

KIDNAPPED UNIVERSITY GIRL LEFT HERE BY CAPTORS

Officer Finds Young Woman in Unconscious Condition on Sidewalk in City.

An unconscious girl, who said she was thrown on the sidewalk by three men who had picked her up in an alley in Eugene as she was on her way to a class at the University of Oregon and forced her into an automobile where she was gagged, her clothing torn, an attempt made to put her under the influence of some kind of anesthetic, and threats made against her unless she would submit to her captors, was picked up here Monday by Deputy Sheriff G. B. Pitcher.

The girl, who gave the name of Margy Cooper, had no idea who her captors were and was in too dazed a condition when thrown from the slowly moving car to be able to see the license number, according to her story. The deputy sheriff immediately summoned medical aid when he found her on the sidewalk and it was some time before she came to sufficiently to tell what had happened.

According to her story she was held to the floor of the car, gagged, during much of the ride from Eugene to Cottage Grove. Whenever a car was in sight along the highway or people were in hailing distance a piece of cloth was held over her mouth so that she could not call for help.

Deputy Sheriff Pitcher at once telephoned to Sheriff Frank E. Taylor of Eugene and officers from Eugene came after the girl and took her back. She claimed that she was robbed of $10 by the three men. She is 20 years of age and a junior in the University of Oregon.

The officers were not completely convinced that the girl told the story exactly as it happened. Persons who were near the alley in Eugene where the kidnapping was supposed to have taken place and others who were within sight of the place where she is supposed to have been thrown from the car failed to notice anything unusual during the afternoon.

Rest Room to be Moved By Mothers' Club

The Mothers' Club is looking for a new location for the rest room as the room now in use must be vacated next month. M. C. Cochran now occupies half of the rest room for a jewelry store. It is considered unlikely that the club will be able to find a location on Main street for the rest room as practically every available building there is now occupied.

The possibility that the room might be moved to another street has been discussed. Heretofore the council has been providing $25 a month for the rest room. Whether this will be continued if the location is changed has not yet been decided.

Lester Rhodes and family, formerly of Bend, arrived here Tuesday and expect to make their home here. While they have not definitely decided where they will live they are considering moving to Birch avenue. Lester Rhodes is a brother of J. A. Rhodes.

Police Chief's Money Causes Arrest

A fifty dollar fine imposed on Frank Henderson, proprietor of a confectionery and soft drink store here, is evidence that Cottage Grove school boys will have to walk farther than a mile to get their favorite smoke if Deputy Sheriff G. B. Pitcher and City School Superintendent O. W. Hays have their way.

The chief-of-police, who is also deputy sheriff, and the superintendent had been worrying for some time over the stained fingers and strong breath of some of the most promising young men in the school. Monday afternoon the two men took some of the boys down the street in front of Henderson's store. Pitcher reached in his pocket, drew out two dimes and told one youngster to go in and buy the smokes. Although astonished by this liberality on the part of the city official the young fellow hastened to comply. Several more of the boys took advantage of the easy money before the arrest was made.

Henderson was taken into police court and fined.

MILITARY AFFAIRS COMMITTEE ENDORSES ARMORY BILL

Measure Passes to Ways and Means Committee; Five Appropriations Given Consideration.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Ore., Feb. 3.—Cottage Grove may now be considered fairly on its way towards an armory appropriation. Senator Maglady's bill for an appropriation of $30,000 for the purpose has met with the favor of the joint military affairs committee, after a hearing held here last night at which a delegation of eight from Cottage Grove were present. The bill will now have to pass the inspection of the joint ways and means committee, where it has a number of friends, among them being Senator Fisk and Representative Wheeler, both of Lane.

Cottage Grove was fortunate in having Senator Maglady on the military affairs and is now fortunate in having two members from its county on the ways and means.

Five armory bills were given consideration last night by the military affairs joint committee, the one for the Cottage Grove armory, one for an armory at La Grande, one for an armory at Forest Grove, one for an armory at Astoria and one for an appropriation to complete the armory at Silverton. The bill appropriating $300,000 for an armory at Portland was not given consideration.

