

FORMER W. L. & E. PLANT TO RUN BY OCTOBER 1

Repair Work and Overhauling Are Under Way; Earl Garoutte to Be Superintendent.

The former Western Lumber & Export company plant, purchased at receiver's sale by the Anderson & Middleton Lumber company, will be ready for operation about October 1. B. F. Johnson announced yesterday. A new hand saw, the only new piece of machinery which will be installed, arrived a number of weeks ago. A crew of ten men has been at work since the purchase of the property putting the machinery in running order.

Earl Garoutte will be the superintendent and is in charge of the preparations for operations. He was with the Bohemia Lumber company until it ceased operations upon cutting out its timber.

From 70 to 80 men will be employed in the mill when operations are resumed and the woods crew employed by the Anderson & Middleton company, now providing logs for the company's mill at Latham, will be increased by about the same number to keep both plants constantly in operation. A new compound two-speed unit donkey, with loader and yarder, has already arrived and will be transferred to the woods as soon as work is commenced.

Operation of the mill will increase the daily cut of the Anderson & Middleton Company in this city to about 170,000 feet daily. The plant at Latham is cutting around 90,000 feet, while the W. L. & E. plant has a capacity of about 80,000 feet.

Bad Fire Prevented at Saginaw.

Saginaw, Ore., Sept. 1.—(Special).—A fire on the Bart Johnston place Sunday was spread rapidly by a strong north wind and burned over the side hill before it was controlled after a hard fight. What might have resulted in loss of life was narrowly averted when Andrew Johnston discovered a quantity of dynamite, caps and fuse carelessly left by parties who had been blowing out stumps some time before. The fire had almost completely surrounded the explosives when Mr. Johnston discovered them and removed them to a place of safety.

Buy Store in Springfield.

J. S. McKay and Z. L. Cox, residents of this city for a number of years, have bought a second hand store in Springfield and have taken charge of it. They also bought the stock of a similar store at Marcola which they added to the stock in Springfield. The McKay family moved to Springfield the fore part of the week and the Cox family will move as soon as a suitable location can be found. Mr. McKay has rented his home here to Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hagen.

Girls Lose Way in Woods.

Mabel and Maude Blackmore and Helen Tower became lost in the woods one day last week while on their way to Loma Vista, the Graham homestead west of the city. The three girls started for the place early in the morning but did not arrive until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. They succeeded in reaching the De Vere place and were piloted from there by a De Vere boy.

Mrs. Fishburn Dies in California.

Mrs. Jennie Fishburn, who a number of years ago made her home here with her daughter, Mrs. B. S. Swengel, died Wednesday of last week in San Jose, Calif., at the Swengel home. It was thought that cancer of the stomach was the cause of death. The funeral was held there.

Girls on Hike to Crater Lake.

Miss Rose Haldeman, of this city, accompanied by Miss Pearl Heath and Miss Lulu McLaughlin, both of Monmouth, left Roseburg Friday on a hike to Crater lake. The girls were taken to Roseburg by motor by Miss Haldeman's mother and sister, Mrs. Chris Haldeman and Miss Emily.

August Library Report.

The library report for the month of August is as follows: Number of fiction read, 704; non-fiction, 18; juvenile, 337; total, 1058; money received in fines, $6.58. Mrs. H. F. Edwards and Nelson Durham Jr. each presented the library with a book during the month.

OREGON CLIMATE LAUDED WHEN LOCAL PEOPLE SEE MINNESOTA RAIN STORM

Oregon has the best roads and climate of all the states, write Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Chapman, who are on a motor trip in the middle west. The Chapmans had just received The Sentinel which told of the amount of the recent rainfall and were inspired to compare Oregon's precipitation with that of Minnesota. During a night which they spent in Minneapolis, 3.58 inches of rain fell between 8 p. m. and 10 a. m., thunder and lightning accompanied the downpour, while for a period of 36 hours in Oregon the rainfall was but .8 of an inch. On another night, while camped in a park at Ashland, Wis., the Chapmans were kept awake for three hours by the thunder, which came in a continuous roll, with numerous loud crashes by way of variations.

HONEYMOONERS SEE FORDS MADE AND SHIPPED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mayes, honeymooners on a trip through the central states, were greatly entertained by their visit to the Ford plants at Detroit. On account of Mr. Mayes, being salesman here for the Ford company, the party were shown special attention and were given a special guide. They saw the molten iron, the molten glass and other raw material used in the manufacture of Ford cars and Fordson tractors and saw it go into the making of Fords and Fordson pieces by piece. While they watched a number of cars were completely assembled and loaded for shipment to Woodson Brothers, Cottage Grove—at least, they assumed they were being shipped here.

