

Cottage Grove Sentinel

A Weekly Newspaper With Plenty of Backbone

Bede & Smith, Publishers

Editor

A first-class publication entered at Cottage Grove as second-class matter

Business Office, 55 North Sixth

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One year, $2.25; Three months 65c

Six months, 1.15; Single copy, 5c

Member of National Editorial Association

Oregon State Editorial Association

Oregon Newspaper Conference

Lane County Publishers' Association

WHY THEY LOSE JOBS.

At the present moment there are not enough jobs to absorb the graduates of the past year.

Those who have taken the trouble to observe probably have noticed that some persons, among both old and young, always seem to have steady positions while others are either just quitting one job or accepting (?) another.

It is not accident that some hold positions while others spend a large part of their time looking for new ones.

A. D. White, statistician for Swift & company, recently made a report to the Chicago Association of Commerce in which he gave five reasons why boys lose their first jobs.

"Lack of a sense of responsibility, unwillingness to work hard, lack of thoroughness, false notions about salary and promotion, and lack of principle are the five chief reasons why 90 per cent of the boys and girls of the United States lose their first jobs."

"Lack of a sense of responsibility is shown by neglect of work, failure to put the most important things first, and the expression of a general 'I should worry' attitude."

"Unwillingness to work hard is shown by being late to work, stretching the lunch hour and staying a few minutes at the end of the day, watching the clock and wasting time by social conversation and telephone calls during business hours."

"Lack of thoroughness is indicated most frequently by unwillingness to begin at the bottom and to go through the drudgery of mastering each step before going ahead."

"The real secret of promotion lies in constantly doing more than you are paid to do. Keep yourself underpaid. As soon as you are overpaid you are bound to go backward."

"Lack of principle is shown by concealment of mistakes, untruthfulness, and the constant making of excuses."

A Portland policeman recently walked onto a six-foot snake coiled up on the sidewalk. This was said by a Portland paper to be something unusual.

DEMS SHOULD OKEH CAL.

It is within the range of possibility that the democrats will have nominated a presidential candidate ere this is printed.

Hot Weather Comforts

Skeeter Skoot, Gypsy Cream and Oil of Citronella for the insect annoyance.

Refreshing Talcums, Creams, Lotions, Foot Powder and Rubbing Alcohol for the toilette and bath.

Milk of Magnesia, Blackberry compound and other reliable remedies for disordered digestion.

These and many other articles to help make your summer more comfortable and enjoyable are ready for you at for a campaign, but that will make no difference. We are going to keep cool with Cal. If the nomination has not been made when this is printed, The Sentinel would suggest that some friend of the party telegraph the convention to okeh Cal Coolidge and let it go at that.

Kem's for Drugs The REXALL Store C. J. Kem, Prop. Cottage Grove, Ore.

EUGENE GUARD IN NEW HANDS.

The Eugene Guard has passed into the hands of Paul S. Kelly and his son, Gene S. Kelly. Mr. Kelly is favorably known to the fourth estate through his years of service as news editor of The Oregonian and it is certain that he will give his paper all the metropolitan touches that Cottage Grove's hasty neighbor can afford.

There's some satisfaction in contemplating shipwrecks as the mode of travel for the future. Pedestrians won't have to dodge them.

Silver-tongued orators are perfectly willing to have their chautauqua dates paid for in gold.

In the copartnership of life the wife is always the junior member of the firm, but never the silent partner.

The man who keeps his word can always find someone to take it.

The man who marries money seldom gets a treasure of a wife.

There is no particular merit in being good when all around you are good.

If it were possible for those about us to read our minds there would be either a lot of unhappy people or we would stop thinking a lot of things that never should be thought anyway.

WHY ROAD IS NEEDED.

Cottage Grove, Ore., July 7.—(To the Editor)—I wish to submit for the information of Cottage Grove people a copy of a statement submitted to the county court, giving reasons why the private road from Divide to the A. L. Woodard mill should be made a county road, reading as follows:

"1—The present road is not adequate, because aside from the planking it is impassable except for a short time in the year. The planking is allowed by private consent and may be ruined at will by anyone wishing to transport unreasonable loads over it without contributing to its upkeep. This has been done the past winter and spring and is being done now."

