

ARE YOU ALL RUN DOWN?

Many Cottage Grove Folks Have Felt That Way.

Feel all out of sorts? Tired, achy, blue, irritable? Back lame and stiff? It may be the story of weak kidneys! Of toxic poisons circulating about upsetting blood and nerves. There's a way to feel right again. Help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many Cottage Grove people: Mrs. J. W. Clark, 8. 2nd St., Cottage Grove, says: "My kidneys were in bad condition and I suffered with a continual dull, nagging headache. I had no energy and became run down. I also had spells of headache and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills helped me wonderfully, strengthening my back and kidneys and benefiting me generally." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Clark had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. mr27a3

SOCIETY

Christian Endeavor Entertains. The Christian Endeavor of the Christian church held a social affair Friday evening in the church parlors. The Endeavor quartet, Leslie Hull, Ralph Chestnut, Fred Beidler and Clem Sarff, assisted by other members of the Endeavor, gave a clever musical stunt, "The Side Show Minstrels." Others in the cast were Lula Hull, Claude Sherman and Mr. Forward. Miss Elsie Chestnut was the accompanist. Other members on the program were: Instrumental solo, Miss Veta Plaster; short address, Pastor A. J. Adams; instrumental trio, Miss Elsie Chestnut, Veta Plaster and Miss Helen Ostrander; musical selection and stunt, Leslie Hull and Bert Burrows; vocal solo, Miss Helen Ostrander. Games were played and these were followed by a banquet given by the losing side in the recent membership drive. About 125 were present. Sixty-five new members resulted from the membership drive.

Mrs. Clara Burkholder was hostess Friday evening to the Joker club. The popping of corn and the playing of five hundred were the diversions. House ferns were the artistic decorations of the tables. Ice cream and cake were served at a late hour. Invited guests of the club were Mrs. H. K. Metcalf, Mrs. B. K. Lawson, Mrs. E. W. Armes, Mrs. J. P. Graham, Mrs. J. Q. Willits and Mrs. Elbert Bede.

SPEAROW'S STORY

(Continued from first page.) ons from spiritual sacrifices to love spites. One man was going because his girl had refused to throw down another fellow. The captain on the boat had received a wire from the Portland office of the steamship company telling him that I was a clergyman and athlete. I guess he wanted to see how that combination worked and so I was asked to preach on the first Sunday out. I think all the creeds of the day were represented on the boat and so I was in a rather undecided frame of mind as to what to preach about. In my extremity I chose the subject, "Extremity's Creed." I wasn't asked to preach again.

Two days out from Yokohama I received a wire from the paper, Asahi Shimbun, welcoming me. I was met at quarantine and "photographed" into Tokyo, a distance of about twenty miles.

While in Tokyo I roomed at the Imperial Hotel, a beautiful place built by an American named Wright. It was little affected by the earthquake.

I was here six days and then went south to Kobe to meet the other men who were coming in from the other direction. We met them on September 29 and came back to Osaka to the Rokko hotel on the mountainside. Here we stayed 14 days. Much time was devoted to sight seeing in the cities of Narra and Kyoto and vicinity. Three or four days each week were spent in training and the rest of the time in speaking and visiting.

Our first meet was in Osaka on October 11. After this meet we spent a day in rest and then went by boat up the inland sea to Beppu. Here we had our first experience in a real Japanese hotel. Everybody took off his shoes at the door. There were only two English-speaking chairs in the place. All the rest were Japanese and they were only pillows. (To be concluded Thursday.)

Your home print shop—The Sentinel—should be always considered first. Usually it can handle any job of printing you may have. x

BANK OF ENGLAND IS TO BE REBUILT

Temporary Quarters Secured in Another Building.

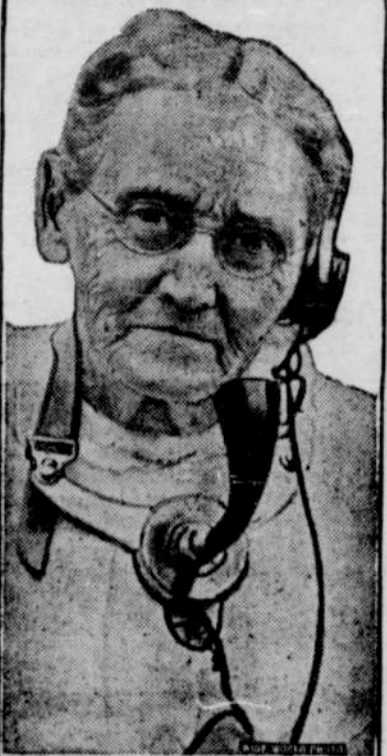

London.—After functioning in the heart of London's "richest square mile" for 230 years, the Bank of England will cease to exist as the "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street" on its present site at the end of this year. While not exactly undergoing a rejuvenating process, this national financial institution will be entirely rebuilt to meet modern needs.

In the meantime the huge financial operations connected with the nation's discounting of bills, financing the government and dealing with millions of interest payments on war loans and treasury bills will be handled in a comparatively new block of buildings about a quarter of a mile away in Finsburg Circus. Here will be the home of the "old lady" for about two years.

Strong rooms are being constructed in the new premises for the valuable private and government securities, which total around £125,000,000 sterling, and for the reception of £125,000,000 worth of gold bars and coin held as reserve against notes issued. Some of these valuable securities already have been deposited in the new vaults, but the bullion goes later in horse-drawn lorries.

During the moving process no strangers are allowed to assist in handling the hundreds of tons of treasures, the whole work being carried out by the bank's special staff.

Interest in Life Her Secret of Keeping Young

Mrs. Lois Dyer of Ashfield, Mass., who at the age of seventy-six is handling several hundred telephone calls every day. She is the oldest telephone operator in New England and her philosophy is worth a lot: "If you want to keep young have an interest in life."

Pharaoh of the Exodus Had Hardened Arteries

New York.—Examination of Egyptian mummies has revealed that the pharaoh of the exodus had hardened arteries, while Ramesses V suffered from a skin affliction suggestive of smallpox. Prof. G. Elliott Smith, Egyptologist of University college, London, said recently in an address at the Academy of Medicine. Canoes, rheumatism and mastoiditis were common 4,000 years ago, Professor Smith declared, and although thousands of human bodies have been unearthed only one case of goat and one of leprosy were discovered. Tuberculosis was extremely rare, while rickets, he said, was entirely absent. One mummy found in the pyramids had suffered from cancer.

Skeleton 1,000 Years Old

Montreal.—While digging the foundation of a new warehouse in Outremont, a suburb, a laborer discovered the skeleton of an Indian, which scientists believed to be more than a thousand years old. The body was in a sitting position, head between the knees, according to the funeral rites of the ancient Algonquins.

Persons Causing Fires Criminals, Says Chief

Worcester, Mass.—Persons responsible for fire through carelessness are criminals and should so be treated, said Fire Chief McCarthy at a hearing before the state fire commission here. The committee, appointed by Governor Cox, is seeking means to reduce fire losses in this state. "I urge the passage of laws making every person on whose premises fires occur answer before a court and there give reason for such fire," the chief said. "If he is unable to prove that the fire was not due to his carelessness or negligence he should be fined to make him realize his guilt."
