STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Ore., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—No one can yet predict that any legislation is likely to appear that will jam the legislative hopper. There will be no consolidation legislation. That should save a week's time. Income tax will not get far. That should save another week's time. The prospect is that highway and fish legislation will take as much time as any piece of legislation likely to be presented, although the proponents of the child welfare constitutional amendment are planning to make a determined fight for its adoption, despite the poll of both houses which shows that it cannot be adopted. Special hearings will be held before committees.

The ways and means committee can not shorten its labors. The demands for money are greater than ever and there are as many departments of government as ever that must be provided for during the coming two years. Night sessions of this committee, with a large part of the citizenship of the state appearing before it, will start next week.

The complete cast of characters, consisting of more than 20 local performers, will be announced later. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of equipment for the high school gymnasium.

Income Tax Deputies Coming Here on February 27

Portland, Ore., Jan. 17.—During the six weeks beginning February 2 and ending March 14, experienced deputies from the office of Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, will visit the principal cities and towns of the state for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their federal income tax returns for the year 1924. This assistance is given gratuitously by Collector Huntley's deputies and taxpayers are urged to avail themselves of the service. When calling upon these deputies, taxpayers are requested to bring with them the income tax blank forms they will have received through the mail.

A representative from the Portland office will be in Cottage Grove from February 27 to March 3. Dates for other Lane county towns are, Junction City February 13-14; Mapleton February 16; Eugene February 16 to March 14.

State to Help Build Hendricks Bridge

The state highway commission has decided to cooperate with Lane county in the construction of the Hendricks bridge over the McKenzie at Eugene on a 50-50 basis. The cost of the bridge is estimated at $75,000 and work is expected to start next summer.

The state commission also decided the question of interest money on highway contracts with Lane county by mutual agreement should remain as at present. The matter of paying the stretch between Junction City and Harrisburg when the Harrisburg bridge is completed will not be taken up until February.

JUDGE BARNARD APPOINTED TO REPRESENT COUNTY

Lane county will be represented on the legislation committee of the state association of county judges and commissioners during the coming year as Judge C. P. Barnard was appointed a member of the state meeting which opened last week at Portland. Commissioners Clinton, Hurd and O. E. Crowe, of Lane county, are also among the more than 40 officials registered.

Footprints of Pioneer Days

Interesting Events in the Lives of Those Who Laid Sturdy Foundation for the Present Generation

EARLY SCHOOL MEMORIES RECALLED BY TEACHER

Many memories of old days were associated with the grade school which was torn down this summer before the new building was erected. It was during either the first or second campaign in which Cleveland was elected president that extensive repairs were made on the building, the belfry, and a second story added to the structure, according to O. O. Veatch, old time teacher and school director of Cottage Grove.

Cleveland was elected president the first time in 1884 and was defeated in the next election in 1888. He ran again, however, and was elected the second time in 1892.

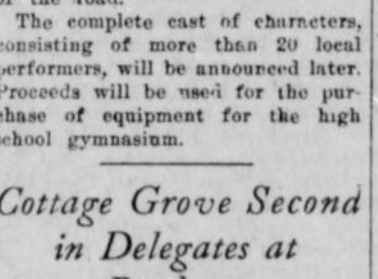

When the news came that Cleveland was elected, L. F. Wooley, a very ardent Democrat and later editor of the Cottage Grove Leader, was perched on the highest point of the belfry of the school building engaged in carpenter work. A number of others were gathered on the ground below discussing the election returns and the news.

How to Solve a Cross-Word Puzzle

When the correct letters are placed in the white space this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definitions listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

County to Employ Men to Work on Prairie Road

Practically all work on the improvement of the Prairie road on the 11-mile stretch as provided by Bond money will be done by county crews and equipment with the exception of the hauling of the crushed rock which will probably be let on contract, according to P. M. Morse, county engineer, who states that at the first sign of spring weather action will start on the project.

"We have plenty of gravel for the work at the county pit near Meadowview close to the route and two caterpillars of the county will be employed for the heavy part of the work," Mr. Morse said. The project will be completed by late summer, according to present estimates.

High School Quintet Loses in Game at Corvallis

The Cottage Grove high school basketball team was defeated in its first game of the season with Corvallis high at Corvallis Saturday evening by a score of 22 to 14.

The local boys showed a lack of experience but played a fast game and would have made a good showing for themselves had they been a little more at home on the floor. Only one man on the Cottage Grove team had had experience in interscholastic games.

The lineup for the Corvallis game was: Cledis Swanson and John Bartels, forwards; Clair Adams, center; Earl Ballew and Marvin Alcott, guards. Substitutes, Dana McCargar for Swanson, Ross Glass for Ballew, Linas Heard for Adams and Swanson for Bartels.

