

WINNING FOOTBALL TAKES MORE THAN SPEEDY BACKS

You've got to have team-work and interference.

You can't win all life's battles by speed either. You need "assistance" to gain success, and wealth, and other things you want, just the way the man carrying the ball on the gridiron needs it.

Money in bank will "take out" the opposing obstacles and open the way to victory.

J. W. GOODMAN BURNS TO DEATH AT COBURG

John Wesley Goodman, 73, native of Oregon and resident of Coburg for 17 years, was burned to death when his home in that little city was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. To add to the horror, Mr. Goodman's neighbors and friends, knowing that he was inside the burning house, could do nothing toward his rescue, as the flames had made such headway that they were unable to enter. They could see his body which had fallen over a small stove and some declare that they heard him speak. It was believed that Goodman fainted and fell over the stove, overturning it and setting fire to the house.

OLD NAMEPLATE BRINGS RECOLLECTIONS OF MANY EDITORIAL POSTMASTERS

That Cottage Grove has several times had a newspaper man for postmaster is brought to mind by the fact that an old newspaper heading, that of "The Western Oregon," was resurrected in the postoffice several weeks ago.

The Western Oregon became The Sentinel some 16 years ago and the nameplate has not been used since then. Just how it got into the postoffice is not known, but 16 years ago, when the postoffice was around the corner from Main street on Fifth street, the newspaper office was in the old Larch building a few yards away and D. M. C. Gault, former newspaper man, was postmaster. Jack Howard, of Dorona, also former newspaper publisher and also former postmaster, does not recollect that he carried the nameplate into the postoffice and is of the opinion that Mr. Gault must have done so, probably wishing to use it for a paper weight. When the postoffice was moved, the nameplate went along and was resurrected after Elbert Smith, one of the publishers of The Sentinel, became postmaster.

Obituary

Lawson H. Slagle.

Lawson H. Slagle, for many years a resident of Cottage Grove, died October 22 at Pacific Grove, Calif., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. H. Scholer, with whom he had lived for several years. The funeral was held there October 24. Dennis Slagle, formerly a resident here, is a son. Lawson Slagle, of Star, is a grandson. Mr. Slagle had been a Mason for 50 years but was not a member of the local lodge.

William H. Lucky.

William H. Lucky, a resident of this section for half a century, died Monday afternoon from a complication of diseases following several years of illness. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the chapel, with Pastor A. J. Adams, of the Christian church, officiating. Interment was in the Taylor-Lane cemetery.

Mr. Lucky was born in Washington county, Oregon, October 22, 1855. He was married in 1890 to Miss Almada McCoy, who died December 10, 1918. Surviving children are Charles Lucky and Mrs. Alby Ritchey, both of this city. Other surviving relatives are the mother, Mrs. Clara Numbers, of London; Robert Lucky, of this city, brother, and Mrs. Lillian Turpin, this city, and Mrs. Levi Geer, Seattle, sisters.

Albert Wilton.

Albert Wilton was killed instantly Tuesday at the Culp creek camp of the Anderson & Middleton Lumber company when caught between a log and a stump. His chest was crushed. He saw the log falling from a pile and could have gotten out of the way but evidently did not realize his danger. He was 35 years of age and is survived by a widow and two children.

Mrs. Louisa A. Huff.

Mrs. Louisa A. Huff, widow of the late W. P. Huff, died suddenly Tuesday night. She had eaten a hearty supper and was apparently feeling well when taken with a choking spell. In less than half an hour she was dead. Mr. Huff died in much the same manner several months ago. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the chapel, Pastor Clevering, of the Baptist church, officiating.

Louisa Aligned Harvey was born in Bates county, Mo., near Butler, November 26, 1840. She was married November 21, 1866, to W. P. Huff, the union continuing for more than 57 years. There are five surviving children, J. C. Huff, Dufur; N. J. Huff, Alpine; and Mrs. E. E. Lucky, W. F. Huff and Mrs. C. C. Conner, Cottage Grove.