Detroit is supported largely by the automobile industry and the Ford plants alone employ some 100,000 men. A considerable portion of the expense of manufacturing flivvers must be that of showing visitors through the plants. Several parties of half a hundred or more go through them every day.

The honeymooners had traveled 3876 miles when they reached Detroit and are now headed home.

PICNIC PARTY LEAVES OPEN FIRE NEAR LUMBER

That the danger and seriousness of leaving burning embers has not been fully impressed upon those who live here so much depends upon the preservation of the timber is illustrated by a recent incident. A picnic party was held a few days ago near the Peters & Mosby lumber docks at Walden. A large bonfire was built and after the party had broken up Mr. Mosby found that no attempt whatever had been made to extinguish it. Dry grass was near and the lumber piles were not more than 100 feet away. The fire warden was notified and he caught up with members of the party on their way to the city and had them return and extinguish the pile of embers. Those who returned said that they were in no way responsible for the building of the fire.

MAD PET DOG ATTACKS C. A. KING, WHO KILLS IT

A four-month-old collie and shepherd pup owned by C. A. King went mad last Friday and was killed by Mr. King. On Wednesday the dog had two fits but soon recovered and played with the children as usual. Mr. King had gone into his engine house Friday forenoon, when the dog, suddenly gone mad, endeavored to attack him. Mr. King caught the dog's head in the door of the engine house and killed him with a wrench. It is thought that the extreme heat must have caused the dog's illness.

GENERAL CANNING MIGHT FOLLOW ERROR IN AN AD

Readers of the advertisements derived considerable healthful entertainment out of the ad for Gray's Cash & Carry which appeared last week. In bold display type it was announced that CANNED peaches and pears were on sale. Of course the ad should have said that CANNING peaches and pears were on sale. A number have inquired whether the man who wrote the ad, the printer who set it and the proof reader who read it have been canned and are also on sale.

DEFENCE DAY PROGRAM PLAN OF PATRIOTIC GROUPS

Move Is Test of Rapidity With Which Emergency Call of County Can Be Met.

The local observance of National Defense Day, September 12, will include a parade on Main street in the evening followed by a program at the armory. Enlistment papers are now in the hands of various business men for the convenience of those who wish to enlist.

Defense day is not a militaristic movement. The United States has the smallest standing army and navy of any of the nations and Defense day was conceived as a means of testing the rapidity with which, in an emergency, the country's call for men could be answered. The new recruits, who enlist for one day, will be sent with D company, which is trying to reach a strength of 250 for the day.

Arrangements are in charge of R. L. Stewart, of the American Legion, chairman, F. A. Clow, of the G. A. R., Mrs. Ethel Applewhite, of the W. R. C., Mrs. C. C. Cruson, of the Ladies auxiliary to the Legion and Lieut. W. S. McCaleb, of Company D.

Rodeo Prize Winners.

London, Sept. 2.—(Special).—A fairly good crowd attended the rodeo at Calapooya springs Sunday and Labor day. The weather was ideal and there were no accidents. Winners of the prizes were Hoyt Smith, grand prize of $50; John Thompson, $25; Frank Woodridge, Jr., $25; Louise Thompson, $25; Frank Woodridge Sr., $20; Jack Thompson, $17.50; Ed Thompson, $20; Damewood, $7.50; Pullen, $10; Kirkpatrick, $15; Summers, $7.50; Harrington, $3.50.

TIMBER FIRE ON SMITH CREEK IS UNDER CONTROL

A large fire in private timber at the head of Smith creek, in the Mosby creek district, gave considerable trouble for several days last week but the fire fighters kept it confined almost entirely to old burns and but little standing timber was injured. No fires have yet occurred in the national forest timber.

Blackberry Price Is Up.

The price being paid for blackberries at the cannery has been advanced to 4 1/2 cents the pound. Up to September 1 the price was 4 cents. Even at the advanced price receipts of the fruit have greatly decreased, the dry weather having caused a shortage.

Has Article in Masonic Magazine.

The Masonic Analyst for August contains an article, "A Mason's Duty and Responsibility," written by Elbert Bede, past master of Cottage Grove lodge and member of the jurisprudence committee, Oregon grand lodge.

