

HOTEL BARTELL BUILDING IS TO BE MODERNIZED

Hostelry Gives Visitor His Impression of City, in Opinion of Successful Boniface.

The Hotel Bartell building is to be completely modernized under the terms of a new lease entered into between C. A. Bartell, owner of the hotel business, and W. B. Cooper, owner of the building. The improvements, which are to start December 1 after the close of the tourist season, and to be completed within 90 days, will cost between $15,000 and $18,000.

An electric elevator is to be installed at the east side of the building and to the south of the office. The stairway is to be taken from the northeast corner of the lobby and placed in the rear. The partitions of the second and third floors are to be torn out and every room is to be made an outside room connected with private bath. This will increase the room capacity by 16, making a total of 52, of which 30 can have private bath. With the 20 additional rooms in the annex, Mr. Bartell is of the opinion that this will give the city adequate hotel facilities for the present and plans for a new hotel building, which were well under way, will be dropped for a year or two.

Sample rooms and a storeroom are to be provided in the basement of the building and the entire building is to be redecorated and painted. Cold storage is to be added to the cuisine and several changes are to be made in the kitchen and dining room. At the expiration of the lease on the corner room of the building by the postoffice, that room probably will be taken by Mr. Bartell and converted into an electric restaurant.

Mr. Bartell is well pleased with the progress the hotel business has made since his arrival here 14 years ago to take over the dining room of the old Oregon hotel which stood on the property now occupied by the Kem building. The progress of the business has been due to some extent to the increase in business of the city but to a larger degree probably to Mr. Bartell's efforts to give the city a hotel better than that usually found in cities of much larger size.

Some of the progress of the city is due, without doubt, to the kind of hotel Mr. Bartell has given the city. Through the tourists and travelers which a high class hotel attracts to the city every business benefits to some extent, particularly the garages, grocery stores, meat markets, picture shows, restaurants, confectioneries, drug stores and the farm stores, whose goods and products are bought direct by the traveler. Even the physicians, dentists, banks and others benefit to some extent and even the undertaker once in a while is called upon.

It is Mr. Bartell's belief that the thing about a city which a visitor remembers longest is the kind of hotel the city has. It has been his aim to give all visitors a pleasant recollection of the city by providing a hotel which they would remember kindly. "A city to the visitor," in Mr. Bartell's opinion, "is a good one or a rotten one according to the kind of hotel service such visitor gets."

Of course a hotel fills other wants besides that of providing comfort for visitors. For one thing, it is a source of general information. As an example of what is expected of a hotel, a call was received a few days ago at the desk of Hotel Bartell asking whether a woman carrying a suitcase and wearing a dark skirt had gotten off the train a week before. No additional description could be given. Upon being advised that such a person had gotten off the train at the time indicated, the questioner asked where the woman was at that time. Upon being informed that the man at the desk did not know, the receiver at the other end went onto the hook with a bang.

"Courtesy with a smile" is the motto for every department at Hotel Bartell, at the annex and at the Central hotel, also operated by Mr. Bartell. "My advice," he said, "is, if you can not smile, can not extend kind greetings, can not try courteously to answer all questions put to you, do not get into the hotel business. If you meet a stranger, tell him this is the most beautiful spot in Oregon and the best place in which to live. Tell him what fine people live here, what a clean little city we have and that it is conducted in a businesslike manner.

"Speak a good word for your competitor and buy at home if you can. If you can't buy at home, buy as near home as you can. Give preference to your home town, next to your neighboring city and if you can't get it in your own state, give preference to your neighboring state. Try to get a home product or an Oregon product whenever possible. Keep Oregon money in Oregon and try to make things so pleasant that eastern money will come here."

School Building Rises Rapidly.

