Celebrating the 22nd Year of Rexall

Few things are more inspiring than the development of an institution which gives employment to thousands of people, and meets, with high quality merchandise, a general demand. When that institution also renders a public service, the joy and pride of those associated with it is by so much increased. Such an enterprise is the United Drug Company—the co-operative, manufacturing organization of The 10,000 Rexall Stores.

The Record of
Twenty-Two Years' Growth

In the short span of years since the Rexall Idea of Co-operation was born, the 40 original Rexall Stores have increased to 10,000. These 10,000 Rexall Stores own and operate, in the production of exclusive, trademarked merchandise, factories employing 10,000 people and containing over fifty acres of manufacturing floor space. In the United States alone, this co-operative enterprise—the United Drug Co.—has an annual business of $70,000,000.

This wonderful achievement has been made possible by the confidence and good-will of the people, who in hamlet, village and city instinctively seek The Rexall Store, when in need of drug store merchandise.
