SOCIETY

James H. Mills and Miss Carroll Hons, both of North Bend, were married at a quiet home wedding at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Karl E. Mills home. A. K. Sparrow, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of Mr. Mills. The ceremony was performed in a bower of yellow marigolds and snapdragons and fern and the same colors predominated in the luncheon which Mrs. Karl E. Mills served immediately afterward. Mr. Mills is a brother of K. K. Mills and Mrs. Mills was formerly head nurse at a hospital in North Bend. They will return today from spending a few days in Portland and go on to North Bend to make their home.

A pretty home wedding was held last Thursday afternoon, when Raymond Elwin Wicks, of Star, and Thelma Lovetta Thomson, of Dorena, were married in Eugene, at the home of P. W. Davis, uncle of the bridegroom. The rooms were attractively decorated with pink and white flowers. The bride wore a becoming dress of a delicate shade of pink crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The couple were unattended. W. J. Large, of Eugene, read the ceremony and the wedding march was played by Miss Opal Wagner, of Dorena. The newlyweds are expected to return today from a honeymoon trip to Portland and Seaside.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willian, who have recently returned from South Dakota, the Willian and Jennings families held a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McCullum Sunday, August 10. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest West, Zora West, T. H. Willian, John Willian, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas West, Mr. and Mrs. George Willian, Fordyce and Laurel Edith Willian, of Thurston; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willian and Delmar Willian, of Camp Crook, S. D.; Sam and George Jones, of Oakland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Magellan, Elmer and Carl McCullum, Mrs. Elsie Patten and Mrs. Pearl Suter, of this city.

Miss Hattie May Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith, of Star, and Lafayette G. Cornwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Cornwell, of Roseburg, were married last Saturday afternoon in Eugene. Following the ceremony the couple returned to the bride's home, where they found a large number of guests and a wedding dinner awaiting them. The newlyweds are making their home at Star.

Complimenting Mrs. Harry Hart, the occasion being her forty-fifth birthday anniversary, Mrs. Tom Lafoon, her daughter, and Mrs. H. B. Breedlove were hostesses Wednesday evening of last week at a surprise dinner party at the Breedlove home. The Hart and Breedlove families, George Hewitt and Mr. Lafoon were invited for the affair.

The members of the staff club of the Rebekah lodge, with their families, enjoyed a picnic dinner followed by a social evening Tuesday in the I. O. O. F. hall.

The M. P. G. club members, with their husbands and families, will go to the N. W. White picnic grounds this evening to enjoy their annual picnic.

The Mizpah class of the Presbyterian Sunday school, with their friends, held a "corn feed" Tuesday evening in the church parlor.

Mrs. W. W. Sherbridge entertained the ladies' foreign missionary society of the Free Methodist church yesterday afternoon.

The Presbyterian missionary society will hold its regular meeting next Wednesday afternoon.

Row River Society.

About 50 neighbors and friends gathered Wednesday of last week to surprise Uncle Zeno and Aunt Betty Earl, the occasion being their golden wedding anniversary. Aunt Betty's birthday anniversary occurred the day before. Several useful presents were received by them. The evening was pleasantly spent in conversation and playing games, after which refreshments were served.

DEMENTED MAN WANDERS OUT OF HILLS AT ANLAUF

An unknown demented man, who had apparently been out in the rain all night, wandered into the Al Brown home about a mile from Anlauf station early Monday morning. He told of losing some money in the mountains but did not remember who he was, where he had been or anything pertaining to his past. He spoke brokenly in a language not recognized by people at Anlauf. The stranger had in his clothing a ticket from Hood River to Reno, Nev., that he said a policeman in Portland had helped him buy.

There is a possibility that the man had wandered for days in the mountains, possibly across the Cascades from Hood River.

The man was fed and provided with dry clothing by the Browns, who then sent to Drain for a deputy sheriff to take charge of him. He is now at Roseburg in charge of the Douglas county sheriff.

DUKHOBORS ARRIVE AND BUY LANE COUNTY LAND

The fear that a colony of Dukhobors from Canada have determined to settle in Lane county seems to be well founded. A party of that sect arrived in Junction City several days ago, made a large deposit on farm land near there and left before they could be seen by a committee of American Legion men from Eugene, who went to Junction City immediately upon hearing of their arrival.

American Legion news of the county have protested against the settlement of this sect in the county because of their reputed disregard for marriage and school laws of the land in which they live.

FOOTPRINTS OF PIONEER DAYS

Vaughn now lives in the city but within three miles of the place where her family settled. She has not been further than that away but a few times and her first trip to Loran was made only a few weeks ago.

When the Alexanders came to what was to be later known as the most favored section of the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette, they had to cut a road to their donation claim. Mrs. Alexander was the first to be buried in the cemetery now known as the Sears cemetery, the land for which was donated by Mr. Alexander. Others of Grandma Vaughn's family buried in the cemetery are her father, two sisters, two brothers, four children, two nephews and Squire Vaughn, her husband.

The squire was an important citizen of the community and lived to the ripe old age of 94 years. He was a pioneer of 1853 but was not married to Sinai Alexander until December 27, 1867. He was the first justice of the peace of this section and held that position during his entire active life and married many of the pioneer couples, performing altogether some 500 weddings. Mr. and Mrs. James Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Shortridge were the first two couples for whom he tied the nuptial knot.

Squire Vaughn was also the city's first miller and operated a burr mill by water power. The building he last used is said to be still standing near the Anderson & Middleton saw mill at Latham. Sid Vaughn, Squire Vaughn's son, until recently a resident here, was one of the first four white children born here. He and Boone Shortridge were born October 20, 1855. W. P. VanSchoick was born February 20, 1855, and John Harms December 9, 1854.

Among the school day friends of Sinai Alexander were Sophronia and Laura McFarland, the late Dr. W. W. Oglesby, James and Joe Porter and Jane Taylor.

Ten children, six of whom are living, were born to J. W. and Sinai Vaughn. No word has been received from one of them, Enoch, for nine years and his mother is not sure that he is still alive, although she counts him among the living.

Lemoore, Calif., July 29.—Editor Sentinel: I see that you want the names of all those who came to Cottage Grove before 1880. As this is my birthday, I thought I would tell you that on July 29, 1857, I was born on what is now part of the Bob Mosby place on Mosby creek. Forty years ago I was farming all the land in Cottage Grove south of Main street. The old Lurch dwelling was the only building there. The Lurch store had not yet been erected. Some change since then.

May and I are alone on the farm here. Dale and Maud have moved to town, where they have charge of a grocery store, which makes it lonesome for May and me out here.

Have just finished putting up my fourth cutting of alfalfa and will have two more cuttings but will let someone else put them up. Hay is $20 in the shock and unless we have early rain it may reach $35 by the first of the year. The hay crop where we are is fine but in most places it is very short. The grape crop is also short and stock of all kinds is cheap.

Wire Hook to Thread Needle Saves Time, Aids Eyes

To save time in threading a needle a device has been patented in Europe recently that performs the operation quickly, even in poor light. A slight pressure of the fingers pushes a hooked wire through the eye of a needle that has first been placed on top of a small spring. Then the strand is put on the hook, which can be done by an unsteady hand, and as the grip is released the wire passes out of the needle eye, carrying the thread with it through the hole.