Splendid progress is being made on the walls of the new grade school building and Contractor Godard hopes to be putting on the roof within the next week. Part of the foundation for the gymnasium building has been run but work will not be rushed on this. Every effort will be put forward to have the grade building ready for occupancy by the time school opens. The gymnasium may not be completed until a little later.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD GERALD CONNER SCARES RATTLER BY STEPPING NEAR IT

Gerald Conner, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Conner, nearly scared to death a big rattler Monday when he stepped within a few inches of it on a trail near the Conner place in Delight Valley. The lad was as badly frightened as the snake, however, and went right away from there. Gerald's uncle, R. G. (Boss) Conner, followed the reptile and decapitated it with a well-directed rifle bullet. It had ten rattles and a button.

PLANE COMES NEAR WRECKING VAN NORTWICK HOME

Commercial Aircraft, With Stranger Handling Mechanism, Crashes Into Wires and Fences.

The P. B. VanNortwick home south of the city on the south Sixth street road came near being wrecked Sunday afternoon when a commercial plane from Eugene which had been operating here crashed to earth in the VanNortwick yard. In doing so it tore down telephone wires and went through two fences. The plane had risen but a short distance from the ground and was not seriously injured by the crash. Members of the VanNortwick household were somewhat frightened by the terrific noise made by the falling machine but did not realize their danger until it had passed. The machine is yet in the VanNortwick yard while repairs are being made.

At the time of the accident the plane was being operated by a "buddy" of the owner and operator of the machine. He had operated another kind of machine while in the service and the accident was due to the fact that he did not understand the operation of the mechanism of this machine. The plane was not carrying passengers at the time of the accident.

$25,000 SEWER BOND ISSUE TO GO TO TAXPAYERS

The city council will call a special election in the near future to vote upon an issue of $25,000 in sewer bonds. The city attorney has been instructed to prepare the necessary legal documents.

Three trunk sewers are contemplated, one to drain the east side of the city, one to drain the south central portion of the city and one to drain the northwest portion of the west side.

The calling of a special election for this purpose has been under consideration for some time but has been delayed pending the preparation of an engineer's estimate of the probable cost.

CANNERY PAYS $103,000 FOR PRODUCE SINCE 1908

A total of $103,000 was paid out for produce during the years 1908 to 1923 by the Cottage Grove cannery. During the same period the cannery paid $45,000 for labor direct, $12,000 for articles produced locally and $3000 for wood and labels. The institution has a paid-up capitalization of over $13,000 and the sale of several thousand dollars more in stock is contemplated for the making of further improvements. The officers of the cannery feel that the amount of money which the cannery puts into circulation locally, nearly all of it brought in from the outside, warrants a further stock issue.

STOLEN FIREARMS ARE FOUND IN BED OF RIVER

Three rifles and a shotgun, evidently stolen property, were found a few days ago in the water under the Curran bridge on Row river by Walter Downes, who discovered the weapons while he was in swimming. One rifle was a .22, one a 25-35 and the other a 30-30. All were Remingtons. Deputy Sheriff Pitzer is of the opinion that they were stolen from some gun store and has a faint recollection of several firearms being taken some time ago from a store in Eugene.

They had evidently been in the water for several months but must have been dropped there since the winter rains, otherwise they would have been washed away by high water. Mr. Downes was of the opinion that they had been dropped through a hole in the floor of the bridge.

Onzi Stael, 93, Dies in Eugene.

Onzi Stael, one of the oldest Masons in the state, died Monday at his home in Eugene at the age of 93 years. He was born at Stael Corners, N. Y., January 12, 1831, and came to Eugene 36 years ago. He was active in various branches of the Masonic fraternity and was affectionately known among his fellow lodgemen as "Daddy" Stael.

Ball Player Is Injured.

London, Ore., July 15.—(Special.)—A visiting ball player was seriously injured Wednesday evening in a practice game when he and Norman Bacheider bumped into each other while both were trying to catch a fly ball. Mr. Bacheider's head came in contact with the eye and temple of the visitor, who was stunned by the impact.

OLD COPY OF NEWSPAPER IS FOUND IN FLAG STAFF

Disintegration Had Set in But Much of Its Contents Is Legible After 28 Years.

