Thursday, Jan. 22—"THE LAW FORBIDS." A Universal-Jewel De Luxe with Baby Peggy and a great cast. Telephone girls comedy and International News.

SOCIETY

About 40 ladies were present yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Presbyterian ladies' aid society. A short business session was held followed by an interesting talk with demonstrations by Lucile Mint, national director of the "Free Community Art School." She gave those present an idea of her work and painted several sketches of the country surrounding Cottage Grove. Dainty refreshments were served. Invited guests of the society were Mrs. O. M. Baldwin, Mrs. VanVliet, Mrs. F. W. Hawkins, Mrs. G. W. McQueen and Mrs. James Potts. The hostesses for the affair were Mrs. E. C. Shay, Mrs. J. Q. Willis, Mrs. VanOsdal and Mrs. J. E. Blackmore.

The Social Twelve held their regular meeting this afternoon with Mrs. Clara Burkholder. The afternoon hours were pleasantly spent in social conversation and fancy work. Ferns made the rooms very attractive with narcissus and Christmas cactus. Invited guests of the club were Mrs. J. A. Merryman, Mrs. N. E. Compton and Clyde Lawton.

Mrs. Raymond Grube was hostess Tuesday afternoon at an informal reception in honor of Mrs. E. E. Arthur, who was here visiting from Portland. A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock followed by the playing of bridge. At the card session Mrs. Schofield Stewart secured the high honors and Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. received the consolation prize. The guest list included Mrs. G. C. Dyott, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. S. S. Lasswell, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. C. S. Roberts and Mrs. F. L. Grannis.

Mrs. C. E. Umphrey entertained the Utopia club this afternoon at the club's first birthday party. A short business session was held and officers were elected. The remainder of the afternoon was pleasantly spent in social conversation and at fancy work. A tempting two-course luncheon was served, a pink cyclamen centering the table and a lighted pink candle at each end of it. An individual birthday cake with a lighted pink candle was at each place.

Mrs. J. H. Chambers and Mrs. C. A. Beidler entertained the Tuesday Study club this week at its regular meeting at the Chambers home. The program was of India, taking up the study of the masques, temples, religion and the cast system in that country. Apples were served during the social hour which followed the study session. Mrs. Donovan, of Portland, who was a guest at the home of her cousin, Mrs. H. W. Titus, was an invited guest of the club.

Eight couples of school mates helped Paul Sanders spend a happy ninth birthday anniversary Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sanders. A dinner was served at 6 o'clock, followed by a theater party. The guest list included Helen and Ellen Town, Irma and Mildred Bennett, Jean and Alice Allison, Arvella Plaster, Evelyn Hays, Colin Garoutte, Jack Matlock, Leonard Mitchell, Harvey and Kenneth Williams, George and Ivan Harrington.

The LaComus club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. K. Metcalf. Chatting over needlework was the diversion followed by a delightful two-course luncheon. Snap dragons and paper white narcissus in artistic arrangement centered the luncheon table and large potted plants were the attractive decorations of the room. Additional guests for the afternoon were Mrs. E. A. Lilly and Miss Loretta Miller. The latter is of Salem and was visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. A. Bartell.

The Keepers of the Den held its regular luncheon this noon at the Gray Goose tea room. A short business session was held. Mrs. Fred Anderson and Mrs. C. H. Bussey have become members of the association.

APPROACHING EVENTS

The M. P. G. club will meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. K. K. Mills.

Mrs. Harold Dugan will entertain the Elmarles club Tuesday afternoon at its regular meeting.

The Past Matron's club will meet Monday afternoon in the banquet room of the Masonic temple, with Mrs. J. P. Graham as hostess. The annual election of officers will be held.

Plea for Statues of Creations of Authors

The citizens of Auch, the ancient capital of Gascony, have decided to erect a statue to D'Artagnan, hero of Alexandre Dumas' "The Three Musketeers" and "Twenty Years After."

In reality, of course, it is much more than a statue to D'Artagnan, who never existed for the world until Dumas called him into being. It is more than a statue to Charles de Bazant Castleman, the original of Dumas' hero, who was born far from Auch. It is really a statue to Dumas and the human imagination. Everything that has made D'Artagnan memorable and international came from a great maker of romances—D'Artagnan is one of the many creations of poets and writers that have become more real than real men.

It is always a fine thing to see recognition of such, the New York Sun comments. "There might even be more statues to great characters of literature and fewer statues to little characters of 'real' life. While there is no harm in remembering a man who leaves a fountain or a park to a village, the men who have left Odysseus, Hamlet, Falstaff, Faust, Jean Valjean and Natty Bumppo are, after all, the more deserving."

WORK STARTED PROMPTLY BY OREGON LEGISLATURE

attorney, was selected as mail clerk in the senate.

The first two bills introduced in the house today took a slap at two of the governor's hobbies, the state market agent and the governor's special prohibition fund. The two bills, introduced by Representative North, would abolish both.

A state constabulary to take the place of traffic officers employed by small cities of the state is to be brought before the session, and will be backed by the powerful A. A. A. organization. President Brandenburg is already on the job to trim the rough places out of the skids and apply the grease at the right time. A force of at least 25 officers, to be under the state traffic department, is the plan. Mr. Brandenburg states that his association stands strictly for a fair enforcement of the traffic laws and that any impression given by members that the A. A. A. membership protects them from prosecution for violation of law is an erroneous one.

Worse Than Devil's Island

Easter Island in the South Pacific is about the most undesirable place on earth for human habitation. No trees grow on the island because it lacks water and no birds will live there on account of there being no worms. The island is irregular in shape, being twelve miles by nine, by seven, and is very seldom visited by ships. Two hundred Polynesians inhabit it, and they suffer continually from hunger. It was first sighted in 1686. It then had 2,000 inhabitants.—Scien-tific American.

Far Enough

"Rastus, do you come by da chicken honestly?" "Uncle, I done come to it honest-ly, but dass all."

Cameo Cutting Hard Work

Much skill is exercised by the expert cameo cutter. He can only work at his task for a few hours at a time, because of nerve strain. A quivering hand may be responsible for the single stroke which will spoil a week's work. He must have an eye like a microscope, and a very delicate touch; he must be an artist in soul, and as skillful a craftsman as is a watchmaker; he must know how to model and draw and he must have a knowledge of chemistry, so as to remove offending spots. The work is executed in relief on many kinds of hard or precious stones, but especially the chalcedonic variety of quartz and on shells.
