

COTTAGE GROVE WINS FINAL GAME

Oakland Is Again Defeated by Strong Forward Pass Offense

The Cottage Grove football squad completed the season on Thanksgiving day by defeating Oakland here, the score being 32 to 0. The locals did not lose a game after starting their winning streak. Oakland had a stronger team than when the two teams met earlier in the season but they were outplayed at every point of the game by the locals, despite the illness of Bartels, who starred in all the other games of the season. The locals piled up the huge score largely through a strong forward pass offense. In the second half the locals had little trouble making yardage whenever they had the pigskin.

Cottage Grove's lineup was: Nelson, C; Longfellow, LG; Shipp, RG; Currin, LT; Scheufele, RT; Ballew, LE; Glass, RE; Heard, LH; Gordon, RH; McCargar, Q; Skilling, P.

Substitutes were: Swanson for Heard; Adams for Glass; Richmond for Scheufele.

Essex in Ditch; Not Injured.

An Essex coach driven by a demonstrator went into the ditch at the turn from the detour onto the paving just north of the city Wednesday evening. The car turned half way over but not a pain of glass was broken and the driver escaped without injury. The car was righted the following morning by the Billy Hall wrecker. This is the third car to go into the ditch at the same place within a few weeks.

New Grade Red Crown Is Popular

The Standard Oil company's winter grade gasoline has created something of a sensation in public interest, according to C. H. Bussey, local manager for the company. The extensive advertising campaign used in putting the new gas on the market is given credit by Mr. Bussey for the initial interest, while the remarkable performance of motors which have been fed the new grade of volatile fluid has caused the interest to continue.

Before the new grade of gas was put on the market, extensive experiments were made to make certain that a gas was being obtained that would be a quick-starting fluid, as well as evenly balanced, giving 100 per cent power, rapid acceleration and maximum mileage.

Mr. Bussey has no hesitancy in saying that the winter grade Red Crown is by far the best grade gasoline on the market.

Speeders Should Not Disturb Slumbers of Pitcher

Those who wish to break the speed laws in the early mornings should make certain that in doing so they do not break the slumbers of Marshal Pitcher. Also those who take a back street for an exhibition of speed should make certain that the marshal is not in that section in performance of some of his manifold duties as street commissioner, water commissioner, deputy sheriff or something else.

Pitcher's bedroom is not far from Pacific highway. He heard a car come into the city from the south for several mornings in succession at a speed that he estimated as considerably above that permitted by law. From the regularity of the speed law infraction, he suspected that the same person probably was responsible each morning. One morning he was on the street at the time the speedster was due to arrive and the result was that John Fulmer contributed $5 to help keep down the rate of taxation for the city.

Pitcher chanced to be on Ash avenue when Bob Schaeffer was "stepping on 'er" and he parted with $5 that might otherwise have been used for the purchase of gasoline.

Drops Dead When She Stops for Visit

Mrs. A. B. Smith, of Gowdyville, dropped dead from a stroke of apoplexy Saturday evening as she stepped from an automobile at the home of Herman Rudolph, where she and Mr. Smith were to spend the evening. The funeral was held this afternoon from the chapel, A. R. Spearow, Presbyterian pastor, officiating. The body was taken to Lemoore, Calif., for interment.

Effie Ellen Aldridge was born September 6, 1877, at Clearmont, Mo. When 18 years of age she moved to California with her parents. She married Mr. Smith in California and in 1917 they came to Cottage Grove, purchasing a place in Gowdyville.

Surviving relatives are the husband, the mother, Mrs. Mary Aldridge, who made her home with her daughter, a brother, Charles Aldridge, and two children, Clarence and Beulah.

The Bohemia Lumber Company has started operations at its mill out from Divide. The mill in the woods and the planing mill and dock at Veatch spur have undergone extensive repairs and remodeling since purchased from A. L. Woodard several months ago.

THERMOMETER DROPS TO FREEZING ONLY ONCE

The monthly report by Nellie Stewart, local cooperative weather observer, shows that during November the thermometer dropped below freezing but once, on the last day of the month. The complete report is as follows: Mean maximum, 48.6; mean minimum, 37.8; maximum, 60 on the 20th; minimum, 30 on the 30th; precipitation, 11.23 inches; cloudy days, 9; partly cloudy, 6; clear, 15.

County Eoad Contract Bids Rejected

All bids on the grading of 1.7 miles of the road over the divide between Maple and Fiddle creeks in the western part of Lane county have been rejected by the county court as they were deemed excessive. It was decided to invite bids on two separate sections of the job instead of one and it is thought that the work can be done at a lower figure. These bids will be opened December 13.