Those who erected the old high school building which has just been razed, picked an odd place to leave word for a future generation. Usually a number of articles are placed in a cornerstone, but those who erected this building placed a message in the iron ball which capped the flag staff. When the staff fell to the ground the iron ball fell to pieces, having disintegrated from its exposure to the weather for 28 years, and there dropped from it a copy of The Leader, dated in 1896, indicating that that was the year in which the staff was erected.

The staff was on that portion of the building which was added to a former building which was much older, probably 35 years of age. A large part of the paper had disintegrated through exposure to the elements but many portions of the printing are yet legible.

An interesting advertisement is that of Charles Markley & Co., saloon and billiard hall, with "comfortable quarters and courteous treatment." F. Curran advertised his drug business, J. B. Rouse advertised lumber, Baker & McFarland advertised a meat market business, Eakin & Bristow advertised their general merchandise business. A McKinley-Hobart club had been organized with the following members: J. S. Benson, O. F. Knox, J. C. Stoffer, J. Lane, M. E. Grouse, Robert Griffing, U. S. Martin, A. Churehill, N. H. Martin, H. B. Millehd, P. G. Condon, E. H. Yancy, W. E. McQueen, J. M. Sherwood, H. Yancey, C. H. Burkholder, W. H. Cooper, J. H. McFarland, W. P. Lockwood, T. J. Cardwell, J. Barneburg, William Hemenway, J. Taylor, William Vaughn, J. H. Shortridge, J. Kissmiller, M. C. Bond, William Champion, G. Kleist, H. Martin, Ron Robinson, —, F. Yancey, A. Nelson, P. Sherwood, J. H. Wells, George McQueen, A. Kelsey, D. G. McFarland, W. S. Chrisman, Wm. Finemery, J. McKibben, A. B. Warnock, J. B. Stewart, G. H. Stone, W. Vaughn, J. H. Fotts, W. S. Bennett, J. K. Barrett, J. A. Baker, J. A. Merryman, U. G. Walker, T. Richardson, J. E. Ostrander, J. W. Culp, A. D. Lincoln, Wm. Landess, N. C. Simons, J. S. Martin, William Ostrander, George Griffith, W. H. Lincoln, P. Newcomb, C. A. McFarland, M. A. McKibben, Charles Bowen, Geo. M. Hawley, O. H. Willard, D. Bristow, L. Darnwood, J. Darnwood, S. F. Jackson, W. H. West, J. M. Hickson, H. D. Lincoln, George Spry, S. M. Wood, F. A. VanKibben, D. H. Hemenway, L. R. Long, S. C. Newcomb, B. F. Edgerton, J. H. Walker, James Hummer, A. H. Gapie, Charles Gapie, John Hull, Herbert Eakin, Frank Whipple, B. C. Walker and W. McFarland.

There are 90 names in the above list. Of these are 75 known to The Sentinel who are living and 19 of them yet in the Cottage Grove country.

Another list of names, apparently members of the 16 to 1 Palmer & Buckner club, is legible. They are A. M. Sweeney, —, Todd, J. P. Curran, Dr. Snapp, H. D. Whitlock, R. Carey, J. F. Miller, G. L. Burch, Geo. Whitsett, W. Gowdy, Dr. H. V. Jones, H. Hessel, Geo. Hader, J. W. Curran, W. Tucker, M. A. Horn, G. Thomas, John Curran, Alex. Cooley, John Cooley, Thos. Allen, G. M. Miller, M. Martin, J. M. Medley, T. M. Orrell, G. F. Garoutte, H. A. Daniels, J. W. Harnes, J. Mark, J. P. Thomas, J. B. McGe, O. Davidson, C. P. McCoy, Geo. Thompson, J. H. Elliott, W. Sanford, L. E. F. King, F. King, L. Touchette, H. C. Vestel, A. H. Beagle, T. J. Markley, W. L. Baker, Joseph Weber, S. R. Piper, Felix Curran, A. J. Turner, J. B. Mosby, S. E. Dillard, E. King, W. B. Roher, M. Garoutte, L. M. Veach, Mack England, J. M. Doak, J. C. Wallace, O. Veach, J. W. Baker, J. S. Ozment, J. S. Medley, Wm. Adams, J. E. Cooley, J. E. Cooley, W. E. Hemenway, J. H. Tuckson, J. H. Doak, J. Cole, J. W. Ashby, P. H. Thusen, J. B. Chandler, J. Lewison, P. L. Tolman, —, H. W. B. —, J. O. Kym, O. Wood, L. H. Slagle, D. B. Dryge, A. Broom, J. H. Medley, F. E. Touchette, Chas. Wright, W. H. Beagle, J. M. Wallace, J. Kerr, H. L. Dunn, G. W. Shields and J. Jennings.

