

SOCIETY

Mrs. Craig, Mrs. B. E. Job and Mrs. Bert Frank entertained the Presbyterian mission society yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. The feature of the afternoon was a summer Christmas tree which was adorned with packages of towels, the shower being in honor of the new girls' dormitory at the Albion boarding school at Franklinton, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. Georg Bjorset and Miss Wilma White were among the guests last night at the wedding of Miss Ethel Harvey Wakefield and Randall Scott at the First Methodist church in Eugene.

The regular business meeting of the Christian ladies' aid society will be held Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. At the close of the meeting the losing side in the recent apron contest, of which Mrs. A. E. Buell was captain, will be hostess at a banquet to the winning side, of which Mrs. W. H. Ostrander was the captain.

Mrs. O. W. Hays will entertain the Utopia club this afternoon at its regular meeting. Additional guests invited for the occasion are Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall, Mrs. A. G. Williams, Mrs. S. V. Allison and Miss Bertha Hays, the latter of Eugene and a guest at the Hays home.

Mrs. W. A. Cottle, of Afton, Ohio; Miss Vada Young, of San Francisco; Mrs. Francis Wicks, of Monroe; Mrs. G. A. Saunders and Miss Fannie Young, both of this city, are enjoying a family reunion at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Young, who live near here.

Mrs. S. E. McKinney had as guests at dinner Thursday last the following granddaughters: Mrs. Sophia Strub, of Central Point; Mrs. Mona Smith, Mrs. Kattie McMullen and Ann Clark, of Coburg.

Miss Edith May Clark, of this city, and Fred Ernest Tallar, of Springfield, were married Friday in Eugene. The young couple are making their home on Silk Creek.

NEW COFFINS GIVEN A TOUCH OF "JAZZ"

Bright Colors Displace Conventional Black.

St. Louis.—What will be next? The latest jazz-wrinkle designed to spread cheerfulness instead of deep gloom is competing with jazz music and jazz dancing. It is nothing more or less than the jazz era coffins now being shown by dealers. As if not to be outdistanced by the trend of the times, the casket manufacturers are turning out their finished product clothed in bright exteriors and interiors instead of the dreary and cheerless conventional black colors.

A few years ago such a casket would have created a sensation and shocked everyone. But today the casket has blossomed forth from an emblem of sadness to a thing of beauty. A visit to several undertaking establishments disclosed many interesting changes. More than 200 colors are used on modern caskets to meet a popular demand.

The reason for the revolutionary change in customs incidental to the undertaker's profession, as given by a veteran director, was that we now live in an age of jazz and that people no longer desire to be sad at funeral services. The old-fashioned and cheaply fabricated shroud of conventional black and other somber colors has given away to colorful and expensive suits and dresses.

The gloomy crepe one was wont to see appended to the door where a death had occurred has given way to wreaths of beautiful and varicolored flowers. There are so many styles of caskets being made and such a wide variety of colors utilized that the majority of undertakers have no space for the 150 samples. Funeral directors also point out that funeral services are not as long and drawn out as heretofore, but state that there is the same amount of respect shown at such occasions.

Even the time-honored hearse has been jazzed up. Instead of the conventional deep black and highly ornamented vehicle, they now are painted with a bright shade of gray to add a touch of cheerfulness to the cortege.

Radium Safe of the Bureau of Standards

Photograph shows Miss Tory of bureau of standards removing radium from the safe for storage measurement and packing. Tests are now under way at the bureau of standards to determine the extent to which employees working in the radium section are exposed to the rays. Radium rays in sufficient quantities will produce dangerous burns and may even cause death. In smaller amounts they may cause lowering of the blood pressure, nervousness, and many other symptoms.

Czechs Plan to Establish Prague as Air Capital

Prague.—The third international aircraft exhibition recently concluded here, served to emphasize the effort of the Czechoslovak government to make this city a center of European air travel on both the north-south and east-west routes, already in operation or contemplated.