DAUGHTER OF JOAB POWELL DIES AT 92 YEARS

Mrs. Ann Carmical's Death Leaves But One Survivor of Family.

London, November 28.—(Special.) Mrs. Ann Powell Carmical, last but one of the family of the pioneer preacher, Joab Powell, died here November 26 at the home of Mrs. Robert Powell, a granddaughter. She was aged 92 years, 6 days. The funeral was held Thursday at the Bemis cemetery, J. E. Banton being in charge. Interment was beside the body of the husband.

Ann Powell was born near Independence, Missouri, Nov. 20, 1832. She united with the Baptist church at the age of 16 years and was a charter member of the church at Providence, Lane county, Ore., at time of death. She, with her parents, Joab and Annie Powell, who had a family of 13 children, 9 boys and 4 girls, crossed the plains by ox team in 1852, arriving at Scio, Ore., in the fall of the same year. She was married to P. G. Carmical Jan. 9, 1853. To this union were born 9 girls, three of whom survive. They are Mrs. Mary E. Geer, of Cottage Grove, Mrs. Harriet McDowell, of Redmond, Ore., and Mrs. C. E. Carey, of Spokane, Wash. She is also survived by one brother, A. T. Powell, of Scio.

Mrs. Carmical, with her husband, took up a donation claim at Providence, Ore., on part of which the Baptist church now stands. In 1862 they moved onto the Santiam river in the Sweet Home valley near Lebanon, where they operated a sawmill. From there they went to Sodaville, where they built the first hotel and store at that place. In 1906 they moved to London, where Mr. Carmical died in 1908. Mrs. Carmical made her home with her daughter, Mrs. McDowell eleven years, coming to Cottage Grove in July, 1924, and living with her granddaughter, Mrs. R. B. Powell, near Hebron until her death.

Heavier Loads Were Allowed Years Ago

Years ago heavier loads were permitted upon the highways of the county than now.

The Sentinel recently published the load limits which have been put into effect for the winter on the macadam roads of the county and also the load limits of years ago, as given in an old court order.

A comparison of these shows that years ago a load of 5250 pounds could be hauled on 3-inch tires, while the winter limit now is 4200; a load of 5687 could be hauled on 3 1/4-inch tires, while now the limit is 4550; a load of 6125 could be hauled on 3 1/2-inch tires, while the present winter limit is 4900; a load of 6562 could be hauled on 3 3/4-inch tires, while the limit now is 5250; a load of 7000 could be hauled on 4-inch tires, while the present winter limit is 5600.

In the old days, evidently, not much attention was given to keeping good roads good. Smooth highways for fast motor traffic were not demanded as they now are. A road in which a vehicle would not mire was a good road, but today all that is changed. Even macadam roads must be kept smooth and experience has shown that this can not be done when heavy loads are permitted on them during the wet winter season.

Union Services Held.

Union Thanksgiving services were held Thanksgiving day forenoon at the Baptist church. The sermon was by A. J. Adams, pastor of the Christian church. Other pastors of the city took part.

THE "WATER CURE" FOR VOLSTEAD LAW VIOLATORS.

This is a new kind of "penalty" meted out to men who can't leave intoxicating beverages alone. It was tried out in Cleveland, Ohio, recently when Police Judge Samuel Silbert offered six fellows—who had been arrested for not being able to walk a chalk line—the alternative of 30 days in the work-house or drinking 20 glasses of water a day. The unlucky half a dozen didn't know what a job they had on their hands when they elected the water. The first ten glasses were all right, but the second ten "seemed sorter unnecessary"—as one of them put it.

FOOTPRINTS OF PIONEER DAYS

Interesting Events in the Lives of Those Who Laid Sturdy Foundation for the Present Generation

(Cottage Grove Leader, 1899.) Never before in the history of Cottage Grove and Lemati has the prospect for a wonderful future been so brilliant as now; never before has the prosperity of the community been as promising. With the mines increasing rapidly in wealth and importance, with the immense lumbering industry employing hundreds of laborers and thousands of capital, and with a hundred other natural advantages at our very doors the people of Cottage Grove and Lemati should lay aside every prejudice and ill will and unite in one strong hearty pull to consolidate the two towns into one little city. The world looks on us askance and wonders what is the matter and the longer it looks the more amazed it becomes, for it seems that every cause and need for two distinct corporations has long since vanished.

