SUPREME COURTS NOT CONSISTENT

Even supreme courts can not always be consistent. Its action in annulling the much advertised Oregon school law was based largely upon the finding that such a law would take property—that is, parochial school buildings—without due process of law.

When the supreme court ruled upon the constitutionality of the prohibition law, it was not influenced by the claims that millions of dollars invested in breweries, distilleries and saloon property would be virtually confiscated.

During the years that have followed the breweries, distilleries and saloons have been put to much better uses than those for which they were originally intended and, in some cases, such property has produced greater profits for the owners than before.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Osborn Hotel, and will remain in Eugene Tuesday only, June 9. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatis Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—employing instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C. for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section. P. S.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts.—F. H. Seeley, Home Office 117 N. William Jennings Bryan believes that it is a 16 to 1 chance that man didn't "evolute" from monkey. Possibly not—at least some haven't "evolved" so very far—but why rob us of hope that the race has a chance to improve?

Drunks Enrich City Treasury. The city treasury was enriched $86 during May because of fines paid by those who had imbibed too freely of red liquor. The police judge has discontinued the practice of extending credit for the payment of such fines, which is making his office a trifle unpopular with those who must have their booze.

Much Sidewalk Laid. The street commissioner's report for May shows that 715 feet of cement walk and 279 feet of board walk were laid. During June the amount laid probably will be greater, as the postoffice department has demanded good sidewalks for portions of city which wish mail delivery.

Wife (in back seat)—"Henry dear! You mustn't drive so fast!" Husband—"Why not?" Wife—"The motor policeman who is following us won't like it."

Getting the Types Mixed. An Oklahoma editor just about ready to send his forms to press "piled" a couple of articles, one concerning a public sale and the other a writeup of a wedding. He asked the office "devil" to get the two together—and he did.

Here is how he put the two together, and the mixture was not known to the editor until an angry preacher and the mother of the bride appeared on the scene: "William Smith and Miss Mary Anderson were disposed of at a public auction at my barn one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast, and two white calves before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of seventy guests including two milch cows, six mules and a bob sled. Rev. Jackson tied the municipal knot with two hundred feet of hay rope; the bridal couple left on one John Deere gang plow for an extensive trip with terms to suit the purchaser. They will be at home to their friends with one good wheelbarrow and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chickens."

Location of Famous London Well Unknown

Even before the Norman conquest the holy well of St. Clement, London, used to be the scene of many pilgrimages, and these continued until the Reformation. It used to be the favorite resting place for lords and ladies on summer evenings, in the time when the Strand of London was a country road and not the important London thoroughfare it is today. The site of the old well is believed to lie somewhere between the law courts in the Strand and St. Clement's Inn. Within a few yards of the site of the well stands the church of St. Clement, whose bells are famed in nursery rhyme. Here Doctor Johnson used to have a pew, but there is no record of his ever having visited the well—which was only bricked over when the present law courts were built.—Kansas City Star.
