THE ORIGINAL WIG-WAG.

An Italian professor believes that he has proved that in early prehistoric days—before the first great Oregon mist in which only Noah and his family escaped, even before candidates for office started promising to reduce taxes—all beings were provided with caudal appendages in place of the power of speech and that in those days human beings made their wants known in much the same way that dogs of today wag their tails to show anger or joy or other condition of mind. That must have been how the idea arose of speaking of a story as a tale. The prehistoric wife probably wagged to her neighbor the information that her hubby had sprung a new one the night before to explain his absence from the family domicile until the wee small hours.

If some of the folks of that day talked as much as some of the folks of today, they must have had tails long enough to wrap around themselves and use for fur coats.

Following a discussion of the fallacy of permitting six months to elapse between the primary election and the general election, the Eugene Register asks: "Since parties are practically dead in Oregon, why hold two elections at all?"

The Cottage Grove proposal for an Easter innovation whereby all the women of the Christian church would go to church hatless, seems to have turned out more or less a dud after all. Some of the ladies wore their hats to church, and explained that they did not know a hatless day had been contemplated. Anyway, the town and the church received some valuable advertising abroad through the proposal.—Eugene Guard.

The Guard is in error. There was no dud. The women of the church went through with their stunt to a woman. Hats were worn only by four or five who were not members of the church and who did not know what was on—or off. The men complimented the women so highly for exposing more of their faces than their chins that they may continue the innovation indefinitely. Of course the women of Cottage Grove are the finest looking in the world, whether hatless or otherwise.

In the good old days of the long skirt we severely criticized the girl who adopted bloomers. In this day of the short skirt we more severely criticize the girl who doesn't wear them.

Mrs. Keziah Veatch Dies.
Mrs. Keziah Veatch, of Creswell, pioneer of 1864, died yesterday following a stroke of paralysis. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Presbyterian church here.

Mrs. Veatch was born January 2, 1843, at Milford, W. Va. With her parents she moved to Schuyler county, Mo. She was married to LaFayette M. Veatch in April, 1864. Shortly after the wedding they crossed the plains to Oregon, settling in this vicinity in October of that year. Mr. Veatch died in 1903.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Adolph Benter, of Creswell, and three sons, L. Wilson Veatch, Dayton, Wash.; William L. Veatch, Myrtle Point, and Elbert S. Veatch, Klamath Falls. There are twelve grandchildren and six great grandchildren. R. M. Veatch, of this city, is a brother-in-law, and Mrs. J. Q. Willets, Mrs. D. H. Hemenway, Mrs. Adeline Knox, Mrs. T. I. I. Saltzman, Mrs. Joe Young, Mrs. R. M. Mosby, of this city, are nieces and O. O. Veatch and John and James Wallace are nephews.

Girls Returned to Reform School.
Catherine Clark and Marguerite Warden, the two girls taken here a week ago with Fred Slater, have been returned to the reform school in Washington from which they had been paroled. Slater is serving a term in the county jail for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

President Campbell Returns.
P. L. Campbell, president of the University of Oregon, has returned to his home in Eugene from spending several months in California for the benefit of his health. Mrs. Campbell and his nurse were with him. While his condition is improved, the long trip fatigued him.

SOCIETY

Mrs. W. J. Woods was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the M. P. G. club at its regular meeting. Fancy work and social conversation, the usual diversions, were enjoyed. At 5 o'clock the guests were taken to the Gray Goose tea room, where a delicious luncheon was served. The table was centered with a pretty bouquet of salmon sweet peas and blue and white forget-me-nots mixed with green. Place cards had been cleverly designed to represent doughnuts to recall to the minds of members their recent doughnut sale, from which the club realized between $35 and $40 for the benefit of the proposed playgrounds.

