KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

For Evening Supper

FOR the young people after skating parties, wintry sleigh rides or cozying parties, or for food for almost any party occasion, the following recipes will be found helpful. Most young folks like to prepare the food themselves and cook it, either over a chafing dish or in the kitchen. When making waffles borrow an iron or two, for waffles disappear rapidly where there are healthy appetites.

Waffles.—Sift one and one-quarter cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of soda and add, slowly, one cupful of sour cream or milk, one-quarter cupful of melted butter, three egg yolks. Beat well and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and cook on a hot waffle iron. Serve with butter and maple syrup.

Creamed Tuna.—Put six table spoonfuls of butter into a saucepan; add six table spoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt and pepper to taste. Stir into a double boiler with three cupfuls of scalded milk; cook until thick, then add one can of flaked tuna fish and four hard-cooked eggs cut into bits. Serve on hot crackers or in pastry shells.

Sweetbread Ramekins.—Cream and parboil one sweetbread and cut into small cubes. Melt two table spoonfuls of butter, add three table spoonfuls of flour and pour on gradually one cupful of chicken stock. Reheat the sweetbread in the sauce; add one-quarter of a cupful of heavy cream, whipped, one-half teaspoonful of beef extract and salt and paprika to taste, with a little lemon juice. Fill ramekin dishes, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown.

Cheese Souffle.—Melt two table spoonfuls of butter; add three table spoonfuls of flour and, when well-mixed, add one-half cupful of scalded milk. Season with salt, cayenne and one-quarter of a cupful of grated, snappy cheese. Remove from the fire; add the yolks of three eggs, beaten until thick. Cool the mixture and cut and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake twenty minutes in a slow oven. Serve at once.

Man-Made Earthquake

It is believed that the numerous small earthquakes recently reported from the Midlands of England are due to the handwork of man. In excavating for coal and iron the miner cuts away millions of tons of rock and coal and piles it on the surface, thus setting up all sorts of stresses. In July, 1913, dwellers near the coast of Carnarvonshire were started out of their sleep by loud subterranean rumblings, while the earth quivered over an area of many square miles. It was found that a considerable area of land lying between the Rivals granite quarries and the shore had started to slide seaward. The fact was that the waste of the quarries which for years had been dumped on this lower ground, had proved too much for it, and had set the whole ledge sliding, producing a very good imitation of a real earthquake.

If your business isn't better this year, the reason probably is that you haven't done a sufficient amount of judicious advertising in The Sentinel. xxx