Thomas Simpson Lebow.

Was born in Granger county, Tennessee, Jan. 22, 1828. When he was aged 9 years his parents moved to Pettis county, Mo. He lived in that state until 1849 when, early in April, he started across the plains

PET DEER AND KITTENS LIVE IN AMITY.

Animals, wild and domestic, live in amity in this favored section of the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette. The picture shows a pet deer and two pet kittens lapping milk from the same plate at the Stanley Hickey place, south of Cottage Grove. The picture was taken by Mrs. R. W. Kennedy.

FOOTPRINTS OF PIONEER DAYS

Interesting Events in the Lives of Those Who Laid Sturdy Foundation for the Present Generation

Referring again to old copies of The Cottage Grove Leader, furnished by Mrs. J. P. Graham, a fund of information concerning pioneer Cottage Grove and its residents is found in a New Year edition of January 7, 1899.

An introduction to a mining story, Editor L. F. Woolley, yet living as a resident of Eugene, had this to say: "Cottage Grove is the liveliest and most promising city in the valley. Its mining industry is destined to surpass in extent and richness anything in operation in these United States and the city certainly will be entitled to term herself the Eldorado of the west."

A bird's eye view of the city is given which shows many vacant spots where are now residences or business blocks. It was taken from mount David, where oil well operations are now in progress.

Pictures are shown of the churches of the city and of the high school building which has just been torn down. It was spoken of as a most modern school building of which the school district was justly proud.

Interesting beyond all other material in the special edition are the biographical sketches of the old pioneers, Thompson Simpson Lebow, William Small, Silas Lane, Clayburne Veatch, James M. Chapen, Phillip Numbers, C. H. Wallace, John Curran, Joseph Taylor, Jerry Taylor, James Shortridge, Sylvester E. Veatch, William Curran, Wallace W. Shortridge and Jack Sears. A photograph of each appeared. All had heard except Simpson Lebow and he wore his hirsute adornment in the style made famous by Oom Paul, of Boer war fame.

The Sentinel will reprint these biographies, with the caption to readers to remember that they were written 25 years ago. The first installment follows:

William Small.

The next pioneer coming to our notice is among the wealthiest and most respected citizens of the upper Coast fork, William H. Small, born in Pettis county, Mo.

In the spring of 1850 the Small train rolled out for the Willamette valley and wintered at Brownville, having made the journey in six months without serious accident. Mr. Small did not settle upon his homestead, however, until 1861, having spent the intervening years in other parts of the valley. About this time he was married to Martha A. Cooley, four sons and one daughter being born to this union. These children are now numbered among the most prominent and respected people of south Lane. Their names are L. T. Henry, Nancy C., G. A. and R. C. Small.

Thomas Simpson Lebow.

Was born in Granger county, Tennessee, Jan. 22, 1828. When he was aged 9 years his parents moved to Pettis county, Mo. He lived in that state until 1849 when, early in April, he started across the plains

GROVE PEOPLE IN PORTLAND HOLD FOURTH REUNION

One Hundred Persons at Picnic; Mrs. W. F. Hart Succeeds Mrs. Joseph Best as Head.

The fourth annual picnic of former Cottage Grove residents now living in Portland was held Sunday at Peninsula park, Portland, about 100 being present. Following dinner, which was served at 1 o'clock, the following officers were elected: Mrs. W. F. Hart, president; Mrs. A. W. Kime, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Best, secretary; Mrs. W. F. Thompson, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Woodruff, Mrs. Roy Romaine, Mrs. Sophia Fallert and Mrs. William Simpson, executive committee. Mrs. Joseph Best, retiring president, presided over the meeting.

The day was spent socially, severing of those present meeting for the first time in 30 years. In the group were seven who attended school in Cottage Grove 35 years ago.

SIUSLAW MOONSHINERS GET SIX MONTHS AND FINES

Four of the lower Siuslaw men arrested a few days ago by Sheriff Taylor's deputies on charges of violating the liquor laws and from whom a large quantity of moonshine was taken, pleaded guilty in the Eugene justice court and received the maximum sentence of six months in jail and a fine of $500.

Buck Mowreder was sentenced on a charge of unlawful possession of liquor; Claude Mowreder on a charge of selling it; Ben Wright on a charge of possession, and M. S. Johnson for a sale.

Another charge, that of transporting liquor, has been placed against the two Mowrederes, but this case has been continued.