Mrs. W. E. Mayes entertained at dinner Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McFarland, in honor of Mr. Mayes and Mrs. Dale F. Hawkins, the occasion being their birthday anniversaries. A large nest centered with a birthday cake was the centerpiece of the table and the favors were Easter baskets filled with Easter eggs. Easter colors were used for the room decorations. The guest list included the honored guests, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Bob Stacey, Miss Rita Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McFarland.

Mrs. George Matthews entertained her Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church at an Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon in the hay barn at the flour mill. Mildred Bennet and Beth Bede tied for the largest number of eggs found. In drawing straws Beth was the lucky one and received a novel crate of Easter eggs as a prize. Picnic refreshments were served. Invited guests of the class were Miss Olivian and Julia Ann Smith, of Portland, who were visiting here over the week end with relatives.

A family reunion dinner was held Easter Sunday at the J. H. Bennett home. Those present were the H. O. Bennett family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett, Mrs. Carrie Bomer, the Bob Allen family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitlock and son, Ernest and Glenn Bennett, Mrs. Esther Woodward and Miss Nellie Stiles. The latter is of San Francisco and is spending the summer at the homes of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bennett, and of her uncle, H. O. Bennett.

Miss Genevieve Woodard and Miss Ila Mason were hostesses Saturday afternoon to the King's Herald Band at its regular meeting which was held in the basement of the Methodist church. The rooms were artistically decorated with the Easter colors. The study program was on China, with Miss Frances Mackin in charge. An Easter egg hunt was held and dainty refreshments were served.

Keith Smith, of Lorne, and Miss Mary Dent, of this city, were married last evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles M. Reese. The ring ceremony was performed by A. J. Adams, pastor of the Christian church, only members of the families being present. The couple expect to make their home here.

Mrs. Victor Kem entertained the Elmartes club Tuesday afternoon at its regular meeting. Bridge was the diversion and a tempting two course luncheon was served at the close of the card session. Orchids in pretty arrangement centered the luncheon table and were also about the rooms. Additional guests of the club were Mrs. W. A. Garoutte and Mrs. Earl Garoutte.

About 15 relatives of Mrs. H. O. Bennett honored and surprised her Monday evening, the occasion being Mrs. Bennett's birthday anniversary, by going to the Bennett home for a social evening of five hundred and music. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at a late hour.

The Tuesday Bridge club held its regular 1 o'clock luncheon this week at the home of Mrs. G. C. Dyott. Orchids and ferns were the artistic centerpiece of the table. At the bridge session Mrs. Schofield Stewart secured high honors. Mrs. B. G. Koehler was an invited guest of the club.

Mrs. Daniel Hamant had as dinner guests Friday Mrs. Otto Gilstrap and son, Mrs. Lillie Crow, Miss Virgie Crow, Mrs. Netta Pennington and Mrs. Earl Atkinson, all of Eugene. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Pennington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garoutte entertained the following at an Easter dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Garoutte, Frank Snodgrass, Berle Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jorgensen, George Jacobsen and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garoutte.

Mrs. H. A. Miller entertained the O. L. H. club Tuesday at its informal afternoon of five hundred. A delightful luncheon was served at the close of the card session. Spring flowers were the artistic decorations of the table, while paper irises were the room decorations.

Miss Gwendoline Mooney and Wallace Bernarr Brainard, both well known among the young folks of the city, were married Tuesday afternoon in Eugene. They returned here yesterday afternoon and expect to make their home here.

Lynx Hollow Society.
The Community club was entertained Wednesday of last week by Mrs. Mary Smith, of Walker, assisted by her daughters Mrs. M. A. Horn and Mrs. Clyde Wright. In connection with the usual work, a shower was given Mrs. Cody Pontico, newlywed. Miss Elinor Nixon and Francis Horn entertained the company with piano and saxophone music and Mrs. Horn sang a solo. A number were guests of the club, among them being Mrs. Cody Pontico, Mrs. D. P. Caldwell, Mrs. James Grooms and Mrs. Charles Jackson, all of Cottage Grove. Dainty refreshments were served.