English, French and German firms were among the 88 exhibitors. Mr. Srba, the minister of public works, in an address at the opening said that the movement to make Prague the junction for European air routes was gaining ground and it was now only a question of the conclusion of suitable treaties between the various states.

A new route between Brunn and Marisch-Ostrau is soon to be established and a great airdrome is to be built.

Plans to Hunt Lions With Bow and Arrow

Denver, Colo.—E. R. Welch, a Florida hunter, will hunt mountain lions in Colorado this summer armed only with bow and arrow, he has notified Stanley P. Young, in charge of the predatory animal division for the United States biological survey.

"No question about getting mountain lions if I get a shot at them," Welch wrote. "I can put an arrow through a one-inch plank. All I ask is that the lions be freed first. I'll guarantee to knock them off the highest branches."

Tales of the Town

Mrs. A. S. Newton is recovering from a skull fracture and a scalp laceration which she sustained Tuesday, when struck by a mail while helping her husband drive some fence posts. The mail flew off the handle and struck Mrs. Newton on the head. She was unconscious for several hours and was in a serious condition all Tuesday night but yesterday seemed to be resting easier.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brumbaugh, of Albany, former residents here, are soon to move to The Dalles, where Mr. Brumbaugh is to be principal of the high school.

MORE STOLEN CLOTHING BEING RETURNED BY ONE WHOSE CONSCIENCE HURTS

Any who lost clothing from their clotheslines about two years ago and have not had it returned to them recently are being neglected. The return of a princess slip to Mrs. F. W. Hawkins was recorded last week. Mr. H. H. Finster, from whom a skirt was stolen upon the same night that the slip was taken from Mrs. Hawkins, reports that it was returned to her upon the same night that the slip was returned to Mrs. Hawkins. A troubled conscience as the result of attendance at one of the religious meetings which have been held here, is thought to have been the impelling reason for the return of the stolen goods.

HONEYMOONERS EXPERIENCE MOSQUITOES AND BIG WIND

Braving a wind storm and fighting armies of mosquitoes are among some of the experiences which Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mays are having on their honeymoon trip through the middle western states, according to a letter received by Mr. Hawkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hawkins. The couples camped on the shores of Lake Michigan for one night but packed up and moved on when a wind storm from the lake blew so hard that it awakened them. The storm was accompanied by a dreaching rain. Mosquitoes have invaded Chicago and the great lakes region in terrifying numbers.

Minister Visits Couple He Married

Suk Creek, Aug. 26.—J. W. Sutton, pastor of an Episcopal church in New York city, arrived Tuesday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woolcott, whom he married a number of years ago in New York, when Mrs. Woolcott was from England, was met there by Mr. Woolcott who she arrived as one of the survivors of the Titanic.

Mr. Sutton has recently returned from a trip to England, where he visited Mrs. Woolcott's parents and relatives.

Tenth Street to Be Improved

Macadamizing of Tenth street north from Villard court probably will start within the week. Only one bid on the work was received. This was by Earl McNutt at about $250 the running foot. This is somewhat higher than the price at which Mr. McNutt bid in the Ash avenue job which he is now completing and for this reason, the council had City Engineer Townsend interview the property owners affected before awarding the contract. It was to have been up for final consideration at a meeting of the council last night.

Mysterious Fire at Sanders Home

An unexplained fire was discovered Sunday evening at the G. A. Sanders apartments, which are at the rear of the Electric bakery. When Mrs. Sanders returned from a picnic, she discovered the flames, which seemed to have started near a window and were just gaining headway. It was thought possible that a spark from a nearby fire might have blown through the window. There had been no fire in the building that day. A china closet, a curtain and a few small articles were destroyed.

CHEVROLET Not an Expense. A Chevrolet, judiciously used, can hardly be called an expense. The upkeep is remarkably low; its proper use saves time that is worth money; its judicious use for pleasure gives enjoyment and outdoor life that adds to longevity and subtracts from doctor bills. The small expense of judicious use of a Chevrolet is warranted by what the user gets out of it. BUICK For those who can afford a higher-priced car the same can be said of the Buick, the famous six.