"2—It is the only outlet for the farmers of this district and the A. L. Woodard sawmill."

"3—The above lumbering firm in 1923 paid $62,000.00 in wages alone. About $45,000.00 of this was paid to men who worked in the mill and logging camp. A full crew consists of 13 men in the mill and 21 in the woods."

"4—Seven families lived in the camp; the remaining 27 boarded at the cookhouse or drove in from Cottage Grove or Divide."

"5—Five children of school age lived in camp at one time. These, besides the F. M. Chapman and Ernest McReynolds children, walking to and from school, must pass through the J. H. Hawley pasture where a bull (at all times unsafe) ran at large."

"6—The above firm paid in taxes last year about $1400.00."

"7—There are six gates to pass through."

"8—It was agreed by those who built that no heavy loads be hauled over road in wet weather."

"9—The road is of great importance in transporting local men to and from their work. It is the desire and practice of this firm, as far as possible, to employ local married men only."

"Signed: ALBERT C. WOODARD, 'Camp Supt.'"

The opposition used the argument (to induce people to sign the remonstrance) that Woodard wanted to keep the Perini boys from logging over the road and that he wanted the timber himself and wanted to use the road for logging. Also that the said boys offered to repair the road.

The facts are that Woodard offered to buy the timber (and let it stand, as it is not accessible to his mill except during dry weather) for the sole purpose of keeping any logging from being done on the plank road, which was built by Woodard and Chapman for light cars and light loads. They, by common consent, had never used it for heavy loads.

As for the Perini boys offering to repair the road, the fact that they did not do so is enough argument. There would have been no objection to anybody using the road if they had kept it in repair.

All that the people of this section want is a road under the control of the county to prevent such an outrage in the future, and so that all may enjoy equal rights and privileges thereon.

A. L. WOODARD.

An exchange speaks of a prima donna with her singing halo on her. Even then she may have seemed comparatively overdressed.

The man who keeps his eyes on the face of the clock will never see the wheels go round.

An airpilot can't expect to leave footprints on the sands of time.

You never impress anyone with your smartness when you tell about it yourself.

For a fellow that uses the old-fashioned bow and arrow, Cupid makes a great many big killings.

When a man has water on the brain he shouldn't be surprised if his head swims.

The man whose advice is worth anything is too busy looking after a successful business to be peddling it around.

THINGS WE THINK

Things Others Think and What We Think of the Things Others Think

The limit of laziness is a negro who won't bother to take his hands out of his pockets to accept a tip.

In the matrimonial lottery it is always the man who draws the prize.

When they get to making newspapers out of cornstalks the thrifty farmer will take a stent of fodder to town and have the printer run him up a year's supply of reading matter while he waits.

There's some satisfaction in contemplating shipwrecks as the mode of travel for the future. Pedestrians won't have to dodge them.

Silver-tongued orators are perfectly willing to have their chautauqua dates paid for in gold.

In the copartnership of life the wife is always the junior member of the firm, but never the silent partner.

The man who keeps his word can always find someone to take it.

The man who marries money seldom gets a treasure of a wife.

There is no particular merit in being good when all around you are good.

If it were possible for those about us to read our minds there would be either a lot of unhappy people or we would stop thinking a lot of things that never should be thought anyway.

Some people get to be grouches from talking to themselves.

A woman will call a man a brute and then fly into a fit of anger when he acknowledges that it is so.

SCHOOLS MUST RAISE INTELLECTUAL STANDARDS.

"I say it is up to the schools so to form the taste of the young people that they shall loathe the trashy, sexy newspaper, the lying, cheating newspaper, the newspaper that presents a picture of life in America that is false and poisonous."

"When you give us readers that think most funny pictures are silly and most crime stories revolting and most of today's editorials too elementary, we shall throw up our hats with joy."

"I believe, just as firmly as I believe in anything, that unless the schools are strengthened, unless America digs in for the battle against ignorance, against laxness of moral and intellectual fiber, on a scale that will dwarf all past fights against ignorance—unless the educational level rises in America, in another generation there will be no reader for the kind of newspaper I want to produce—not even for the kind of newspaper we produce today."