On Tuesday evening the high school team will go to Eugene for the second game of the season. A return game will be played in the gymnasium of the high school on Saturday evening.

Due to an error the name of Mrs. Lee Monteith was mentioned in the Delight Valley correspondence in The Sentinel as being in an Eugene hospital. This should have read Mrs. Lawrence Monteith.

Logger Is Paralyzed When Struck by Falling Tree

Ruben Rissue was seriously hurt Thursday afternoon while falling timber in the Potts-Turpin logging camp when a small tree, dislodged by a larger tree which was falling, struck him. One of the vertebrae just above the pelvis was mashed and is a serious injury. As a result of the accident he is paralyzed in the legs and hips. He is in a Eugene hospital.

Clyde Kerr severely cut his right foot when an ax slipped as he was trimming up a log at the Rajada logging camp Thursday. He was taken to a Eugene hospital and will be confined there several weeks.

Armory Money Sought by Cap. Cruson in Salem

Captain C. C. Cruson, commander of Company "D," 186th Infantry of the National Guard stationed in Cottage Grove, left for Salem today where he will endeavor to induce the legislature to make an appropriation for the erection of an Armory here. Captain Cruson was promised two years ago by the Lane county delegation and the Adjutant General if he would not try to force a bill at that time Cottage Grove would be given first place for the next appropriation made for armory construction.

The city of Cottage Grove voted $15,000 two years ago for an armory and this money is still available. The state is expected to match the $15,000 from the city and $15,000 from the county for the new building. When constructed the armory will be state property.

Hand Loses Pendleton Match to Pilling

Ralph Hand, Cottage Grove wrestler, was defeated in a match in Pendleton Wednesday evening by Frank Pilling, Chehalis, Wash., lightweight.

Hand got the first fall in 32 minutes with a square body scissors while Pilling took the next two in 23 minutes and 3 minutes. The second fall came when Pilling picked Hand up with a crotch and half Nelson and throw him to the mat with such force that the resulting fall and the third fall were mere formalities.

Auto Firm to Build

Construction work will start in the near future on a two story tile building to be erected by the Lane Auto Company, of Eugene, on the corner of Whitaker and North Seventh Street to be used as a garage and filling station. The lot was purchased some time ago by the Eugene company through the local realty firm of Hall & Lang.

Prompt Payment of Bills is Good Business Tonic

Merchants and Professional Men Find Golden Rule a Sure Community Builder.

Anybody owe you money? If so, you expect him to pay it as soon as his ability permits—a part of it, at least. And if you owe anybody a dollar, as an upright and square person, you make it a point to pay up the first chance you get. That's only human nature. The "golden rule of life," as it were.

Such is the gist of the message Cottage Grove's business and professional interests give you today in their educational campaign for a better and greater community. You'll find their talk, well emphasized by considerable sound logic, in this issue. Read it carefully. If everybody practices what these men preach, all Cottage Grove will be a great deal better off.

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" was taught to all of us on our mother's knee. But insofar as human nature varies considerably, none of us can truthfully say that we have always practiced that rule. We should however, make a special effort to live up to it in doing business—namely, paying your bills and expecting others to do likewise.

Without "cash on hand," no business can exist. And where can that cash come from, except that we pay up promptly—either when the goods are delivered to us or when the bill falls due. It takes money to make money and the business man must figure out where he's going to get his money to cover the cost of future production and overhead.

But, if we—and sometimes, through mere negligence, we have done it—failed to pay up our just bills, that business man will soon be worrying as how he can continue to serve us an give us the quality of goods to which we have been accustomed. And, worst of all, if we keep him worrying about getting his cash, he'll soon lose interest in Cottage Grove and its residents and seek a better paying field elsewhere. Thus, not only you but the whole town would lose a good friend and neighbor.

Paid up bills, indeed, add to the good name of Cottage Grove. The best feather we can have in our hat is to have the reputation that we're "square shooters"—always willing to do the right thing by others. And that includes—

PROMPTLY MAKING GOOD THE DEBTS WE CONTRACT!

(The next of these educational broadsides from local interests will appear during February. Watch for it.)

THE WELCOME SIGN

"Nobody asked you, sir," said the coy maiden. And in matters of buying, as well as in affairs of the heart, most people like to be "asked." Often, indeed, they insist on a proper invitation.

He is a wise merchant who keeps the welcome sign constantly before the community in the form of ADVERTISING in the home paper. There everybody sees it—for ADVERTISING is "the light of directed attention."

Speak up. Light up. Hundreds of good customers are listening for your message and watching for your Welcome sign in The Sentinel.