HOME ON WHEELS IS 2100 YEARS OF AGE. STOPS HERE TO SPEND NIGHT

A touring car, the body of which had been made from a giant fir, stopped here several days this week. It was owned by Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Cave, who gave their address as the Pacific Northwest because their home town neglected to give them aid in building their unique cottage or in financing a trip that would have advertised the little town far and wide. The tree from which the body of the car was fashioned was, however, grown in Skaggett county, Washington. A year was required to find one of the correct size and proportions to be used for the purpose.

An air auger was used in hollowing out the monster log and 13 months was required to change the log into a finely-appointed home on wheels with practically every convenience to be found in any home. It has a shower bath, a sanitary toilet, kitchen sink with running hot and cold water from a pressure tank, clothes closets, kitchen cabinet, dresser, pullman berths, dining room table, cupboards, linen closet, electric lights, buffet, electric fireless cooker, electric appliances of various kinds and many other comforts.

The tree from which this home on wheels was fashioned was 2100 years of age. It started growing 176 years before Christ was born and was 1783 years of age when Jamestown was founded.

LANE COUNTY BRIDGE FOUND TO BE DANGEROUS

Two of Them Are on Row River; All Built for Traffic Before Motor Days.

A number of Lane county bridges, two of them on Row River, are in a dangerous condition, according to a report which has been made by a state highway engineer, who inspected the bridges in company with O. S. Callison, county bridge inspector.

Practically all of Lane county's bridges were constructed for the wagon traffic of 20 or 40 years ago and there was no thought of their bearing the loads to which they are now subjected in this age of 10-ton trucks. It is remarkable that they have stood up under the strain so well. The time has arrived, however, when the county must close many of them to traffic or take chances upon damage suits which might cost more than new bridges.

That portion of the report dealing with Row River bridges reads as follows:

"The Row River bridge (No. 20-3W-36) Currin bridge) is on a connecting road between Row River and Mosby creek and carries considerable heavy traffic. The chord members and diagonals of this bridge are very badly worm-eaten. They probably are not more than 25 per cent as good as new lumber. Mr. Callison has barricaded this bridge in an attempt to shut off traffic, but when we visited the site the barricades were down and the bridge was still in use. The floor beams are also badly worm-eaten and the rods have pulled in some instances as far as two inches into the timber. This bridge should be immediately closed to traffic and either abandoned or replaced by a new structure."

"The Row River bridge (20-2W-32) (Kelley bridge) is on a side road leading into the main Row River road. It probably carries very little heavy traffic. There is some worm action in the chords, although not so bad as in most of the other bridges inspected. There is, however, considerable decay in the bottom chord, near the southeast corner of the bridge. This portion of the chord is probably not over 25 per cent defective. The vertical rods have pulled into the floor beams approximately an inch through the span. In view of the light traffic at this point, however, this bridge could probably be carried with a little reinforcement of the bottom chord at the point mentioned and a replacement of any broken or decayed stringers. The approach to the bridge are in very poor shape and should be extensively repaired at once."

This is the combination that has been booked to appear at the Arcade theatre Sunday and Monday evenings.

Featuring Novak's girls' jazz band, Ivy Lillie, the famous jazz singer, the Novelty male trio of singers and comedians and Katherine Smith, the dainty little dancer, the Novelty Revue comes to us headlined as one of the best shows on the road today.

Referring to the Mary White bridge on the London road the report says: "This structure is in better shape than any of the other bridges inspected. There is a slight crushing on the bottom of the floor beams where the vertical rods come through. This defect should be repaired by the installation of new plates. The floor system itself is very light and heavily overcrossed even under a 10-ton truck. With the addition of a new system of floor beams and stringers, and with other general repairs, this structure could doubtless be carried for a few years more."

Other bridges named in the report were the Coburg bridge, the Hayden bridge, the Hendricks bridge and the Tom Long bridge. Ages of bridges in this section have been given by Mr. Callison as follows: Currin bridge, 105 feet, built in 1883; Coast fork bridge at Saginaw, 43 feet, built in 1884; Red bridge, 106 feet, built in 1896.
