A WOMAN'S SPIRIT.

Possibly 50 years ago she was a comely woman and had the swains of the neighborhood at her feet. The ravages of years have not entirely erased the lines of a once pretty face.

We venture the guess that in her younger years she was a vivacious maiden and the life of whatever company she was a member.

Today she has not lost all of that vivacity. She has more pep than some of the younger things who find it difficult to get from under the covers in time to dab their faces before lunch time.

She had been here but a few hours. She wanted a job, and was judged from her actions that she would come pretty near filling whatever job she might tackle.

"I was talking to one of your citizens a few minutes ago," she said, "and he tried to discourage me. He tried to tell me that I could find nothing to do. Why there is always something to do for those with the determination to find it, and I'm going to find it."

She was not discouraged because she did not find a long list of situations offered in the "Help Wanted" column. She disappeared briskly and soon was back asking how to reach half a dozen or more lumber camps where cooks might be needed. We feel quite certain that she has landed a job.

Before she departed she showed her spirit by remarking: "Those folks who are always discouraging others are not helping your town. Even a stranger can see that this is a likely little city. Surely there is work for those who really want it. Those who discourage one person about finding work may discourage another about finding a suitable piece of land, or about finding a suitable location for an industrial plant. Those 'discouraging' people make me sick. There should be no place in the world for them."

We could name 50 or more persons whom we should like to see inculcated with some of this elderly woman's spirit. They might be tipsy for a while but they need it.

OIL FOR THE HEADLIGHT.

Yes, it was a sure thing that oil would be found at Eugene and Cottage Grove, predicted the promoters who started drilling for oil in those places. And Dr. Olson claimed that he had an instrument which indicated where oil could be found. We all hoped that the prediction would prove true, as it would mean a real live boom in the Willamette valley if oil was found at either Eugene or Cottage Grove. We are beginning to lose faith in the proposition and in the instrument that could locate where oil could be found, as very little is being said as to how the drillings are planning out.—Tillamook Headlight.

The Sentinel is pleased to inform The Headlight that there is nothing wrong with the "planning" out to which it refers through a typographical error. It is the panning out that we are waiting for. Meanwhile the drills keep pounding away thousands of feet below the surface and we are assured, from information and observation, that oil is not far away. Anyway our money has been spent for drilling, which is a rather good indication to start with. The drills have hardly hesitated since they first bumped their noses into the soil, and the preacher to whom The Headlight refers is the most enthusiastic right now that he ever has been. Cottage Grove and Eugene seem to be standing by the preacher so long as the drills keep digging.

MORE NEWSPAPER ENGLISH.

(Halsey Enterprise.) The Junction City Times and the Cottage Grove Sentinel are discussing the misspelling of "exhilarate" by a contemporary. They might turn their guns on "exhonerate," which we often meet in exchanges. Last week the Enterprise attempted to differentiate between the head editor of a news paper, who heads the editorial staff, and the head-editor, who edits the headings of its contents, but the linotype operator used hypheons in both terms. An attempt to eliminate one of the hypheons when going to press miscarried and the linotype man had his way despite our efforts.

The Bandon World is to be complimented upon a 32-page development edition which it has just published. It gives full information about a country which it is difficult to describe in even a 32-page paper. Editor Felsheim always publishes a good paper but his patrons should long remember this special one.

The Corvallis Gazette-Times wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned-boy who used to turn the grindstone. That's easy, he's emulating for the man who used to sharpen his scythe while the boy did the turning.

SOCIETY

Mrs. D. H. Homenway entertained the O. L. H. club Tuesday at an informal afternoon of five hundred. Easter decorations were about the rooms. Mrs. S. V. Allison secured high honors and received a large chocolate rabbit. A delightful two-course luncheon was served. A large brown paper mache rabbit in a clover and sweet alpine nest was the centerpiece and Easter place cards were used. White laees were used on the table and yellow streamers ran from the centerpiece to each place. Guests of the club were Mrs. Allison, Mrs. O. W. Hays, Mrs. C. A. Stevens, Mrs. R. R. Meeks and Mrs. William Thum.

Nearly 100 were present last evening at a get-together banquet held at the Christian church by the three adult classes of the Christian church Sunday school. It being the first day of April, games suited to the occasion were played and were followed by a pleasant social evening. The entertainment committee were D. H. Remple, Mrs. C. W. Caldwell and Mrs. Roscoe Forward. The classes to enjoy the affair were the women's class of which Mrs. C. W. Caldwell is teacher, the men's class of which Pastor A. J. Adams is teacher and the young married people's class of which Bert Burrows is teacher.

The Tillamook club held an April fool party last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kurze. The members came in costumes appropriate to the occasion and the prize for the worst looking was awarded R. R. Meeks, who was dressed as a country boy from Montana. Pretty spring flowers were about the rooms. A two-course luncheon was served. A number of April fool jokes caused much merriment. Invited guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. William Thum.