Mare A. Rose, managing editor Buffalo News.

Why do we call it a honeymoon? because it was once a custom in northern Europe that newly wedded couples should drink mead (wine made from honey) for a "moon," or 27 days. In the new home, or any home, is one of the first requirements for wounds, burns and sprains.

Puretest IODINE

Whenever you suffer a cut or scratch, paint it with Puretest Iodine to prevent infection and quicken healing. Excellent also for taking the soreness out of insect bites and inflammation.

One of 200 Puretest preparations for health and hygiene. Every item the best that skill and care can produce.

Kem's for Drugs

The REXALL Drug Store

IMPERIAL BARBER SHOP

We Bob, Curl and Marcel Hair

Barber work in general; special attention to children.

630 Main, P. S. Bukowski, Prop.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS AIDS STUDENT WORK

Collates Information on Colleges and Universities.

Geneva.—Useful information concerning world universities is contained in the first quarterly publication of the international office of university intelligence, which was recently created as a new co-operative feature of the League of Nations.

These publications will endeavor to co-ordinate in compact form international university information and fulfill the purpose of the new office, which is that of serving as a bridge between the higher institutions of learning in all countries.

They will relate the exchange of professors and students, list the books of interest to university people, and catalogue the administrative measures adopted by various universities concerning the conditions under which foreigners may follow courses of study, explain scholarships, the tuition conditions affecting foreigners and set forth the special courses which may be open to them.

The first number of the review publishes the results of an inquiry among international students' associations on an organization for the exchange of students from one country to another; the conditions under which students work abroad, and questions touching university courses in general.

Under the heading, "university information," appears the text of a convention on the mutual exchange of students between five countries of Central America, communications sent in by the national university offices of the United States, England, Denmark, Spain, France, Holland and Switzerland, and notices from various international associations of students.

Has Drawn Pictures of Bugs for Twelve Years

Miss Esther Hastings Hart, insect delineator of the bureau of entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, at work on a pen and ink drawing of the ditropitonus aureovirilis, a useful bug that preys upon the Hessian fly, so injurious to the wheat crop. This is only one of hundreds of bugs drawn by Miss Hart during her 12 years' service. Her subjects range in size from a speck of dirt, only visible through a microscope, to bugs measuring several inches in length.

1,500 Indians to Get $10,000,000 of Land

Aberdeen, Wash.—Approximately 1,500 Indians of the Qulnault reservation will share about $10,000,000 worth of timber land, it was estimated recently, as a result of the Supreme court decision whereby the allotment policy of the Department of Indian Affairs for the past 12 years is rendered invalid. Each Indian's share by this computation is about $3,700.

The territory to be allotted to the Indians constitutes about three-quarters of the reservation area. The remaining fourth was allotted prior to suspension of allotments as agricultural and grazing land.

Work of allotment will be started immediately, according to advices from Charles H. Burke, Indian commissioner at Washington. The lands to be allotted include some of the finest tracts of standing timber in the state.

Politeness Costly

Seattle, Wash.—Politeness cost Robert R. Fields, a steamship employee, his month's wages here. He boarded a street car to visit a park and encountering a woman friend, doffed his hat. The money, which he had secreted in the hat band, fell out, he reported.

Parcel Post Brings Lizard From Germany

Philadelphia.—A lizard from Germany, picked up in the Kiel canal and said to be a rare specimen, arrived recently by parcel post from Hamburg, consigned to a scientific institution. The lizard was none the worse for the long journey by land and sea, for when the package was opened by the customs examiners he jumped out and the federal officers scattered. He was finally captured, but not until he had lost part of his tail. The reptile had a long, slim body, covered with numerous spots and when angered his tail coiled up like a watch spring.

Advertisement for Mountain States Power Company. Includes the headline 'Sound Investing is Not Spending', an illustration of a man and woman at a desk, and a coupon for requesting investment information. The coupon asks for name, street, and city, and promises to send free literature.

Say It With Printer's Ink. The tonic for the business world—live wire wantads.

Advertisement for 'STARTING TO ADVERTISE MARKS THE ENDING OF SLOW SALES'. It encourages starting now in 'THE COTTAGE GROVE SENTINEL' and watching the happy end.