted windows are a source of annoyance to many housewives as the moisture not only obstructs the view but also soils the glass through the accumulation of dust when sweeping or cleaning. A cloth bag containing a few spoonfuls of tobacco, placed in the water used to wash the windows, will overcome this trouble and will also impart a clear, crystal effect.

The woman who purrs when you call her a kitten would scratch your eyes out if you were to call her a cat.

Be sure the world laughs with you and not at you.

Call a spade by any name you like—but get out and use it.

Simple Method of Making Rag Mats

Excellent doormats can be made at home from strips of rag or burlap. The strips must all be of the same width and twisted until they are about the thickness of a finger. The strips are laced, about 4 in. from one end to a length of wood, and are spaced 1/2 in. apart. The width of the mat depends on the number of strips used which must be an even number.

After fastening the length of wood to a table or bench, the strips are ready to be woven, which is done by tying them together with "square" knots until the mat is completed. The first knot is tied with the first and second strips, the second knot with the third and fourth strips, the third knot with the fifth and sixth strips, and so on to the end. The second row of knots is begun by tying the second and third strips, then the fourth and fifth strips, and so on. The knots are all tied in the same way, and the method of doing this is plainly shown in the detail. A spacing peg must be used, so that all the knots will be of the same size; the mat is tied around the peg, which is then slipped out. The peg should be about 1 in. square and tapered to a point.

Your bottom dollar may be the foundation of a fortune.

The luckiest people in this old world are those who go after what they want with hammer and tong.

Patience ceases to be a virtue when you allow others to impose upon you.