There are 82 names in the second list, so that the parties evidently were evenly divided.

In the second list are names of at least 19 persons yet living and 10 of them in the Cottage Grove country. Evidently republicans are a trifle longer-lived than democrats.

A portion of a news story, indicating that Editor Wooley sometimes wrote in a facetious vein, is yet legible which reads as follows: "Just Like Girls—Mr. J. P. Curran, the post master, has a pretty phantom and a beautiful horse of the color in horseman's parlance called buckskin but in more esthetic circles known as Milwaukee brick. At the Curran household there are two young ladies with fair faces, auburn hair and modest demeanor. Mrs. Curran usually does the driving and when they are all together they would attract attention in a more pretentious place than this...but the other morning, with considerable forebodings and after a great deal of solemn admonitions to the ladies to be careful...permitted them...mother's injunctions to be careful...the gate is only fourteen feet wide...and that is why the family has to walk."

MIDGET IS POLITICAL POWER: PREVENTS TWO MEETINGS OF COUNCIL

Enfranchised woman has done many startling things but the record probably is held by a Cottage Grove member of the feminine sex who prevented two meetings of the city council last week. This embryo political leader and arbiter of the destinies of the nation has "shingled" hair and has never permitted her activities to be interfered with by stockings to bind the knees or anything resembling a corset to interfere with full operation of her vocal machinery.

In appearance she is not as formidable as the facts related might lead those unacquainted with her to believe. She has the sweetest of smiles and twinkling blue eyes. She has never made an enemy.

Nor is she an amazon in appearance. She weighs four pounds and a few ounces and has been demonstrating her interest in things political for slightly over two weeks. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bede. That she prevented two meetings of the city council came about in this way:

Her father is a member of that sometimes august body. During last week Aldermen Roy Short was away on a vacation and Alderman Axel Swanson was in Portland on business. That left exactly a quorum of the membership at home, but when the roll was called for the meeting Monday night it was found that the editorial alderman had left word with the recorder that he had received instructions from the new member of his family that he must pay her a social visit every evening until her dismissal from the hospital. He was already out of the city on the way to the hospital and the council adjourned to Wednesday night. Bede was notified that he must be present in order that important business could be transacted. He did not hesitate in making a decision. He told the council that he wasn't going to take any chances on arousing the ire of any feminine member of his family—thereby showing that he had discretion which should make him a good councilman—and that the council, the city and everything and everyone else could go to the place where anyone foolish enough to serve on a council ought to go. Again the meeting had to be adjourned.

The meeting was finally held Monday night, Alderman Swanson being home to make a quorum.

WALTER WOODARD MILL IS TO RESUME OPERATIONS

Production Not to Be Forced During Present Bearish Condition of Market.

The Walter A. Woodard mill, which has been down for several months, will resume operations within a week or so, with production slightly curtailed because of the condition of the lumber market. The planer mill at Latham will be put into operation at the same time. The logging crew was put to work Monday.

MORE TIME IS REQUIRED FOR OIL OPERATION HERE

Keen Interest Is Demonstrated by Packed House to Hear Olson's Reassuring Address.

