There are two kinds of wives: One that makes their husbands wear rubbers, and one that makes them wear evening clothes.

"The trouble with Mary is she despises anybody who doesn't know more than she does."
"I should think she would."

A Friend in Need.
Low comedian: You are the new chap in our company, aren't you?
What's your role?
The other: I'm the advance agent.
Low comedian: Ah, just the chap! Could you advance me a fiver?

Pleasant for Him.
Sweet young thing (coming in with attentive partner from room where a hard game of bridge has been in progress): Oh, mother, I've just captured the booby!
Mother: Well, well! Come here and kiss me, both of you.—Tiger.

A card of thanks appearing in the Fairhope (Ala.) Courier, reads as follows: "I take this means of thinking most heartily those who assisted in the saving of valuable property threatened in the destruction of my still by fire.—M. F. Northrop."

Everybody Happy.
Maid: No, ma'am, Mrs. Hughes is out.
Visitor: How fortunate! When I saw her peering through the curtains as I came up the walk I was so afraid she would be in.—Cassell's Saturday Journal.

COOLIDGE HEADS THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Charles G. Dawes Named Running Mate After Frank O. Lowden Declines.

Cleveland, Ohio.—It required only one roll call to formally confer upon Calvin Coolidge the republican nomination for the presidency. Charles G. Dawes of Illinois was nominated for the vice-presidency after the convention had nominated Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois, and he had refused to accept. There was really no contest at all for the first place on the ticket, for it was a foregone conclusion long before the gavel fell on the opening day of the convention that no other candidate would receive serious consideration, and he was named to head the ticket by one of the largest majorities ever given by a republican national convention. No other name was formally placed before the convention, but twenty-eight of the twenty-nine Wisconsin votes and six from North Dakota were cast for Senator Robert M. LaFollette, and ten South Dakota delegates, following their primary instructions, voted for Senator Hiram Johnson.

CALVIN COOLIDGE Who Received the Republican Nomination for President.

When the secretary announced the total vote, the chairman of the South Dakota delegation got the platform and said that South Dakota, having kept its primary pledge, was willing to make it unanimous. Delegate Scott, the only Coolidge man in the Wisconsin delegation, also moved to make it unanimous, but the 28 loyal LaFollette men gave a chorus of "noes" to the vote. Coolidge's name was presented to the convention by Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the Michigan university. Dr. Burton, a former resident of the president's home of Northampton, spoke on behalf of Massachusetts, and the nomination was seconded by Vermont, California, Kansas, Oregon, Illinois, New Jersey, North Carolina and New York. Dr. Burton divided his lengthy oration into three parts. He spoke first of Calvin Coolidge, "the man," then about Calvin Coolidge, "the American," and finished off with an eloquent presentation of Calvin Coolidge, "the human being." Burton lauds Coolidge. He did not go into the president's policies and executive acts. He left that, he said, for the politicians, and confined his address solely to the moral, spiritual and mental attributes of Mr. Coolidge. To him he ascribed in a degree attributes approached by few men, attributes of simplicity, industry, frugality, patience, vigilance, honesty and service. Dr. Burton's peroration brought the convention to its feet with an outburst of cheering and applause and the procession of delegates started around the floor with Vermont in the lead. Other delegates quickly followed carrying their state standards and soon the aisles were choked with a marching throng. The North Dakota standard from the delegation in which there are six LaFollette delegates, was carried into the procession, but the South Dakota standard from the delegation having Johnson delegates failed to get in. Mrs. Florence C. Porter of South Pasadena, Cal., made the first seconding speech. Judge Charles H. Carey of Oregon was next recognized for another seconding speech. After listening to the keynote address of the temporary chairman, Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, only necessary preliminary business was transacted the opening day of the convention. The first demonstration of the convention came when Temporary Chairman Burton demanded that only "tried and true republicans who will stand united" be elected to congress. Upon taking over the gavel when the convention assembled for the

RANCHER AT 84 LIKE YOUNG MAN

Strength of Younger Years Restored by Korex Compound.

"I felt myself growing old so fast," says J. L. Rowell, 84-year-old rancher of Kaw City, Okla., "that I had no appetite and hardly felt like living. After taking korex compound I am as young and vigorous as at 30 and feel better all the time. I can now walk with a firm, elastic step and can get out and do a man's work with any of them." The effect of using korex compound is healthful, natural and lasting say many who have used it. Thousands have tested it the world over for premature old age, weakness after the flu, poor circulation, lack of appetite and aching limbs. Those feeling the need of such an invigorator will be interested in learning that the American distributors of korex compound have arranged for korex compound to be sold in Cottage Grove at Kem's for Drugs. Just ask for korex.

Save Yourself

from the tedious, back-breaking hours of labor over the ironing board by installing an electric ironing machine in your laundry. At least two-thirds of the time formerly spent on this tiresome job will be saved for you—releasing you for other household duties, or for interests outside your home. Besides the time saved, it is impossible to overestimate the value of the energy you conserve. An electric ironing machine will add years to your life.
