DIRTY MAN IS CAPTURED

Pure Waters Do Not Attract Debauched Finn.

The dirtiest man that Cottage Grove police officials have ever had anything to do with was taken to the county jail at Eugene Monday. He gave his name as John Simeon and said he was a Finn. He had been living in an old cabin near Disston but had not been attracted by the water in the several streams of that vicinity, which may be well for the fish. He said he had not eaten for several days and had not worked for several weeks. It was reported that he had frightened a number of women in the vicinity of Disston by asking for food and by disappearing before the food could be given him. He has since been sent to the asylum at Salem.

WATER PIPES ARE MOVED

Precautions Are Being Taken to Protect New Street Paving.

In order that there may be no need in the years to come to tear up the streets that are to be improved this year, water pipes that would come under the paving will be replaced with iron pipe or will be moved to the parkings. The pipe line for the entire length of the Sixth street improvement will be moved to the parking. At intersections of all the streets to be improved iron pipes will be run in both directions. Three thousand feet of six-inch wood pipe and a quantity of iron pipe has been ordered. The storm sewer on M street west from Main street to Silk creek is to be replaced at once. The cost will be $500.

Older Girls to Meet.

Ambitious Hen Puts 4 Legs on Chick

Big eggs have become so common in this favored section of the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette that a Plymouth Rock hen owned by Mrs. A. W. Cornutt decided to do something really out of the ordinary and hatched a four-legged chicken. Because of the lack of experience of the mother the monstrosity lived but a short time. The chick with the additional pedal extremities was the last of the spring hatch at the Cornutt place.

Small Lad Sustains Fracture.

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frady sustained a fracture of the right leg Monday forenoon when he jumped from the porch steps at his home. He intended landing on the back of his pet dog, which was lying on the ground, but as the lad jumped the dog sprang up and the boy alighted in such a manner that the fracture resulted. He was taken to a Eugene hospital after being given first aid treatment at the office of Dr. Dyott.

STREET ISSUE IS DEFINED

Incorrect Impression Was Given by News Story.

The Sentinel has been asked to correct an impression that might be drawn from the report of the council meeting at which the contract for street paving was let. The statement was made that to have accepted concrete for all the streets except east Main, with black top for the latter, would have necessitated a delay of 30 days. That was not exactly the situation, for the low bid on concrete was such that it could have been applied to any one or any number of the streets and work could have started upon these. There is little doubt that such a proceeding would have brought a black top bid on east Main alone that would have been higher than concrete and to have let the contract for the other streets, while east Main street was left for future consideration, would have been giving the worse of it to the street which started the street improvement movement.

Re-advertising east Main alone would have accomplished nothing. The bid would without question have been so high that concrete would have been cheaper. Any way it was figured it was a case of all black top or all concrete and three councilmen and the mayor believed that the issue as to concrete or black top might as well be settled without the extra procedure.

RESTRICTIONS ON PEDDLERS LIFTED BY COURT

Local Merchants Everywhere Have No Protection Against Fly-by-Night Competition.

The Cottage Grove city ordinance requiring a license for all solicitors who take orders for goods and collect a deposit in advance has been nullified by a decision of the United States supreme court in a case taken up from Portland. Similar laws passed by the city councils of 480 other American cities also were nullified by the decision.

The supreme court, in its unanimous opinion, declared the ordinance unconstitutional as materially burdening interstate commerce and conflicting with the commerce clause of the constitution of the United States.

In reading the supreme court decision, Justice McReynolds quoted the commerce clause of the constitution which says: "The negotiation of sales of goods which are in another state, for the purpose of introducing them into the state in which the negotiation is made, is interstate commerce."

"Manifestly, no license fee could have been required of the applicant solicitors if they had traveled at its expense and received their compensation by direct remittance from it," said the court. "And we are unable to see that the burden of interstate commerce is different or less because these are paid through retention of advance partial payments made under definite contracts negotiated by them."

Remove Rubbish Is Plea.

That those cleaning up lots at the cemetery carry away their rubbish instead of placing it on some other lot or elsewhere about the cemetery, is the request of the cemetery association, which held a business meeting Tuesday evening. The association also requests property owners to pay their dues promptly so that the association can meet its obligations. Dues may be paid to C. A. Bartell, Mrs. G. B. Pitcher or Mrs. Clara Burkholder.

C. G. Bone Crusher Surprises Cowboy

A wrestler performing at the Roseburg strawberry carnival Saturday, who offered to pay a dollar a minute to anyone who could stay on the mat against him evidently had not learned that the woods of western Oregon are full of wrestlers ready to go up against the best of them.

This wrestler weighs about 190 and goes by the sobriquet, "The Colorado Cowboy." He strutted back and forth on the mat as the spicler told how anyone daring to get onto the mat would leave limbs, ears, arms and other pieces of anatomy musing up the landscape. When Harry Neet, Cottage Grove 163-pound bone crusher, offered himself as a victim, the big boy disdainfully declined to play with any school kid. He was so completely razzed by the audience, however, that he couldn't refuse to give Harry a chance and during the 10 minutes set for the match to go the Cottage Grove man put it all over the bigger fellow and had him nearly down and out with a headlock.

The cowboy wasn't satisfied, however, and took the Cottage Grove grappler on for another encounter in which the little fellow again had all the best of it. Neet has challenged the cowboy to a match here, but so far the challenge has not been accepted. Ralph Hand and Ted Thyre may be asked to put on a preliminary for the purpose of showing the Colorado buckaroo what a real mat match looks like.

Dorena Revival Continues.

Unusual interest is being taken in the revival meetings being held at Dorena. Evangelist Areher is a forceful speaker who has preached in many of the large churches of the large cities of the northern and middle western states. He is being assisted by Miles Pitcher and Jim Starkie, of Dorena. The meetings will continue through the week.

PUPILS OF MRS. SUTCLIFFE PRESENT PROGRAM

City's Reputation as Musical Center Is Maintained by Enjoyable Presentation.

One of the outstanding musical events of each year is the recital by pupils of Mrs. Bessie Lewis Sutcliffe. She presented more than 60 of her pupils at the high school auditorium last evening in a delightful program which ranged from elementary studies by children to classical compositions by adult and advanced students.

As usual the room was filled to its utmost capacity and as usual lovers of good music were delighted with a renewed appreciation of the uniform excellence of the work of the pupils. Cottage Grove has long deserved its reputation as a discriminating musical center. That desirable distinction need never be surrendered so long as the younger generation is blessed with the refining influence of the art of good music. Ragtime may come and go, jazz may have its little day, and similar parodies of musical expression may enjoy sporadic periods, but good music will ever speak its inspiring language to human hearts.

Throughout the various grades of Mrs. Sutcliffe's pupils there is a uniform excellence of technique and interpretation, with a large percentage of individual brilliance of execution which, however much appreciated by others, surely could please no one so much as Mrs. Sutcliffe herself.

Mrs. Victor Kom, with Miss Ruth Stewart at the piano, sang a solo, "The Answer," and responded to an encore with "From the Sky Blue Waters." Mrs. Kom and Mrs. Glen Hancy sang a charming duet and Miss Kathleen Kom, who was in excellent voice, delighted the audience with a prelude from "A Cycle of Life" by Landon Ronald.

Miss Kom took the place of N. J. Nelson Jr., who was unable to appear on account of illness.