That interest in the possibility of oil being brought in here is as keen as ever was indicated by the attendance at the meeting Thursday evening last addressed by Dr. David E. Olson, president of the Guaranty Oil company, which is conducting drilling operations here and at Eugene. Chairs and benches had to be carried in and many were turned away.

Dr. Olson plainly indicated that he has never faltered in his belief that oil is going to be brought in and he quoted from eminent authorities who support his contention that oil should be found here.

He assured his audience that no stock-selling game was being attempted, which statement he backed by the statement that three times as much has been spent at the Cottage Grove well as at Cottage Grove has put into it and by a further statement that the hole is being drilled as perfect as it is possible to drill a hole and is being substantially cased to take care of the oil that he assured his hearers is certain to come.

The object of the address seemed to be to instill confidence in the minds of those who have invested in the oil operations and to assure them that the possibility that the well may not be completed within a year from the time operations started, as originally promised, is favorable to the ultimate success of the operations rather than any reason for mistrust.

Olson stated that geologists of the Shell Oil company, the Associated Oil company, the Union Oil company, the Standard Oil company and the Penn Pacific Oil company have been heard by competent witnesses to report very favorably on oil possibilities in this field. He referred to reports by some of these in which they predicted the opening of a great oil field in the valley in the very near future, in which reports they mentioned the wells being drilled here and at Eugene. He gave the names of oil experts who have reported very favorably on this field and named Hon. Mr. Lebig, an authority in geology; C. L. Confer, V. C. Livingston, Robert F. Campbell, Hon. R. Hurlbert, J. B. Young, Professor Hoyell and Hon. Mr. Yankey, and referred to others whose names can not be made public at this time. He also referred to a report of the United States geological survey and to a story on the oilgeous sea formation of this section published in The Oregon Daily Emerald, student publication at the University of Oregon. Special emphasis was given to the statement by Hon. Dorsey Hager, the world's greatest authority on petroleum geology, wherein he stated that Oregon has well defined anticlines, indicative of oil which he believes will be discovered in the near future.

Dr. Olson discussed anticlines, monoclines, synclines, fault lines, traps, enclosures, inlets, outlets, domes, oilgeous sea formations, including large clam beds discovered in the oil domes upon which they are now drilling. The logs of the wells so far as they have been drilled, he said, prove the oil structure to be as good as found in any of the great oil fields of the world.

He stated that they have already passed through six indicative oil sands at Cottage Grove and Eugene and gas and oil showings positively prove that these fields are located on oil structures. He stated that anyone can visit the well at Eugene and see the boiler with its contents boiling like a pot of molasses with wonderful showings of both oil and gas. "Mark you," he said, "this showing has all come up through the hard sandstone capping in which we are now drilling. Any oil expert who has seen these showings, declared that they are positively giving assurance of a great oil well being brought in in the near future."

The audience was asked to vote upon whether it was the desire to have the well here drilled straight and clean and properly cased, even though drilling in that manner took longer than the time in which it had been anticipated that the well would be completed. The vote was unanimous to give the company the time necessary to drill the kind of well described.

Dr. Olson stated that the equipment for the Cottage Grove and Eugene wells has cost $100,000, that it is all paid for, that all bills have been paid within 30 days and that the Eugene well is down around 2000 feet and the Cottage Grove well is down 1000 feet.

Dr. Olson repeated the statement which he has several times made that all the profits to himself and associates from their oil operations will go to the religious activities in which they are interested and that all the assets and resources possessed by himself and associates have been legally tied up as a guaranty to stockholders for the redemption of stock should they be dissatisfied with operations at the end of two years from the date of purchase of the stock.

Because of the removal of Captain Angus A. Proctor to Medford, First Lieutenant Donald M. DeLong is in temporary command of Company 186th Infantry. No move has yet been made to elect a commanding officer to take Captain Proctor's place.