Upon a vote being taken as to the priority of claims of the several cities, Cottage Grove was but a fraction of a vote behind La Grande for first place and is likely to be given first place by the ways and means committee because of the fact that it withdrew its bill of two years ago upon the promise of Adjutant-General White that he would recommend Cottage Grove for first place at this session and also at the earnest request of Governor Pierce, who wished to make an economy record. It was because of its action two years ago that the Cottage Grove bill met with such favor at the hands of the military affairs committee.

Adjutant-General White has kept his promise to recommend Cottage Grove for first position.

In the delegation that visited here Monday night were Captain C. C. Cruson, T. C. Wheeler, G. O. Knowles, C. A. Bartell, R. L. Stewart, W. A. Garoutte, J. E. Hill and I. E. Warner.

Knowles Elected Mayor When Chambers Resigns

G. O. Knowles was elected mayor of Cottage Grove to take the place vacated by J. H. Chambers, resigned, at a meeting of the city council held Monday evening. Mr. Chambers took the oath of office as mayor the first of the year but notified the council at that time that his business affairs would probably prevent him from continuing in the place for the entire year. Mr. Chambers tendered his resignation to the council early in January but it was not accepted until the meeting Monday evening.

Renewed Activity in City Building to Start

Indications that the building activity predicted for Cottage Grove for the coming year had started were seen in the granting of permits for two dwellings and one warehouse and shop and a number of smaller structures granted by the city council Monday evening. J. W. Craig will construct a home on Jefferson avenue west of 3rd street at an estimated cost of $4,000 and C. W. Caldwell will put up a dwelling house on Madison avenue west and 3rd street at a cost estimated at $1,500.

S. L. Godard will erect a carpenter shop and lumber warehouse on north Lane street. A permit authorizing the construction of sand, coal, and gravel bunkers at the same location was referred to a special committee by the council. In order that action might be taken on the warehouse Monday evening, the street committee, to which the permit was referred, inspected the location of the building during a recess of the council. Although one corner of the building will be in the restricted fire district the permit was granted.

H. O. Bennett obtained a permit to build a double garage and Harry Hart to do repair work.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white space this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill all the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill all the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

AMERICAN LEGION WILL HOLD SECOND ANNUAL REUNION

Cottage Grove Expects to Send 150 Ex-Service Men to Affair in Eugene February 12.

At least 150 ex-service men from Cottage Grove and surrounding country are expected to attend the second annual reunion of world war veterans of Lane county to be held in Eugene armory the night of February 12. This figure is based upon the number of veterans in the territory and the wide interest being taken in the affair.

George Love, of Eugene, chief de gare of the "Forty and Eight" of Oregon and ex-commander of Eugene post, American Legion, spoke to members of Calvin Funk post Monday night in the interest of the reunion. Plans are being made, Mr. Love stated, to make this show the biggest event of its kind ever held in this section of the state. Local legionnaires are cooperating with other posts in the county to make the reunion a success. Personal invitations will be mailed to every veteran in the county urging his attendance.

Calvin Funk post has set a goal of 100 members by March 1 and this goal was brought nearer realization Monday night by the addition of two new membership teams to the drive. Eight members of

Rogoff Clubs Gogoff Says Complaint

Harry Rogoff, employed on the new sewer being constructed on Sixth street, was bound over Tuesday by Justice-of-Peace Joe Young for a grand jury hearing on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The arrest was made following a fight between Rogoff and Dan Gogoff, another employe on the sewer, in which Rogoff is alleged to have struck his opponent with a club and taken money from him. Deputy Sheriff G. B. Pitcher took Rogoff to Eugene Tuesday where he is being held in the county jail. His bail was fixed at $250.

It is thought that an effort will be made to have the charge against the man changed from assault with a dangerous weapon to simple assault and hold the trial here in justice court. Gogoff has a broken jaw bone and is badly hurt about the head as a result of the fight. The quarrel is thought to have commenced over an argument about the amount of wages the men were getting.