Cornelius Buchanan, arrested with the others, has not yet appeared in court.

Martinez in Wreck; Not Injured.

A Ford car owned by Jesus Martinez and being operated by him at the time, left the highway Saturday night while Mr. Martinez was on his way to his home south of the city and crashed into the railway fence alongside the highway. The accident happened a short distance south of Latham and several posts of the fence were demolished before the car came to a stop. A wheel of the car was demolished. Mr. Martinez, who was alone in the car, was not injured.

By ox team. About 30 wagons were in the train at the start, but it dwindled to about half a dozen families before reaching the coast. He was not satisfied with the prospect in California, where he first stopped, and shipped by water to Portland that fall and wintered at Brownville. In 1853 he took his donation claim and two years later enlisted under Captain Buoy as a volunteer to fight the Rogue River Indians, who were then giving much trouble in southern Oregon.

He was mustered out in the following summer and was married Oct. 15, 1857, to Miss Hannah Jane Shields. He has raised a family of three boys and two girls, all of whom are married except the youngest son, John. The married children are: Mrs. Nancy Porter, Mrs. Judie Brumbaugh, Marion and James Lebow.

Silas Lane.

One of the oldest and most respected men of Lane county is Silas Lane, now living in this city. He was born in Granger county, Tenn., nearly 80 years ago. With his parents he moved to "The Banks of the Wabash" in Indiana and from there to southeastern Missouri, where he lived until the spring of 1852, when with old Mr. Hazleton, who was practically the founder of Cottage Grove, he started for Oregon. Their outfit consisted of five wagons and they made the trip in just five months to a day, landing at Foster, Cheka-mas county. Mr. Lane wintered near Salem and located on his donation claim in 1853. Here he lived for 45 years and followed his chosen occupation, that of a farmer. During the past year, however, his health becoming poor, he sold his farm and has since resided in this city.

Mr. Lane was married in 1835 to Sophia Garoutte. They have but one child living, Jackson G., who resides at Red Lodge, Montana.

READER DOUBTS WANTAD STORIES—TRIES ONE FOR HERSELF—IS CONVINCED

One reader of The Sentinel admits that for a long time she doubted the truthfulness of some of the things she saw printed therein concerning the wonderful efficiency of Sentinel wantads but has been convinced. She became curious enough to test the wantads for herself and advertised a stove for sale. A few minutes after the paper was delivered the stove was sold and the ad was ordered out. The advertiser, Mrs. James Robison, is now convinced that so far as the stories printed about the wisdom of using the wantads are concerned The Sentinel is a very truthful newspaper.

JAMES SEARS RECOVERING FROM PAINFUL INJURIES

James W. Sears is slowly recovering from painful injuries sustained last week when thrown from his wagon while in his way here from the Annie mine in the Bohemia district to get supplies. The accident happened near the Len Owen place at Star. The horse which he was driving became frightened and jumped sideways. Mr. Sears being thrown out over the front wheel behind the horse's heels. Mr. Sears remembers grabbing one of the horse's legs but doesn't know what followed. He was rendered unconscious and did not recover until about evening after a physician had been summoned by Mrs. Owen, who found him. The accident happened at noon. After he had recovered consciousness he was brought to his home on Silew creek. No bones were broken but the vertebra between the head and shoulder was seriously injured and it will be several weeks before Mr. Sears will be around. Mr. Sears has been mining in the Bohemia district for over 30 years. He with John Coffman are working the Annie mine.

CAR IN WHICH GROVE MEN TRAVEL IS DEMOLISHED

H. C. Rose, of the Thornton Corners neighborhood, who left recently for his former home in Ogema, Sask., has reached his destination after a somewhat thrilling trip, according to word received by Mrs. Rose. The automobile in which Mr. Rose and several other Cottage Grove men left Cottage Grove was completely demolished before the trip was completed, but damages were collected and a new car purchased for the remainder of the trip. Mr. Rose will remain in Canada during harvest, having property interests there.

MOUNTAINS AND STREAMS ARE VISITED LABOR DAY

Business in the city came to a standstill Monday for observance of Labor day. The business houses of the city were closed and the mills of the vicinity were closed down. A number of the mill employes went to Wendling to take part in the 4L celebration there. Many parties went out Saturday night and remained in the woods and mountains over Sunday and Monday and others took to the woods, mountains and streams on one or both of the days. A large number attended the rodeo at Calapooya springs.