ONLY FIRE IN FORESTS IS CHARGED TO A CAMP FIRE CARELESSLY LEFT

Careless campers were responsible for a fire in the Sailor's gulch section of the Umpqua forest, the only one reported so far this season from the national forests of this section. The flames were gotten under control early Thursday morning by a crew of men under District Ranger Holderman, after 15 or 20 acres had been burned over. A crew was left with the fire until it completely died out. Ranger Holderman reported that the flames started from a carelessly left camp fire.

TENTH STREET IMPROVEMENT IS TO BE ASKED

Hard Surface Streets Are to Be Repaired; McNutt Makes Progress on His Contract.

Another street improvement is in prospect. Residents on north Tenth street are circulating a petition for paving that street with class A macadam from Villard place to the north city limits.

Repairs are to be made to a number of streets where defects have developed in the hard surface paving. The Cascade Construction company having been given a contract for the work.

The grading of Ash avenue and the Woods avenue and north Seventh street stubs has been practically completed and the curbs built. The reeking of these streets will start as soon as the curbs have set. Contractor McNutt is away for a few days looking after a contract which he has elsewhere. The city crusher has been put into operation getting out the rock.

OBITUARIES

Fritz Guggisberg.

Fritz Guggisberg was found dead in his home at Leona on the morning of July 9. The condition of the body indicated that death had occurred several days before. He was last seen alive Monday. A screw driver with which he had been working was still clutched tightly in his hand when the body was found. The funeral was held Friday forenoon at Leona. He was born in Switzerland June 26, 1856, and came to the United States 40 years ago. He came here several years ago from the east and lived for several years on the Ida Stocks place east of Cottage Grove, moving here to Leona. He had been a year or so ago to Leona. Surviving children are Frank, Fred, Ernest and Albert, all of Cottage Grove, and Mrs. Ernest Ruerer, of Oregon City.

C. A. Smith.

Charles Arthur Smith died Monday evening from heart trouble and complications. The funeral was held yesterday forenoon from the Methodist church, officiating. The interment was in the A. F. & A. M. I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mr. Smith was born May 1, 1867, in Douglas county near the present city of Oakland. He married Miss Rebecca Cummings in Eugene in January, 1891. No children were born to this union. Mr. and Mrs. Smith came to this city seven years ago from Saginaw.

Mr. Smith is survived by his widow, by three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Smith, Creswell; Mrs. Fannie Morris, Pleasant Hill; Mrs. Mary Derrick, Salem; and one brother, Henry Smith, Dexter.

Maria Perini.

Maria Perini, a resident of Anlauf for many years, died there July 11 and the funeral was held there July 12. He was born in Italy and married there and was about 71 years of age. Surviving are the wife and the following children: Barta, Americo and Ben Perini, Mrs. Galdabini and Mrs. Maggie Wurtz, all of Anlauf. Dominico Perini, of Divide, is a brother.

Elsie Marie Marlow.

London, Ore., July 15.—(Special.)—Elsie Marie Marlow, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Marlow, of Sunnyside, Wash., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sutherland, of London, died on the morning of July 4.

NORTH TENTH STREET HAS TWO FIRES IN ONE DAY

The fire department was called twice yesterday to fires on north Tenth street, one early in the forenoon at the Mrs. Eliza Simpson house and one during the noon hour at the H. C. Haskins house. The houses stand side by side and both were roof fires. There was almost no damage to the Simpson house but the roof was burned from the Haskins house. The loss to the latter was covered by insurance.

Cars Collide at Bridge.

The Cottage Grove laundry wagon and a Chevrolet driven by Mr. Fogle, of Saginaw, collided at the intersection west of the Main street bridge during the noon hour yesterday. The laundry wagon was traveling south on old Pacific highway and the Fogle car was traveling east on west Main street. Both cars were somewhat damaged but no one was injured. Mrs. Taplin, of Saginaw, was a passenger in the Fogle car.