The "Forty and Eight", headed by Pete Nelson will compete against a team of similar strength headed by R. L. Forward. The winning team will receive a cash prize of $25. Mr. Love offered a prize of $10, which was matched by a like amount by Lee Peters. The post added the remaining $5. Dues of the local post were reduced from $3.50 to $3, when it was stated other posts in the county had agreed on the smaller fee. The members of the Women's Auxiliary served lunch to the post members following the meeting.

SIDELIGHTS

Interest in the railroad situation which is causing considerable excitement in Klamath Falls and other places continues in Cottage Grove.

It has been pointed out that there is a strip of timber from the ocean east through Cottage Grove to Bend that would make a very attractive background for an east and west railway.

It is the impression here that certain railway interests in the north would like to have an outlet to California and that they intend to tap the timber supply around Klamath falls in building this connecting link with the south.

A railway line from Bend to the mouth of the Umpqua would pass lengthwise through one of the greatest bodies of standing timber in the state. A line running north and south would merely pass through this body of timber at one point.

It is thought that an east and west railway would handle most of the timber through this belt as it would be nearer the greater part of it than a north and south road.

In many respects the mouth of the Umpqua is one of the best natural harbors between the Golden Gate and Puget sound. That is another attraction which should appeal to an east and west railway line.

Sheriff Frank E. Taylor and Deputy Van Svarverud have gone to Klamath Falls to tell the authorities there how Deputy Sheriff G. B. Pitcher arrested John O'Shea. Pitcher stays on the job in Cottage Grove.

There may be something in the old ground hog superstition after all. Have you been watching the weather?

HEAVY RAINS BRING RIVERS TO HIGH WATER MARK

Traffic Continues as Usual on Highway Regardless of Storms and Bad Weather.

Very little damage has been done in Cottage Grove and vicinity as the result of the heavy winds and rain of the past few days regardless of the high water that prevails in most of the streams. Logging camps have been working on schedule during the week except in a few instances where the heavy rainfall has made it necessary to stop work for a short time.

While water is over the highway in a number of places there has been no interruption of traffic near the city. The heavy wind yesterday evening broke a power line of the Mountain States Power company and caused the lighting system of the city to be out of commission for some time. The street lights were placed on the regular lighting circuit for the night. Work is now going on to repair this damage and it is expected that all lights will be working as usual this evening.

The Willamette river has been at flood stage for the past two days and with indications of continued rainfall today is expected to rise still more. The Pacific highway is covered with water just south of the city limits of Eugene, near Judkins point. It is reported that water is over the highway in a number of other places, sometimes as much as eight or ten inches deep.

So far none of the trains of the Southern Pacific have been affected by the water. Stage lines generally are running on schedule. While a heavy wind was blowing in the city yesterday and last night and water was standing on the pavement there was practically no interruption of business and as many people seemed to be on the street as usual.

The local weather observer reports that the rainfall Tuesday was 1.001 inches and on Wednesday was 1.50 inches. Indications this morning were for more rain although it was not falling as fast as it did Tuesday and Wednesday. Melting snows in the Cascade mountains is one cause of the flood stage of the rivers.

Three thousand people read The Sentinel each week. What have you to tell this vast throng? xxx —twenty years ago one of the best known names in national advertising was James Pyle's Pearlline. The advertising had run continuously since 1873.

—in 1907, the concern having passed into the hands of an estate, the trustees saw an opportunity by which they could save many hundreds of dollars by cutting out the advertising.

—Pearline lost favor rapidly and in 1914 tried to come back. Several hundred thousand dollars were spent, which amount would have made a considerable dent on the market for a new product, but Pearlline was not a new product. It was trying to come back, which is infinitely more difficult and it did not succeed.

—another nationally known product stopped advertising for one year—and it took from five to seven years to regain the volume it lost.

—a merchant can build up a splendid business with persistent advertising. But few who once became advertisers ever follow in the footsteps of Pearlline.