Master Wayne Mackin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mackin, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary happily this afternoon, when twelve of his school mates responded to invitations and helped him enjoy the occasion. Games and play made the afternoon hours pass speedily. Wild flowers and buttercreps were the attractive decorations of the rooms and table. A large white birthday cake bearing lighted yellow candles centered the table and Easter baskets filled with candy eggs were the favors.

Miss Connie Coleman and Mrs. C. C. Cruson were hostesses last evening to the Toujours Prete club. Many devices were used to carry out the April fool idea. Wild currants with white spring blossoms were the artistic decorations of the rooms. Games suited to the occasion and contests were the diversions. A tempting two-course luncheon was served. Invited guests of the club were Miss Dolly Pitcher, Miss Kathryn McQueen, Miss Elsie Sterling, Miss Gladys Hockett and Miss Bonita Bengor.

Twenty members were present yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Christian ladies' aid society for which Mrs. E. A. Hughes, Mrs. F. W. Hawkins, Mrs. Leslie Hawkins, Mrs. M. P. Garoutie and Mrs. O. W. Hays were hostesses. A short business session was held and the remainder of the afternoon was pleasantly spent socially. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. R. A. Trask, Mrs. A. Ralph Spentow, Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Fred Wright attended a meeting of the Eugene Presbyterian Missionary society yesterday afternoon. The society entertained in honor of Miss Scholz, a national missionary worker, who gave an interesting talk the purpose of which was to increase interest in her work.

The Elmarts club met Tuesday with Mrs. Merville Veatch. The afternoon hours were pleasantly spent socially and a delightful two-course luncheon was served. An Easter nest was the attractive centerpiece of the table and Easter place cards were used. Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. Clyde Leonard were invited guests of the club.

Mrs. J. H. Chambers entertained the Methodist foreign missionary society yesterday afternoon at the church parlors. The study of China was completed with Mrs. F. L. Grannis in charge of the program. Spring blossoms were about the rooms. Dainty refreshments were served.

Master Jack Titus celebrated his second birthday anniversary Monday evening by having Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Heltwell and son Billy and H. W. Lombard in for dinner at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Titus.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Crabb entertained at dinner Sunday, their guests being the S. E. Crabb family and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crabb, of Curtin.

Mrs. H. W. Titus entertained the M. P. G. club Tuesday afternoon. Wild currents and Oregon grapes were the artistic room decorations. Fancy work and social conversation were the diversions. A tempting two-course luncheon was served, the table decorations being in keeping with Easter.

Rebekah lodge members entertained this afternoon at a surprise miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Sherman B. Knight, nee Miss Jessie Ferguson, a recent bride. The afternoon hours were pleasantly spent socially and dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. H. Daugherty was hostess this week to the Tuesday Bridge club at its regular 1 o'clock luncheon. Wild spring flowers were the centerpiece of the table and were also about the rooms. Mrs. C. J. Kem won high honors at the card session.

Miss Bertha Howe entertained Friday evening at a dinner party at Howe's confectionery. Following the dinner a theater party was enjoyed. The guests were Miss Marian White, Miss Susan Simpson, Miss Louise Kirby and Mr. Frans.

APPROACHING EVENTS

The Tuesday Evening Study club will hold its regular meeting next week at the home of Mrs. B. K. Job, with Mrs. Job and Miss Mariette Hamant as leaders.

The Lacomus club will hold a no-hostess luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday at the Bartell hotel.

DELIGHT VALLEY.

(Special to The Sentinel.) April 1.—Edwin Anderson arrived home last Friday.

Mrs. L. J. Allen and children, of Sutherland, were visitors at the W. A. Witchee home Saturday night and Sunday.

W. S. Blakely has been on the sick list.

The John Walden family, of Eugene, were week-end guests at the M. A. Horn home and both families were Sunday dinner guests at the Clyde Wright home below Walker.

F. E. Jackson and Mrs. Ben Jackson and children, of Walker, were Sunday guests at the Oscar Jackson home.

Miss Beulah Ranek, of Walker, was a guest of Miss Lois Jackson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jernigan, of Eugene, were Sunday guests at the A. W. Cornutt home.

Adrian Cornutt was given a birthday surprise Sunday afternoon at the Cornutt home by pupils of the seventh and eighth grades. A jolly time and refreshments were enjoyed.

Mrs. Brown, Miss Leota Brown and Howard Gay, of Eugene, were Sunday guests at the Lawrence Brown home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kent and children left Sunday by motor for a three months' trip. They will visit relatives in Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Schelly, of Eugene, were supper guests Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Witchee.

Mrs. M. A. Horn entertained the Social Neighbors this afternoon. Mrs. W. A. Keene and Frances spent Sunday with Mrs. Lowell Benston at Saginaw.

Word has been received here that Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nixon reached Nebraska safely on March 24.

Conrad P. Olson, former justice of the supreme court and former bank president, has been getting considerable publicity because he was caught in a Portland place that was being raided for moonshine. It is this kind of publicity for those in high places that is going to make obedience to the prohibition laws seem the proper thing.