Time was when the more progressive element of Cottage Grove desired power to bond the city and establish a water system and electric lights. The division of the town resulted and those two objects were no sooner attained by the one side than the opponents of these necessities recognized their mistake and lost no time in doing likewise.

In like manner has every other point of difference, heretofore apparent, now vanished and there is not a single tangible reason why the expansion idea should not hit the town, in municipal affairs, a hard and decisive blow.

The division of the two towns is the greatest drawback to this place now existing. We are one people, one city, one school district in fact, to all intents and purposes, and now let us get the name of being one city and we will have taken the longest step towards a bright future, yet taken. Let us commence the year '99 with our shoulders to the wheel, left foot forward and march.

If we haven't exactly what you want—or can't produce it—if it is anything in the printing line—we can get it for you. xxx

Hotel Clerks Keep Marriages Secret From Friends

Herbert Adams and C. L. Lawton, day and night clerks at Hotel Burtell and recent benedicts, put one over on their friends all right. Adams has been married for a month and Lawton for three months, but the news did not get out until a few days ago when their wives arrived from Portland to spend Thanksgiving.

Nor did either of the men know that the other was married. Adams' bride was Loretta Atkinson and she was for many years a resident here. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson, now of North Bend. She has returned to her secretarial work in Portland but hopes to be able to make her home here shortly.

Lawton's bride was Mrs. E. M. Fenton, who is known to many as a demonstrator of Amazoil oil. She was here several months ago giving a demonstration, but the romance which culminated in marriage had started before that. This makes 25 employees of the hotel that have married within 14 years.

Prize Is Awarded For School Song

"Onward Cee Gee" is the title of the song which won the $5 prize recently offered by Principal F. L. Grannis for a high school song. Miss Kathryn McQueen is the author. The song is as follows:

Our joys are many, our worries few; You wonder who, we answer you: We're students all of Cee Gee High, That name will never, never die.

We know we'll win— We can't give in— Hurrah for Cee Gee High.

Chorus: Onward, onward Cee Gee High; Let your motto be, "Do or die." We sing you praises to the sky, Onward, onward Cee Gee High.

Boys who fight for Gold and Blue; We're behind you staunch and true; We're always here With a rousing cheer For the boys of Cee Gee High,

And when we praise Our high school name Our cry will always Be the same: (Chorus.)

Prisoners Eat Turkey.

Many of the prisoners in the county jail probably fared better on Thanksgiving day than if they had been outside. Sheriff Taylor furnished three large turkeys, cranberries, pumpkin pie and other fixings and left the prisoners to do the cooking. He had no worry about any of them trying to take leave until after dinner.

Those at the county farm were treated equally as well. Spearow Tells Experiences. Ralph Spearow's recital of some of his recent experiences in Japan attracted a large audience to the Sunday evening service at the Presbyterian church, of which he is pastor. A resume of the talk will be given in Thursday's issue of The Sentinel.

The story of Spearow's trip will be continued next Sunday evening and will be completed at a later session after the arrival of several thousand feet of film.

HAND DEFEATS STRONG MAN SAXON

Man With Big Biceps Is a Victim of Toehold and Wristlock.

Ralph Hand, local middleweight wrestler, started the season Wednesday night by defeating Arthur Saxon, strong man.

Saxon gave a strong man exhibition Tuesday night and there were few who saw the way ropes and chains snapped in his hands who thought Hand had a chance with him.

Saxon won the first fall in 13 minutes with a new form of headlock. He merely clamped his arms over Hand's head scissor fashion, pulled hand to the floor and held him there.

Hand took the next fall in 13 minutes with his famous toehold, which he applied with such force, in conjunction with a facelock, that the foot was injured and Saxon took pains in the next round to keep it in the safety zone. Hand took the winning fall in three minutes with a wristlock and body scissors, forcing the man with the big biceps to the mat.

Following the match Saxon made the statement that no one in Hand's class had anything on him.

"Butch" McQueen was the third man in the ring.

Water Is Refused To Outsiders

Medford, Ore., Nov. 25.—The Medford city water commission announced today passage of an ordinance prohibiting the sale of water from the city system for domestic or irrigation purposes to anyone outside the corporate limits during the summer months, when water restrictions are in effect. The order applies for both domestic and irrigation purposes, so residents outside the city will not be able to obtain it, even for household uses, during the restricted period next summer.

By cutting off the outside users the commission expects they will dig their own wells or, in some cases, will petition to be taken into the city.

Corvallis High Is Champion.

Salem, Ore., Nov. 27.—The Corvallis high school football team today won the state championship outside of Portland by defeating the Salem team here 9 to 7.
