INCOME TAX AND THE DENNIS RESOLUTION

State Grange Master Palmeter has called upon members of his organization to defeat the Dennis resolution and to at the same time enact a new income tax law.

The Sentinel is with Palmeter for the defeat of the Dennis resolution. The people have just repented income tax by a majority of 14,000 and the presumption is that so soon after such action they would do so again. The least that can be said of the Dennis resolution is that it is a case of rubbing it in—but there probably is much more behind it. One thing more to it is the fact that it would repeal the inheritance tax law.

The inheritance tax is not subject to the same attack that can be made upon the income tax. It is paid by those who can no longer kick about taxes. Those who pay it can not threaten to leave the state and we have heard of none

This is graduation month. Then come vacations—and letter writing. What, therefore, could be more acceptable and appropriate for a graduation present than this box of threatening not to come to Oregon on account of it. Folks live to such a ripe old age in Oregon that an inheritance tax does not worry them. Besides it is only a method of getting from the estates of the dead the taxes that the living in many cases should have paid.

The Sentinel will have to be shown that Florida has become a highly prosperous state merely because of the inhibition against income and inheritance taxes, but even should such be the case, we must remember that Florida has climatic attractions for the rich that we do not have and which would avail us little did we have them. The rich of the east wish to find a mild climate close at hand. Florida has catered to that wish. We do not have that opportunity.

Not only is the resolution a case of rubbing it in, but the fact is that thousands who worked and voted for the repeal of the income tax are believers in the principal of the income tax and they believe it likely that within less than 15 years the people will want an income tax. The Sentinel is one of these.

The Sentinel has noted that the voters of Oregon, when the issue is laid fairly before them—not that the income tax has been at any time fairly presented from either side—can be relied upon to act for the best interests of the state. The Sentinel does not believe that the present feeling against an income tax should be taken advantage of for the purpose of putting over a 15-year inhibition.

Thousands who aided in repealing the income tax are income taxers at heart. C. C. Chapman, who initiated the repeal bill—and we believe that he acted a year too soon—is one of such. The Sentinel is another. We note that Tom Kay, state treasurer and the recipient of a large income from his industries, is another. He believes that when the federal income tax is removed, or greatly reduced, there will not be so great a feeling against a state income tax.

As the Sentinel always has said, the income tax is correct in theory. It will get many of the tax dodgers and force them to contribute to the upkeep of the government under whose protection their incomes are safeguarded, and we should not have taken from us the privilege of remitting such a tax whenever we may wish to do so.

The eternal triangle in the office of the Corvallis Gazette-Times has undergone another change. Charles A. Sprague has taken the place of G. L. Hurd, who was with the paper for several years. Myron K. Myers and Claude Ingalls continue to hold down the other two points of the triangle. Ingalls has a triangle of his own as editor, postmaster and golf hound.

SOCIETY

Mrs. J. A. Wright was hostess Tuesday to the Social Twelve at its regular social afternoon. Only club members were present. The living rooms were tastefully decorated with rose shaded peonies while a yellow color scheme was prettily carried out in the dining room. A delicious two-course luncheon was served, the table being centered with a basket of bright yellow artificial poppies sent to the hostess by an eastern friend. Each guest received as a favor a coathanger covered with silk of dainty shades. The last meeting for this season will be held June 18 with Mrs. Clara Burkholder.

The pupils of the first four grades were entertained Thursday afternoon in their school rooms by their teachers, Mrs. Bert Burrows, Miss Mary Sheerin, Mrs. Aida Smith, Miss Elvira Dyer, Miss Bernice Fitzwater and Miss Nora Queen. The affair was in commemoration of the last day of school. Picnics had been planned but due to the uncertain weather were given up. After the playing of games and the sing of songs, the teachers treated the pupils to ice cream and cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kem entertained on Thursday with an informal 7 o'clock dinner, having as guests Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Dyott and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Lasswell. The evening hours were spent at bridge.

The Jolly Bunch club will hold another of its jolly dances Friday evening in Phillips hall, with Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Sears, Mrs. Gertrude Whitsett and William Ward as hostesses.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will hold its monthly meeting Friday afternoon in the Methodist church parlors.

The women's relief corps will hold its regular meeting Saturday afternoon.

ADDRESS IS REFRESHING

sadness at the thought of leaving you, who, although you have also been our closest friends and companions. You will take our places and the revolving years will bring others after you are gone. For we see the day approaching when you, too, must leave the school you love so dearly. Although our example has not always been perfect, we hope that it has always been helpful and that you may profit by our mistakes. Schoolmates, farewell!

Fellow Classmates: Truly of our meeting here we may say "This is the last time." Though it should chance by some event miraculous, that on another commencement day we should all meet and answer to the roll call without anyone missing, we know it would not be the same save in name; something would be lacking, something gone. For, as the class of 1925, we part forever. If there lurks in any heart an ancient grudge against a classmate, a jealousy, a root of bitterness, oh, pluck it out and cast it far aside, and let us take each other by the hand, forgiving as we hope to be forgiven and remembering that "this is the last time."

Four short and happy years have we spent within our high school walls, founding friendships lasting and true and laying the foundation for our successful future careers. Now that it is over we go our divided ways. Though the future lies bright and promising, we know not what life holds in store for us. We know not what our calling, what our station in life will be, whether any of us shall receive fame, whether we shall gain riches or poverty, whether any of us shall ever be president of the United States, governor of Oregon, another Hoover, another Madame Schumann-Heink or another Francis E. Willard. We stand on life's threshold and the future beckons. But, although we do not know that we will be or probably anticipate being president of the United States, governor of Oregon, another Hoover, another Madame Schumann-Heink, or another Francis E. Willard, it is with happy confidence and assurance that, in parting, we say we will attack whatever task, will fill whatever position, will perform whatever duty, will prove worthy of whatever trust, and will achieve whatever honor, in a manner that will justify our time spent here, that will recompense for the money expended here, and that will repay the sacrifices made in order that our city may be better and happier, our state grander, and our United States nobler, because we, the class of 1925 of Cottage Grove High School, have lived.

H. O. Bennett, who is confined to his bed with a severe attack of influenza, is improving slowly.

Look Out for Self Poisoning

Neglect of the liver results in self-poisoning! Not so quickly, perhaps, but just as surely as if you drank poison out of a bottle. If you liver is not doing its work of helping digestion, eliminating waste from the bowels and purifying the blood, you will always be troubled with sick headaches, nausea, biliousness, bad breath, gas, sour stomach, or constipation.

Cleanse and tone your liver! Put your system in condition so you feel your very best again! Try just a spoonful of Dr. H. S. Thacher's excellent Liver and Blood Syrup after the next few meals and notice the quick improvement in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel—the return of strength, vigor and energy. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise there will be no cost. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by Kem's for Drugs and all other leading druggists.
