

A Leader Named Washington

In the honors accorded him in the infancy of this Republic were shown the affection, the esteem and trust in which George Washington was held by the people of his day.

As the years have multiplied, greater and greater tributes paid to the memory of the great Revolutionary General and First President have spoken eloquently of the debt this nation acknowledges to this steadfast, far-seeing, resourceful leader—in truth one of the founders of Liberty for the World.

In observance of the 192nd Anniversary of the Birth of Washington This Institution Will Not Be Open Monday, February 23.

Footgear from Old Automobile Tires Replaces Leather Shoes. Among the peasants and workmen of Spain, shoes made from cast-off automobile tires are being worn instead of the leather and wooden varieties. Cobblers make the footgear to order for their customers, using the outer tread for soles and the inside fabric for the uppers. A strong strip of the lining serves to hold the shoe to the foot. It is said that such articles are suitable for wear in almost any kind of weather met with in that country, and are much cheaper than those made from other materials. College and University The college has about the same relation to a university that a state has to the federal government—that is, as a rule, many colleges go to make a university. The term university, however, has been used loosely in the United States, some times applied to an institution offering non-professional instruction beyond the bachelor's degree and having affiliated professional schools. And Blame the Clubs Hardware Dealer—I've decided to take up golf. Don't you think I would be a good advertisement if I used the brand of clubs we sell? Clerk—No. While I was learning I'd use the brand our rival dealer sells.—Good Hardware. Three thousand people read The Sentinel each week. What have you to tell this vast throng? xxx