FRESHMAN REGISTER SEPT. 13, ALL OTHERS AT OPENING

Registration for the approaching term of school which opens September 15, will be as follows: Freshmen will register on Saturday forenoon, September 13. All others will register on the opening day.

Miss Queen is to be the teacher of the fourth grade of the east side school, instead of Miss Craine, as the name was published in the recent issue of The Sentinel. The error was the result of misreading on the part of the reporter who secured the list of assignments.

SECTION OF HIGHWAY TO NORTH IS TO BE PAVED

The section of Pacific highway from the north city limits north to the bridge over the Coast fork is to be paved this fall, such an agreement having been made with County Judge Barnard, who attended a recent session of the highway commission. This is a new section of the highway but the grade, which has been rock, had been used for a year and should be in the best condition for the laying of hard surface.

LORANE ORCHARDS HAVE BEST CROP IN THEIR HISTORY

This Is Despite Dry Weather and Only Half Crops in Other Parts of Country.

Despite about 50 per cent crops elsewhere, what probably is the best pear crop in its history is being harvested this year in the Lorane valley. This applies to both quantity and quality. The young trees have come into bearing splendidly. The picking of the Bartlett has been completed and about 95 per cent of these were No. 1 grade. The picking of the De Anjou will start within a few days or a week.

More than 150 tons of the Bartletts were shipped to Salem and Eugene.

Obituary

Mrs. C. B. King.

Mrs. Charles Brandon King died Tuesday evening from a complication of diseases. She had been confined to her bed for nearly a year. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Methodist church, J. H. Ebert officiating. Interment will be in the A. F. & M. O. O. F. cemetery. Mrs. King was born Sept. 25, 1846, at Shelbyville, Tenn., and her maiden name was Miss Malvina Nicholas. She joined the Methodist Episcopal church at the age of 16 years and was over after a faithful member. She was married May 31, 1868, to Mr. King, four children being born to this union. The family came to Oregon in 1895 from Tennessee, settling first at Yoncalla. They lived in Eugene before coming here 15 years ago. The husband and two sons, John O. King, of St. Louis, Mo., and Carl J. King, of this city, survive. There are four grandchildren, Jean and Virginia King, daughters of Carl King; Mrs. Clarice Gardner, of Ashland, and Charles King, of Portland, daughter and son of C. Ross King, a former resident of this city, who died a number of years ago in Albany. A sister, Mrs. Nanette Hemley, of Trimble, Tenn., also survives. ***

F. J. FAVOR.

Frank Joseph Favor was found dead at his home Friday morning when a daughter went to his room to call him for breakfast. He had been heard moving about his room after midnight. The cause of death was thought to have been heart trouble. Mr. Favor had been ailing for two years but was thought to be improving. He was born in Viroqua, Wis., March 9, 1874, and had been married twice. Mrs. Teresa Woodhouse, Hazel, S. D.; Mrs. Jessie Axlen, Rockford, Illinois; and Joseph Favor, Spokane, Wash., are children by a first marriage. Three children by the second marriage, Hilda, David and Lucile, are at home. The family came here five years ago from Wisconsin.

GRANGE ENDORSES MOVE FOR AGRICULTURALIST

The plan for reestablishing the office of county agricultural agent in Lane county were unanimously approved at a meeting of Lane county Pomona grange at Creswell Saturday. Over 100 grangers from over the county were present.

The endorsement was in the form of a motion to appoint a committee to confer with representatives of the farmers' union to take steps to have the office of agriculturalist reestablished. Before a vote was taken an understanding was reached that approval of the motion was to constitute endorsement by the Pomona grange.

The committee consists of C. S. Wells, Eugene motor route B; O. E. Crowe, Lorane, and G. W. McFarland, Cottage Grove.

DO YOU FIND SHOPPING A PLEASURE?

Some folks do. They're the modern shoppers—the ones who know just what they want—how much to pay—exactly where they will find the right goods at the right prices. They're the ones who realize the value to them—of advertising. They make a practice of reading the advertisements in the newspapers. Sitting at ease in their homes they formulate their shopping programs. They note the things that interest them particularly and plan to cut out waste motion, unnecessary steps and lost time. Planned in this fashion, shopping loses its terrors. It no longer leaves the shopper jaded and jaded. It starts the shopper off with a definite objective and brings her home with a feeling of something accomplished. Read the ads in The Sentinel and save time, worry and money.