METHODIST CAMP MEETING TO OPEN HERE TONIGHT

I. M. Hargett, Noted Kansas City Pastor and Evangelist Will Be the Preacher.

The fourth annual Oregon Methodist conference camp meeting will open tonight with I. M. Hargett, Kansas City pastor and evangelist, as the speaker. He preached last week at Medford, where he made a favorable impression as a forceful preacher.

It is anticipated that the attendance for this session will reach 1000 or better. Many from outside points are availing themselves of the camping spots provided upon the camp meeting property. All arrangements for the accommodation of campers have been made. The grounds have been cleaned and tables, benches, wood and water have been provided.

The new tabernacle building will not be completed for the opening of the session but construction will be far enough along so that it can be used. The framework has been completed and the roof boards placed and it is anticipated that the seats will be completed by tonight. The platform is 16x32, large enough to accommodate a chorus choir.

The roofing, yet to be placed, will be a reddish brown to harmonize with the green of the trees which surround the structure.

Audley Brown, a vocalist of note, will have charge of the music. Superintendent S. A. Danford will be in general charge of the meeting and T. H. Henderson, Cleveland pastor and evangelist, will be here. He and Pastor Hargett will be the team of preachers, but visiting pastors will be called to conduct some of the services. E. N. Johnson, bishop to Africa, will conduct one or more of the meetings.

SPEED IS CAUSE OF WRECK OF TWO CARS ON OVERHEAD

An Oldsmobile bearing Oregon license No. 160-034, issued to W. Strom, of 7 north Third street, Portland, was rammed Tuesday evening on the Comstock overhead crossing by a Dodge bearing Union county, Oregon, temporary license No. 2873. The framework of the Oldsmobile was rammed into a rainbow and it was otherwise seriously damaged. The Dodge sustained a severely twisted front end. Both cars had to be put on wrecking trucks to bring them to the city. No one was injured in either car. The Oldsmobile was traveling south and had reached the turn in the overhead when the driver saw the Dodge coming up the overhead from the south at such speed that he felt certain the car could not make the turn. The driver of the Oldsmobile brought his car to a standstill but the Dodge was beyond control and rammed the other car amidships, shoving it against the concrete railing. Had it not been for the concrete, the car might have been shoved off the overhead. The driver of the Dodge admitted that the fault was his and assumed all damage.

Editor Wishes He'd Located Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Baker, of Tillamook, visited Thursday last with the R. S. Lasswell family. Mr. Baker retired several years ago from the publication of a newspaper at Tillamook. A quarter of a century ago he contemplated locating in Cottage Grove but when he visited the city he was so unfavorably impressed that he decided not to do so. His recent visit to the present bustling little city led him to believe that he made a mistake when he decided to locate elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker had been visiting in Eugene at the home of their daughter, Mrs. L. M. Travis.

No Presbyterian Services Sunday.

On account of the meeting of the Oregon synod, now in session in Eugene, there will be no preaching services Sunday at the Presbyterian church. Sunday school will be held at 9 o'clock, an hour early, in order that those participating in the Sunday school work may get to Eugene for the forenoon session of the synod. Those with cars who can take additional passengers have been requested to be at the church following the close of Sunday school.

Residents Here Picnic at Roseburg.

A number of residents and former residents of Cottage Grove picnicked Sunday at Roseburg. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Venke, of Glendale, Calif., who were on their way home from a trip to Portland; the George Brumfield family, of Coburg; the E. J. Sears family, of Delight Valley, and the George Atkinson family, of North Bend.

To Assist Veterans.

For the purpose of aiding world war veterans who wish to apply for adjusted compensation, Miss Grace Norton, of Eugene, former secretary of the county Red Cross, will visit Cottage Grove one day each week. The day is yet to be set. Applications to the number of 150 have been filed from Lane county to date.

Rinkedinks Win From Curtin.

The Rinkedinks baseball team were victors over the Curtin team in a one-sided game played Sunday afternoon on the local field. The score was 17 to 5.
